PROF. MARK W. HARRINGTON FAILING. SUMMER SCHOOL STUDENT SAYS HE WAS PROF. LISTER SENDS CIRCULAR TO TEACH-HELD UP

The Following Circular Letter Has Been Sent by Prof. Lister to the Teachers of Washtenaw County.

ERS.

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 30, 1899. DEAR TEACHER:-

There has recently been sent you a circular from the State Normal College regarding its summer session, and also o'clock last Wednesday night and withfrom this office the Outline of the State Teachers' Institute.

Allow me to call attention to the work of the institute for 1899. By permission of the State Board of Education, the Institute for Washtenaw County becomes a part of the summer session of the College. Washtenaw county teachers are allowed for four weeks from July 5th, any subjects free from tuition. This gives an opportunity to take work preparatory for any garde of certificate.

Four weeks' attendance entitles applicants for certificates to an added credit of 5 per cent on standings obtained at examination during the current year.

The summer session of the College is eight weeks. Any Washtenaw teacher nation.

Save the Outling and bring it to the Normal with you. Last year the questions of the examinations were based largely on this Outline, and those familiar with it were generally successful. the gentleman who came to my assist-This Outline is invaluable to you, both at school and for home study.

Board and room can be had at reasonable rates. For particulars regarding | these write Miss Francis Stewart, Clerk of the Normal College.

If Ann Arbor is a more convenient place for you to stay during the Institute, three or four can buy a mileage book on the electric road together, and thus minimize the expense.

Write me at any time regarding your proposek word, or question me at will papers, will you?" He was assured that newspaper men concerning any matter of the Institute that is not clear to you.

Hoping to see you July 5th at Ypsilanti. I am,

> Yours very sincerely, W. N. LISTER.

the Supreme Court. An unexpected turn of affairs has taken place in the Jerome Schemerhorn claim on the Mollie Bennett estate, and it looks as if Schemerhorn would not get possession of the farm this fall.

When the circuit court jury decided in favor of Jerome Schemerhorn over a year ago, Administrator Graves announced that he would appeal the case to the supreme court. Under the statute this appeal must be taken within a year. As soon as the year was up, the attorneys for Mr. Schemerhorn announced that they would claim the manual Sirp

The manufacturers of Royal Baking Powder have always declined to produce a cheap baking powder at the sacrifice of quality or wholesomeness.

The highest grade and most highly refined ingredients only are employed in Royal; hence its well known superiority.

It is always the case that the consumer suffers in pocket if not in health by accepting cheap powders as substitutes for Royal Baking Powder.

The Royal is made from pure grape cream of tartar, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder.

They say there are hundreds of men who have nothing but beans and bacon to eat, with no prospects of securing work, and that the only way they will be able to get out of the country will be through government assistance.

Non-Union Men Fired Upon.

The coal miners' strike assumed a serious aspect at Evansville, Ind., on the 21st. Operators of the Sunny Side mine had imported 30 Negro miners from Kentucky and were delivering them at the mine, when unknown parties concealed in bushes near the mines opened fire on the Negroes. It was very dark and a stampede followed. Some of the non-union men responded with revolvers and many shots were fired. Six men were badly wounded.

HANDLING MANURE.

A Very Good Plan For Handling and

Almost every farmer has his way of handling and making manure, I will give my plan which after years of experience I am still practicing. I first of all bed my stables for my stock with some good bedding such as straw from wheat, oats, rye or clover, or if these can not be had I use forest leaves. I make the bedding just deep enough so it will make a good bed and it also acts as an absorbent to suck up and retain all liquid manure which is undoubtedly the best part of the manure. I do not clean out my stables daily but let the manure accumulate until it becomes necessary or I have time. I always use all the bedding that can be properly mixed in the manure so as to retain all the moisture. In this way the liquid manure is retained and the manure heap is also increased by the amount of straw put in it for when bedding is trampled and mashed by the stock it soon rots from the chemical action of the manure and makes nearly double the amount it would if just thrown out each morning as it would not then be rotted. And if thrown out under the eaves of the stable, as many do, the rain will wash almost all the manure out of it. Handle the manure just as little as possible if you are working for economy and also profit. Leave it where it falls till it is necessary to clean your stables, then run your wagon to the stable and throw your manure in the wagon as you throw it out. Haul it in dry or frozen weather direct to the field where it is wanted and scatter it as you throw it from the wagon. I prefer using it on my wheat field after the ground is broken and before it is prepared for sowing so it may be harrowed and thoroughly worked in the ground and the young plants can take hold of it. In the winter take it to the wheat field and scatter it and the rains will wash it down in the drill rows and the plants will drink in the benefits. If the manure is to be used for the garden I break the ground in the fall and during the winter, while it is frozen I scatter the manure. I do this when there is a snow on the ground if possible, then it gradually sinks into the moist ground as it thaws and by spring will be ready for use. When it is dry enough plow your ground again and if not rich enough put well rotted manure over it again

