The Wonderful Ganges.

One of the Greatest Rivers of the World, It Flows Through India as a Healing Stream of Health,

For hundreds of years the natives of India have considered their great river, the Ganges, pure and holy. A marvelous discovery has lately been made that its water will kill the most deadly disease germs, even of cholera, within six hours, and that it is really a stream of health flowing through the land. A wonderful discovery was made 25 years ago in this country of a iquid that will quickly kill fatal disease germs, which is called Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. This medicine was made to cure all diseases of the chest, throat and lungs. It is now known that these diseases are commonly caused by very small germs that fasten upon the mucous membranes of throat and lungs. No medicine will cure these diseases which will not cleanse, soothe, and heal the inflamed membranes and kill the disease germs. This is just what this royal cure does. It will stop the most obstinate cough, give rest to the throat, and induce refreshing sleep. It cures Colds, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Pleurisy, Hemorrhage, La Grippe, Lung Fever, Asthma, Hay Fever, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. It never fails to cure Consumption when taken in time, and many letters have been received proving that it has cured consumptives who had been given up to die by doctors. Read what Mrs. Ella F. Sweet, of Polo, Ill., says. She writes: "I can truly say that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best medicine that is made. It cured me of throat trouble that I had suffered with for years. My brother had asthma very bad and it cured him. It cured my uncle, who believes it has no equal, and many others that I advised to use it." Ask for it and take no substitute. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Money back if not cured. A trial bottle free. At all druggists.

me out of town so that I am unable to attend your meeting of the 10th. will therefore explain to you the prin-ciple upon which I have made the asessment of benefits in the matter of opening E. Catherine street. I have assumed that the lots and land which assumed that the lots are lots as the lots and land which as the lots are lots lots are lots are lots as the lots are lots are lots as the lots are lots had no access to any street, was of only nominal value—that by opening said street said lots and land were worth about twenty dollars per front foot, and the benefits were fifteen dollars per front foot, to the lots and land which have a depth of 1031 feet, from the land which have a depth of 94 feet, I deducted ten per cent and to the lots that have adepth of 136.95 feet added 15 per cent. Trusting that with this explanation you understand the assessment of benefits made by me. I am Respectfully, Jno. R. Miner,

INCREASE IN BUSINESS.

The Ann Arbor Office Shows Healthy Growth.-Very Nearly Ready to Step Into a Higher Class.

The fiscal year for the postoffice dener, especially considering that it was partment ended March 31st. The receipts for the past year at the Ann Arbor postoffice were $36,225.76, against $35,429.26 for the preceding year, a thing possible will be done to give the gain of $1,798 50. The preceding year boys who are returning from Cuba a had the benefit also of about $1,000 in hearty reception. Let every committee one order during the month of March, do its work thoroughly. The boys that the past year did not have. This indicates a fine increase in the business of this office and it is the desire of Postmaster Pond to place the office in the ranks of the first-class offices next year, which will no doubt be done if there are no serious drawbacks.

Some curious figures are brought out by this annual statement. If the people of Ann Arbor had in their pocketbooks and desks the same number of stamps April 1, 1898, that they did April 1, 1899, they have during the twelve months licked 1,402,976 stamps, as the number of sales have been as follo ws 242,502 one-cent stamps: 966,777 twocent stamps; 38423 stamps of other Evening Times, somebody has started denominations; 2,942 special delivery; the threat that unless there is peace in 152,321 Omaha exposition stamps of all denominations. ### FUTURE OF THE BICYCLE.

It is agreed by all bicycle manufacturers that the 1899 models represent the perfect wheel. Improvement seems to be impossible. Precisely the same thing is true of Hostetter's mach Bitters. It represents the limits of science in overcoming disease, and it is impossible to make a better medicine for the stomach, liver, kidneys and blood. A few doses of the Bitters will start weak, nervous and bloodless on the road to strength. A regular course of treatment will bring back the pink to the cheeks and the sparkle to the eye. Sleep will come naturally, and it will be refreshing and healthful. Dyspepsia, indigestion and constipation will be completely banished, and the blessings of true health restowed. LARGE AUDIENCE

Greets Porter White's Fanst at City Opera House Thursday Evening-

That a first-class attraction properly ndvertised will draw a large audience was demonstrated Thursday evening at City Opera House when Porter J. White, surrounded by a company of actors of marked capility, gave probably the best rendition of the pathetic story of Marguerite, that a Galion audience has ever had the pleasure of witnessing.

