ANOTHER WHITMORE VICTIM

LEWIS F. BROWNE, SENIOR ENGINEER DROWNED.

Went Swimming Sunday Evening—Was Seized With Cramps and Drowned.

Whitmore Lake, yearly claims one or more victims. It has one early this year, and the student body were shocked Sunday night to learn that Lewis F. Browne, familiarly known as "Jimmie" Browne, had drowned in the waters of the little lake about 6 o'clock that evening.

In company with R. C. Cardell he drove to the Lake Sunday afternoon and immediately went for a boat ride. The day was warm and when they reached Todd's Point they went ashore, undressed and prepared to take a plunge.

Cardell's story as told at the coroner's inquest Monday morning, was as follows: "I should think we were about 25 rods from the shore. I stood up in the boat and dove off. When I came to the surface the boat had drifted some distance away. Mr. Browne spoke to me, asking me if the water was cold. I told him 'not very.' Then he stood up in the rear of the boat and dove off. At this time I was swimming around. I swam towards the boat. We were about 50 feet apart when Mr. Browne dove. I saw him swimming all right and started out for the boat myself. Mr. Browne said: 'Bob, I'm afraid I can never reach the boat.' I told him I could get it in just a minute and started for the boat as fast as I could. I had gone but a little ways when Mr. Browne said: 'I'm afraid I'm going to sink. Come back and help me quick.' I turned round and was with him in a minute. I took hold of his arm and tried to quiet him. He took hold of my shoulder and tried to raise himself out of the water. I knew that both of us would be drown-

TO DO A QUICK JOB.

Mayor E. P. Allen Says Electric Cars Will Be Running Between Ypsilanti and Saline by July Fourth.

Capt. Allen, one of the promoters of the electric road running from Ypsilanti to Saline, was in the city Friday.

"Is the road going to be built?" inquired a man in the county clerk's office.

"I have a good mind to knock a man down," said the captain good naturedly "when he asks such a foolish question as that."

"Well, then, when is it going to be built?"

"That's different. You can ride from Ypsilanti to Saline on electric cars on July 4th," responded the captain.

TRIED IT ONCE TOO OFTEN.

EMORY WIGHT OF CHELSEA MET AN AWFUL DEATH.

Tried to Catch Onto a Moving Train Missed His Hold and Was Thrown Under the Car. Died Soon After.

The cars have again claimed another victim among the boys of this vicinity. This time it is Emory Wight a nephew of Mrs. E. A. Ward who resides about three miles west of this place. The young man, whose age was about 21 years, had been working for M. B. Mills-paugh and was on his way from there to the home of his aunt last Sunday morning in company with another young man by the name of Jacob Forner, and when he reached the crossing in front of the house a train was passing. Mr. Ward's daughter, Inez, had been watching the boys coming across a field and had recognized them. Mr. Ward who was sitting on the porch with her saw the young man when he was thrown to the ground but supposed that it was someone who had been riding on the train and fallen off. The boy had grabbed for the iron handle on the car and was jerked in such a manner as to cause him to turn partially around throwing his feet in the direction in which the train was going, with his body parallel with the track and just on the edge of the ties. He raised up slightly and it is supposed that one of the wheel boxes struck his head which fractured his skull. He then threw his right arm across the rail and the entire train passed over it. Mr. Ward hastened to his assistance and was horrified to find that it was his nephew. He was carried to the house and Dr. Bush was sent for at once, and everything that human hands could do was done, but the efforts were unavailing and he passed away at five o'clock Monday afternoon.

Justice Turnbull looked into the matter and decided that to hold an inquest would be entirely unnecessary and cause a needless expense so none will be held.

The young man's remains were taken to the home of his parents near Lake Odessa Wednesday for interment.—Chelsea Standard.

DEAN HUTCHINS NOT YET ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Visited Iowa City, Iowa, To Look Over The Situation—Question There not to Be Settled Until Next Month.