Fresh Water For Hogs.

Hogs frequently suffer from lack of water because farmers do not remember that whatever comes in liquid form is not a substitute for the clear and fresh water which all animals need. Put a little rennet in skim milk or heat it, and it soon turns into a curd which no one would think of taking as a drink. Yet both the rennet and enough warmth to make it effective are present in the stomach of a pig or hog. The rennet from pigs is by some prefered to that from calves, Always the first process in digestion of milk is to turn it into curd. Milk, says American Cultivator, is regarded as constipating, especially after it has been heated, which brings it more ing-rack for sheep. I was so favorably impressed with it that I will vanture to describe it. The ordinary feeding-rack consisted of four posts about If we publish the recommendation of | thirty inches long, set up in oblong shape, with another set of posts in the center of the long side. Two narrow fence-boards are nailed to each side and each end, one at the top and one near the bottom, leaving space enough between the two for the sheep to feed through, the whole rack being about two and one-half feet wide. Such feeding-racks have been in vogue here and everywhere as long as I can remember.

They have not a few faults. The sheep always run their heads and necks clear into the folder, which causes chaff and the like to lodge in the wool of their heads and necks. Then the feeding sheep are apt to crowd each other, which is a serious objection, particularly with horned sheep, and much harm may result. Sometimes sheep get into the habit of jumping into the racks; lambs nearly alway do so-lie on the hay and befoul it. These and other drawbacks brought out the rack here described: The rack is a box sixteen feet long and fifteen inches high, similar in construction to the old feeding-rack, except that the sides and ends are tight, for the sheep are expected to feed from

The interesting part of the rack is its cover, which is constructed in the following manner: Lay a six-inch fence-board lengthwise centrally upon the rack, having it rest on the ends of same. Crosswise to this nail on short pieces of board six inches wide and just long enough to rest on the sides without projecting. Space these boards eighteen inches from center to center, which will be about right for average sheep. They should also be tapered down to two and one-half inches at each end, and be sure not to have any sharp or ragged edges about them, nor anywhere else about the rack; have everything smooth. It will take eleven crosspieces for a sixteen-foot rack, and such a one will accommodate twentyfour sheep.

This cover, as so far described, is to be hinged to the rack by means of three T-hinges, so it may be easily raised and lowered when it is desired to fill the rack with hay or fodder. A piece of small rope or clothes-line is to be fastened to the middle crosspiece of the cover just opposite the hinge. This is ran over a little pulley fastened to a joist above. A snap or hook should be fastened to the other end of the rope, and a small ring tied into the rope at the proper place, so the cover

WHAT "ALABASTINE" IS.

Alabastine is a durable and natural coating for walls and ceilings. It is entirely different from all "kalsomine" preparations. Alabastine comes in white or twelve beautiful tints, and is ready for use by the simple addition of water. The latest make is adapted to mix with cold water. It is put up in dry powder form in five-pound packages, with full directions on every package. Alabastine has no equal as a wall coating. It is hand-some, cleanly and permanent. It can be re-coated and retinted at slight expense, Its merits have made it pop-ular. Prudent people coat their walls with pure, porous, permanent Alabastine, which is retinted with but little trouble or expense, is purifying and sweet-smelling, and fills cracks. Paint dealers and druggists sell Ala-bastine and furnish card of tints. A free copy of paper, "Alabastine Era," may be had by sending a postal to the Alabastine Co., Grand Rapids, Mich.

may be secured in an upright position when filling the rack, by catching the snap into the ring.