Faust is a drama which never grows old, one that can be seen season after season with the least sense of ennui. An idea which we have tried is to see Faust every time we get a chance, and if necessary walk ten miles to see White as Mephisto

It strikes us that Mephisto properly handled is the strongest character which has ever been acted, but Mephi sto in the hands of any but an artist causes the spectator to condemn Faust for having called him from the region of his abode. Porter J. White is ideal in this character; a well modulated voice, to which he has the power of adding a fiendish ring that fairly makes one's blood run cold, add to this a laugh full of Satanic malignity and a grin, such as the continuous rumble of slot machines might bring to the face of his majesty and you have a character which will disturb your slumbers for nights to come.

The beauty of the actress adds much to the character of Marguerite, and Miss Olga Verne leaves no room for improvement either in personal beauty or delineation of the pathetic role.

The character of Faust is often thrown into the background by a jealous star, but this was far from being the Donald falling but a very little short of the celestial sphere himself.

Also deserving mention are Stanley Jones as Valentine and Miss Ella Ayers

PECULIAR SUICIDE.

Coroner Watts was notifieed and he took charge of the remains and the room. Among the effects in his pocket was a letter addressed to his mother in Marlboro, Mass., and the letter probably contains the real cause of the rash deed. On the table was found the following note, which was not addressed to anybody in particular:

"All orders that I have placed for 20 goods are to be countermanded (or goods returned). Outside of these goods and what I owe Thorp & Hawley, of Detroit, there are only a few small bills and Mr. Chapman for the rent of the store. My lease does not expire until 77 Sept. 24, and whether he wants to hold me to this agreement or not remains for him to decide. All my personal belongings are to be sent to my mother, Mrs. C. Marshall, Marlboro, Mass.

"Also all that is left after my bills are paid. My last request is to be bur ied beside my dear wife at Marlboro,

Marshall had evidently been at work Saturday morning as usual. But to show how deliberately he committed the suicide, he changed his ordinary working clothes for his best suit and hung up everything. He then shaved himself cleanly, undid his package of laundry, which was found on another table, and put on a white shirt, coilar, necktie and cuffs. The collar and necktie had evidently become bothersome after the gas was turned on, as when he was found the collar was unbuttoned in

The body was taken to Martin's undertaking parlors and an inquest was held Monday.

Said Mr. Chapman, who has known Marshall as long as anybody in the city: "Marshall came here from Marl boro last fall. His wife has been dead for two or three years, and when he first came here this fact seemed to trouble him greatly. He would worry and worry over the loss of his wife, but his melancholy has increased of late. Perhaps the u appened letter to his mother will explain the matter.'

The coroner's inquest developed nothing new in the case. The jury decided that it was a clear case of suicide. The remains were sent to Marlboro, Mass., where they will be interred.

STILL UNKNOWN.

Is the Whereabouts of the Saline Man-There Has Not Been Found a Trace of Him Since He Reached Detroit Two Weeks Ago.

(From Saline Observer.)

Since last Saturday afternoon this state of excitement and wonder as to Thursday night and has not been seen r heard of since. About eight months ago he came into this place a stranger, and opened up the bakery which he has since run in a most satisfactory and pleasing manner. During the winter he rented of Mr. Frank the entire corner, including the vacant store and the dwelling house, the former he had fitted up in the most modern way to be used as a hotel, with gas, hot and cold water in the rooms and the place generally is a very pleasant and commodious one. Everything was in readiness and the grand opening for Monday last was advertised far and near, but no opening was had and the house is still closed. When Mr. G. came here he made a deposit of several hundred dollars in the bank and claimed to be worth quite a sum. He has since his stay here always shown himself-to be a very active hardworking business man, and had won many friends. Until within the past few weeks he had always paid cash for all his purchases and his credit stood good with all our business men. He was accomodating and pleasing in his dealings, and his place of business always attractive with a full and complete stock. The circumstances con-cerning his leaving is a mystery both to his wife and entire community. In the afternoon Thursday he said to his wife that he must go into Detroit that night and that he would be back the next afternoon or the following morning and a few minutes later went into the house and changed his clothes, bid his wife good bye, telling her he must go, and departed. He on reaching the ity went direct to the home of a friend Mr. Koch from whence no further clue of him can be found. It is told that he eft there in the evening saying that he wanted to see some certain parties and would be back for the night, but that he had never returned. Mr. Alber and Mr. Gilien went to Detroit Saturday, but no clue whatever to his whereabouts could be had. The motive or the financial end of the case is too much mixed up at this writing to warrant much being said, and another week may bring out some facts that we can publish.