Dean Hutchins was called up by telephone by about ten newspaper correspondents immediately after his arrival in this city Sunday from Iowa City in regard to his taking the presidency of the University of that state. In general he spoke in this manner: "I want to preface my remarks by saying that the newspapers have been talking in a crazy manner over some wild rumors. I was called to Iowa City at the solicitation of the board of regents to look over the situation. I have not been tendered the presidency of the University of Iowa and that matter will not be taken up by the board of regents until June, anyway, I will state positively, however, that the probabilities are that I will not leave the University of Michigan."

Drs. Vaughan, Cushman and Dock are in Washington this week in attendance at the yearly session of the Association of American Physicians. Each will present a paper on their special lines of work to the members of the association.

TO BE HERE MAY 19.

THAT IS WHAT CAPTAIN GRANGER WRITES.

Capt. Granger Answers Mr. Cook's Statement—A Sword Presented to Lieut. Belser.

Camp Onward, Savannah, April 27, 1899.

Mr. Editor: The men of Co. A are in excellent health. We have had no one on sick report since April 9th. and indications are that a very healthy lot of men will land in Ann Arbor from here about May 19th. May 17th has been recommended as our muster out date.

In regard to Mr. Cook's statement as to their being no rent money offered him, I will state that none was, or is due. He was paid in January. Even had he not taken possession of the building the next rent would not be due until July next. I wish to repeat that Mr. Cook was too anxious to get possession. He speaks of laying out money. We put in over twelve hundred dollars. As the building was before we rented it and fixed it up, it would not bring in to Mr. Cook the amount of rent we paid. At that time he was anxious that we take it off his hands. I do not wish to injure Mr. Cook in any possible way. I am simply trying to protect the rights of the men I represent as captain of Co. A.

A very happy hour for the men of Co. A was that of the hour right after retreat tonight. The enlisted men of our battalion were formed in front of the major's quarters and Sergeant Major Hunt, in a very pleasant manner, presented Lieut. Martin L. Belser with a fine pearl-handled sword on which was engraved: "Presented to 1st Lieutenant Martin L. Belser M. D., as a token of appreciation for his professional services during the Spanish-American War." Certainly a very deserving tribute and compliment. Co. A is proud of having so deserving an officer. ROSS GRANGER.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS ASK FOR BIDS.

Other Matters Before That Body—Public Drinking Fountain to be Put Up.

The board of public works held a meeting last Wednesday evening and some quite important business was transacted.

In order not to make it obligatory on persons to carry along a parachute to drop off from the east sidewalk on Main st., between Washington and Liberty st., to the pavement below, the owners are to be instructed to fix up a half way station such as is now on exhibition in front of the Kearney property (occupied by Mr. Goetz). The engineer's estimate is that this will cost 75 cents per lineal foot.

Mr. Beeks was given permission to emigrate a barn across Hiscock st.

Then came up the W. C. T. U. scheme of getting the public drinking fountain, which was ordered last fall and which has been packed away in the engine house ever since, to be placed in position to alleviate the thirst of pedestrians. There seemed to be a difference of opinion as to which is the best place—at the corner of Brown's drug store or at the corner of the court house square. At some point on the corner of Main and Washington sts. it is thought best to plant it. Finally it was decided that a committee consisting of Miss Bower, Dr. Hale and G. Fred Schleicher should have the responsibility of the decision of its location and the water company is asked to put it up and connect with its system immediately.

Property owners on the south side of W. Washington st., between the west line of the Blake property and the east line of the Dr. Herdman property have got to mend their ways. The board has ordered them to relay their sidewalk.

A member of the board wanted to know why there were not more sewer connections being made in districts No 1 and 2, and were ordered by the board some time ago. The city engineer explained that he had made out the notes but in some way Mr. Mills had neglected to serve them and they were found pigeon-holed. The matter was referred to the city clerk and city engineer.