This cover is not yet quite completed. Some means must be provided to prevent sheep from jumping onto the rack. This is accomplished by setting up three standards eighteen or twenty inches high, one at each end of the cover and one in the center, and they may be braced as shown in the illustration. To these is nailed another fence-board, and then the feeding-rack is completed .- F. Greiner.

A Garden Conference.

An old gardner says: In the absence of regular gardeners' meetings we can at least have a conference at the garden fence, as I used to have them with my neighbor almost every day while I lived in New Jersey. He was a market-gardener of much experience and lived just across the way. As we were both deeply and equally interested in garden problems, he would come over when he saw me at work in the garden in the evening. Then, again, I would hunt him up in his gardens. I now look back with a great deal of pleasure to these tet-a-tetes, as often, with the fence between us, we exchanged experiences and observations relating to garden-work. These conferences were of much benefit to us. At least, I believe that I learned more about the business in one season during that time than I have learned in any two or three seasons since. My neighbor will probably make the same statement. Now, you neighbors get together. If there are three or four of you, all the better. The more the merrier, and the better, perhaps, your chances of learning. The conferences are all the more fruitful while the garden soll is still sticking on your boots

"Papa was looking for his umbrella this evening, mamma," continued the child wonder.

"Yes, yes, but he found it," said the mother, hurriedly, as the conversation was becoming of interest to the occupants of the seats.

"Why, mamma," continued the youngster, "you know he didn't. You told him that he didn't know enough to keep an umbrella. Why, mamma-Possibly the milk dealers use this as an argument for putting water and milk together and selling it as milk, thus becoming, as an old milkman said he was, 'like Pharaoh's daughter, because he took a little prophet (profit) out of the water." Most of the water that pigs get is as bad for drinking as skim milk. It is largely the water used for the washing of dishes or the freshening of salted pork. In this way the hogs get more salt into their stomachs than they require, and this also makes the hogs feverish and injures the quality of the pork. This sometimes makes the western pork, which is fattened in large droves, and gets little salt, better than the pork made by farmer who keep but two or three pigs, and feeds them from the swill barrel filled with a mixture of skim milk and salt water. If fed as it should be, with only enough corn at the close of the fattening, and without an excess of salt, the eastern pork is much the best. The water in which salt pork and beef is freshened is highly nutritious, as a good deal of its strength goes out with the salt when it is freshened for cooking. But the great majority of hogs would be healthier if they had enough fresh water, fruits and vegetables to offset the excess of salt that most of their drink contains.

The Early Ducklings.

Now is the time to hatch ducklings, and as they grow much faster than chicks, and are subject to fewer diseases, they not only reach the market in a short time after being hatched, but the percentage of loss is very small. They also come to market after the chicks are low in price. They attain the weight of from eight to ten pounds a pair at the age of eight weeks, being ready for market in three months from the time the eggs are put in the incubator, four weeks being allowed for incubation. This extraordinary weight shows an increase of half a pound for each week from the date of hatching for each duck, but as they increase faster as they become older, until maturity, those over six weeks of age increase at the rate of nearly one pound a week. The cost of raising each duckling to the age of eight weeks is about five cents a pound of duckling, the price a pound received for each duckling being from eighteen to twenty-two cents. Young ducks need no pond or water except for drinking purposes, and are fed in the same manner as chicks, except that they require more animal and bulky food, and must be fed often, owing to their rapid growth.

SCARCELY a Fourth of July passes that does not show a record of scores of cases where stocks of fireworks calch fire during the display in the evening. Frequently they are attended with fatal results. Without exception many people are more or less seriously injured. The accident at Ypsilanti Tuesday night was no exception to the rule. Why will those in charge of such things not realize the necessity of having the stock of fireworks stored under cover at some distance from where the display is to be made and then have the pieces brought out as they are to be fired? This would insure perfect safety and would involve but little expense and no delay.