Mortuary Report in the State for the Month of March - A Bedford Man the Victim of a Murderous Assault -L. O. T. M. Annual Report.

3,278 Deaths in the State for March. During March there were 3,378 deaths in Michigan, this being exactly 500 less than in February. As March has three more days than February this represents a considerable decrease in mortality. The death rate for March was 16.5 per 1,000 estimated population, as compared with 20.7 per 1,000 for the preceding month. The death rate for the rural population was only slightly greater than that of the cities, instead of being markedly greater as in February. There were 622 deaths of infants under 1 year of age; 244 of children aged 1 to 4 years, and 930 of persons aged 65 years and over. The principal causes of deaths were as follows: Pneumonia, 945; influenza, 341; cerebral spinal meningitis, 126; consumption, 202; other forms of tuberculosis, 70; typhoid fever, 34; diphtheria and croup, 36; scarlet fever, 14; measles, 9; whooping cough, 22; diarrheal diseases of children, 41; puerperal septicemis, 17; cancer, 112; accidents and Murderous Assault.

Three unknown men brutally assaulted, robbed and left for dead, John Haberstraugh, a German who lives alone in a small house four miles east of Bedford. The men called at his home and asked for a drink of water. He went to the pump with a dipper to give them the water, when one man seized him and and a second one struck him in the face, knocked him down and then kicked him into insensibility. They then completely ransacked Haberstraugh's house, stole his horse and carriage, and left. They secured $30 in money, but overlooked quite a sum that Haberstraugh had secreted.

you; when your pulse beats excessively; when you are startled at the least unexpected sound. your nerves are in a bad state and should be promptly attended to.

Nervousness is a question of nutrition. Food for the nerves is what you need to put you right, and the best nerve food in the world is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

They give strength and tone to every nerve in the body, and make despondent, easily irritated people feel that life has renewed its charms. Here is proof:

Miss Cora Watrous, the sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. I. C. Watrous, of 61 Clarion St., Bradford, Pa., was seized with a nervous disorder which threatened to end her life. Eminent physicians agreed the trouble was from impoverished blood, but failed to give relief. Mr. Watrous heard Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were highly recommended for nervous disorders and gave them a trial. Before the first box had been taken the girl's condition improved. After using six boxes her appetite returned, the pain in her head ceased and she was stronger than ever before. "My daughter's life was saved by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," said Mrs. Watrous. "Her condition was almost hopeless when she commenced taking them, but now she is strong and healthy. I cannot recommend these pills too highly."—Bradford (Pa.) Era.

RELIEF FROM PAIN.

Gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham.

firs. T. A. WALDEN, Gibson, Ga., writes: DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:-Before taking your medicine, life was a burden to me. I never saw a well day. At my monthly period I suffered untold misery, and a great deal of the time I was troubled with a severe pain in my side. Before finishing the first bottle of your Vegetable Compound I could tell it was doing me good. I continued its use, also used the Liver Pills and Sanative Wash, and have been greatly helped. I would like to have you use my letter for the benefit of others."

firs. FLORENCE A. WOLFE, 515 fluiberry St., Lancaster, Ohio, writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:-For two years I was troubled with what the local physicians told me was inflammation of the womb. Every month I suffered terribly. I had taken enough medicine from the doctors to cure anyone, but obtained relief for a short time only. At last I concluded to write to you in regard to my case, and can say that by following your advice I am now pefectly well."

rirs. W. R. BATES, flansfield, La., writes: Before writing to you I suffered dreadfully from painful menstruation, leucorrhœa and sore feeling in the lower part of the bowels. Now my friends want to know what makes me look so well. I do not hesitate one minute in telling them what has brought about this great change. I cannot praise Lydia E. TEACHING DISOBEDIENCE.

"Will you have an orange, my dear?" The little boy thus addressed took the orange with thanks, and held it in his hand looking at it appreciatively. "Why don't you eat it?" "My mamma don't 'low me to eat atween meals." "But your mamma isn't here. She won't know it. You just go under the table, where she won't see you if she happens to come in, and eat it, and enjoy yourself. It's all nonsence not to let a child eat an orange between meals." The suggestion accorded with the child's desires, and he followed it. The young lady who made it was a girl of good intentions, and would have been angry had any one told her that she was teaching that boy to lie and deceive by actions. He was five years with him for years, in it's effect upon his spring. moral nature, and caused his mother

A little girl was sent on an errand; loyal and steadfast to-day, with faith she found the family just sitting down in its teachings, and confidence in the to tea, and was invited to share in the cerning its certainty of completion.

> "No, thank you," said she, "my mamma don't like me to eat away from home without her permission."