City Clerk Harkins was instructed to advertise for bids (to be opened May 10) for the $10,000 worth of storm sewers along Liberty, State, N. University ave., Madison and Hill sts.

The city clerk was then instructed to notify the marshal to ask the merchants to deposit all waste material, such as papers, etc., in receptacles which will be furnished by the city, so that the same may be carted away.

The board then adjourned.

It is said that the Joseph Green vs John Coyle case will be appealed to the supreme court.

Hired Man Attempted to Assault a Lima School Teacher—Then Made His Escape.

About three o'clock Saturday morning Miss Edna Read, a school teacher in the township of Lima, who is boarding with A. J. Easton, discovered Mr. Easton's hired man, named Stark, in her room. He attempted an assault and she screamed but she was choked into silence, and under a threat of death she promised never to mention it, and he left the room. She told Mrs. Easton, however, and the man was discharged. Before leaving, with a revolver in his hand, he attempted to get to Miss Reade, who was locked in the parlor. He then took her jewelry, and left a note in her room, saying: "I will see you all again." The matter is in the hands of the prosecuting attorney.—Chelsea Standard.

WHAT SHALL WE DO? A serious and dangerous disease prevails in this country, dangerous because so deceptive. It comes on so slowly yet surely that it is often firmly seated before we are aware of it. The name of this disease which may be divided into three distinct stages is, First, Kidney trouble, indicated by pain in the back, rheumatism, lumbago, frequent desire to urinate, often with a burning sensation, the flow of urine being copious or scant with strong odor. If allowed to advance, this reaches the Second stage, or Bladder trouble, with heavy pain in the abdomen low down between the navel and the water passage, increasing desire to urinate, with scalding sensation in passing, small quantities being passed with difficulty, sometimes necessary to draw it with instruments. If uric acid or gravel has formed, it will prove dangerous if neglected. The Third stage is Bright's Disease. There's comfort in knowing that Dr. Kilmer, the great kidney and bladder specialist, has discovered a Remedy famous for its marvelous cures of the most distressing cases and known as Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. It is sold by all druggists. As a proof of the wonderful virtues of this great discovery, Swamp-Root, a sample bottle and book of valuable information will be sent absolutely free by mail on application to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. HAMMOCKS. I was much surprised, in calling upon my friend Mrs. Brown, to find her reclining in a hammock which was swung in her front yard under the shade of two tall trees. I had long wanted a hammock, but Alexander said he could not afford any such nonsense, and I felt almost personally aggrieved to see my neighbor swinging there so lazily. "I don't see how you can find time to swing in a hammock in summer, with so much work as there is always to be done on a farm," said I, with a shade of reprimand in my tone. "You aren't sick, are you?" "Oh, no," replied Mrs. Brown, rising as she spoke; "I have only been taking my afternoon nap." "Afternoon nap!" exclaimed I. "I never expected to hear you Mrs. Brown of all women, in the world talk of afternoon naps, and out of doors at that. Have you had a fortune left you, that you can afford to neglect your work?" "Oh dear, no," she replied laughing; "but I am trying to acquire one." "Well if you have found a way of making a fortune by lying in a hammock, I wish you'd share your secret with your neighbors." "Just try the hammock," said Mrs. Brown. "There, isn't that comfortable." "Indeed it is; but I could never make money lying here. How can you?" "You know that the greatest wealth for a farmer's wife is health and strength. I have found by experience that I can do more work if I take a rest after I have the dinner work done up, and before I begin anything else; and I have also found out that I can rest twice as fast out here under the trees as I can in the house. So I hurry up the work, then change my dress, come out here, and lie down looking up at the sky and the green leaves whispering overhead, until I forget everything, and wake up after a time with the wind blowing so sweetly over my tired head, and carrying away all my troubles with it; and I get so rested, and do lots of work before supper." "It is perfectly delightful," said I, looking up into the trees; "but hammocks are so expensive," added I regretfully. "Oh, not so very. This only cost a dollar and a quarter, with all the fixtures." "But what if you had only the quarter, and the dollar were unattainable?" "I would still have a hammock. We have four." "Four! Why, that makes five dollars invested in hammocks." "Indeed, I do not believe that we have spent over two dollars for the four." "How can that be? I wish you'd make a riddle plain." "I will. Come with me and we will go and see Bessie's." We found that young lady very cozily reclining in her hammock crocheting a mantel lambrequin. "Oh, yes; I'll tell you how I made it," she answered politely to my inquiry. "I bought about three yards of bed ticking. I cut off two yards for the length. Out of what was left I made two strips about four inches wide, and sewed one on each edge of the two yards, I then cut the edges into scallops, and bound them with red. I made a tuck the whole length of the sides, about three inches from the edges, and big enough to hold the ropes which were to hold the hammock. I then hemmed the two ends, and ran a piece of broom-handle just as long as the hammock was wide. Bought some rings and hooks, fastened the hooks to some ropes which were tied to the limbs of the trees, and the rigids to the ropes of the hammock, and the whole thing was done." "And well done too, and so pretty," said I; thinking of a girl about Bessie's age who would enjoy such a hammock. "Now, just come and see mine," said Bob, who was standing near. "It is 'boss' I tell you!" "I think ma's is 'boss,'" said I laughing. "Yes, but mine is 'bossier.' I made it myself—I did, out of two barrels and a clothes line." "Tell me how you made it, Bob." "Well sir," said Bob, thrusting his hands in his pockets and surveying the work with pride, "I took two flour barrels and knocked them to pieces and pulled all the nails out. Then I took my rope. I had to have a lot of it, 'cause you see it goes four times the length. I got four pieces the length I wanted, then I laid my staves down all the same side up; then I began as far from the end as I thought would be about right, and crossed two pieces of rope and put the end of one stave in, and crossed the rope again and put in another stave, until I had one side done. Then I made the other side the same way and strung her up, and there she is. Ma takes a rest in it every morning. Ma lets me have this old blanket to spread on it, and I wouldn't trade it for the best store hammock ever was."

HOME CURE FOR BLOOD POISON.

Beware of the Doctors' Patchwork; You Can Cure Yourself at Home.

There is not the slightest doubt that the doctors do more harm than good in treating Contagious Blood Poison; many victims of this loathsome disease would be much better off to-day if they had never allowed themselves to be dosed on mercury and potash, the only remedies which the doctors ever give, the doctors are wholly unable to get rid of this vile poison, and only attempt to heal up the outward appearance of the disease—the sores and eruptions. This they do by driving the poison into the system, and endeavor to keep it shut in with their constant doses of potash and mercury. The mouth and throat and other delicate parts then break out into sores, and the fight is continued indefinitely, the drugs doing the system more damage than the disease itself. Mr. H. L. Myers, 100 Mulberry St., Newark, N. J., says: "I had spent a hundred dollars with the doctors, when I realized that they could do me no good. I had large spots all over my body, and these soon broke out into running sores, and I endured all the suffering which this vile disease produces. I decided to try S. S. S. as a last resort, and was soon greatly improved. I followed closely your 'Directions for Self-Treatment,' and the large blotches on my chest began to grow paler and smaller, and before long disappeared entirely. I was soon cured perfectly and my skin has been as clear as glass ever since. I cured myself at home, after the doctors had failed completely." It is valuable time thrown away to expect the doctors to cure Contagious Blood Poison, for the disease is beyond their skill. Swifts Specific—

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD—acts in an entirely different way from potash and mercury—it forces the poison out of the system and gets rid of it entirely. Hence it cures the disease, while other remedies only shut the poison in where it lurks forever, constantly undermining the constitution. Our system of private home treatment places a cure within the reach of all. We give all necessary medical advice, free of charge, and save the patient the embarrassment of publicity.