"Oh, she won't care," said the hospitable hostess.

"I'll take the responcibility and if she must whip somebody, tell her to wnip me." Overborne by persuasion to eat supper, saying she was not hungry. Mamma knew that her children were not troubled with loss of at Burtless' office when a kernel appetite without cause, and, with some tender anxiety, asked, "why are you not hungry? Don't you feel well?" Then her experienced eye read in the child's expressive face that this question was a temptation to subterfuge, and she hastened to ask another, which should lead her to tell the truth.

"What did you eat at Mrs. Ellis's?" At once the flimsy veil of decelt was blown away from the little girl's vision, for seed. and she answered bravely: "Why mamma, they asked me to stay to supper, and teased me, and Mrs. Ellis said you should whip her; and, mamma, I had hot biscuit, and two kinds of cake, and cheese, and Mrs. Ellis asked me if I liked tea, and I said yes, but you did not want me to drink it, and she fixed and you wouldn't know; but I didn't Chelsea took place at St. Mary's do that, mamma, and I think folks have | church, last Sunday. no business to make it so hard for little girls to mind their mothers.

A lady, in urging a little girl to accept a delicacy which had been declined on the ground that she was not permitted to eat between meals, used these words: "You better take it now, or you won't get it at all."

The next day the little four-year-old sat deeply immersed in thought. The subject of her meditations was manifested when she said: "Mamma, I don't think folks ought to say, when I tell imbedded in her hand two weeks ago. them you don't let me eat between meals, that if I don't take it now I won't get it." I think they ought to say, "Put it in your pocket, dear, and save it until tomorrow;" but folks don't seem to care how much they help other people's children not to mind.

The funeral was held Monday from St. Thomas church in Freedom.

Many of the formers around here are taking a very discouraging outlook of the condition of wheat. Some think it is entirely ruined while others hope for his mother her interest in the old farm half a crop. The acreage is unusually large.

A number of farmers in this vicinity are short on hay this spring and are obliged to buy feed to help out until the pastures are fit to use.

How Ve Spend Our Time.

A man with a taste for figures has been apportioning the life of a man who lives seventy years. He finds of that time a man spends nearly 26 years in bed, nearly 12 years each in work and play, nearly six years in sating and drinking, six years in walking about, nearly three years in dressing, one year and five months in illness, the same in reflection, in gossip, and an equal amount of time is wasted.

There is about one hour a day which is wasted or given over to odds and ends and small duties. The mere act of putting on one's shoes is not con sidered worth mentioning, yet in his lifetime a man of 70 spends five minutes a day, thirty hours a year, or more than twelve weeks of a life time. Who would want seriously to sit down and do nothing every minute for three months but put on and take off his shoes?

Until one analyzes his day he will have no idea of the amount of time spent in locomotion, in getting from one place to another. Two hours a day is a conservative estimate of the time used this way. If a person spends but an hour each day on his toilet in 70 years he will have devoted three years to this duty. And as for women, one hour is entirely too short a time to allow them. Three is nearer right

Large Noses at a Premium.

The Italians consider a large nose desirable and beautiful. Recently there have been two competitions in which noses have played the leading part. One at Padua was held by the thing?" she said to her dresser, and students and prizes of pocket handkerchiefs and snuff boxes were awardrespectable." At Milan a more important competition was held, the com petitors numbering thirty-six. The first prize, a gold medal, was won by a Venetian, whose nose was found to be "of formidable proportions, long, well pronounced, aggressive, trenchant like a knife blade." The second prize, an enameled medal, went to the man who owned a nose "domineering, assuming, with nostrils wide and cavernous." The third medal went to a man whose nose was "refined and symmetrical," whi ; the last two medals were awarded for a nose "without pretension, ingenuous, but solid and well-planted," and another "considerable, regular and worthy of respect."

Hawaiian National Dish.

If you go to Hawaii you must eat poi, the national dish. On it the Hawalians thrive, and as they are a healthy, muscular and plump people, the argument in favor of the dish is unanswerable. From the root of the taro plant, which is much like the beet, poi is made. The roots are baked, pounded, mixed with water to a paste and then allowed to ferment. That is all there is to it. ed for a minute or two, and then struck

Most persons would prefer to eat pol with a spoon, but the custom in Hawaii is to eat it with the fingers, and very daintily this is done. The jelly-like stuff adheres to the fingers and a slight shake sends it into the open and upturned mouth of the eater. The Hawaiians think roast dog about as nice as anything, but have been induced in some instances to substitute roast pig.