A. F. FREEMAN has been appointed a member of the state tax commission by Gov. Pingree. It is a good job, worth $2,500 a year. It is generally conceded that Judson secured the appointment-that in fact he is running Pingree's office-making machine, it not running the governor himself. This is but another evidence that-well, that Washtenaw is a great county; that it can produce a man who can twist a great man like Ping. around his little finger. It may be that this is a credit to Ping. and it may be that it is some thing for Washtenaw to brag about. But somehow Washtenaw does not seem to appreciate all the favors Ping. has bestowed upon it since at the last election Ping's majority in this county was 1,000 less than it was two years before.

THE opposition to trusts is rapidly growing. It is right that it should grow until some law may be passed to crush them out of existance, or at least control within reasonable bounds the exercise of their power. On the other hand the autocratic power and lawless ness exercised by the members of labor unions demand equally severe treatment. Because a few men may band together and say that a certain employer must pay a fixed sum for their labor is no justification for these men to maliciously maltreat other laborers who may not put so high a price upon their services, or to destroy the employer's property if he attempts to secure labor at the lowest market price. The outrages and lawlessness that are so common at every strike and growing worse and worse every year and threat en society just as much as do the grasping disposition of the great trusts that have been formed of late and are continuing to be formed with surprising rapidity.

CROP REPORT.

Heavy Rains Have Retarded Work in the Upper Peninsula.

The U.S. weather crop bulletin is sued by Director Schneider, says that generally weather conditions have been very favorable for crop growth and farm work. In the extreme northern counties and portions of the upper peninsula heavy rains have retarded cultivation of corn and potatoes, while in the southern counties a quite general lack of rain has dried pastures and meadows, and oats are beginning to show the want of moisture. In the principal wheat counties wheat has begun to ripen very fast; the complaints of rust are now more general, while the Hessian fly continues to do considerable damage. Corn, Oats, rye and potatoes have made good progress. Corn is clean and healthy and much of it has received its second cultivation. Rye is heading and promises a good crop. Sugar beets have made good progress and the early seeding is nearly all thinned and cultivated; in the most northerly counties seeding is nearing completion. Early potatoes are ripening and being dug in the southern counties and are an excellent crop; late potatoes are coming up nicely. Bean planting is nearing completion. Clover having has been quite generally commenced and much of the crop secured; having will be quite general this week; the yield from new meadows is good, while that from old meadows is poor. Summer fallow plowing has begun. Showers are now necessary for the best growth of oats,

He went first to Kotzebu sound, but finding nothing there crossed overland to Cape Nome with a portion of the party, enduring great hardships. Part of the time the men had but two pancakes a day. On Sept 25, six men went to work to test their claims, some on Snow creek and the rest on Anvil creek. The best pan was obtained on Snow creek and amounted to $8.52. The aggregate of four days' work was $4 less than $1,800. The gold was of good quality and sold at St. Michaels without assay for $16.85 per ounce.

CAPTURED FOR BRIEF READING.

An Innocent Man is Serving Time at the Ionia Prison by Assuming the Name of a Rogue - A Brighton Farmer Destroyed His Barns While Insane.

Assumed Name of a Rogue to His Sorrow. If the story of Anson Castor, of Flint, is true, his son, Fred Castor, an innocent man, is serving a sentence of four years in Ionia prison, and the guilty party is free. Frank Logan was sent from Kalamazoo last November to Ionia prison on a sentence of four years for burglary. A few days ago Anson Castor was told by a man who had just completed a sentence at Ionia that his son Fred was serving time at that prison. The son told his brokenhearted father his story as follows: He had been tramping it some and had assumed the name of Frank Logan to hide his identity. While at Kalamazoo he was arrested and charged with burglary. It seems that some time ago there was a fellow about Kalamazoo by the name assumed by this young man who bore a very bad record, and this fellow being about the same age and build was mistaken for the other party. He was convicted on the evidence of one Wm. Cavanaugh, who was a partner in the crime, and who said that Frank Logan was the other party.

Freak of an Insane Man.

Martin Schultz, a farmer living about four miles northwest of Brighton, became violently insane recently and set fire to his large hay and grain barns which together with his horse barn and a shed, were burned to the ground. Mr. Schultz has had spells during which his mind seemed to be deranged, but had never displayed any violence. He made two attempts to burn his house before he set fire to the barns. After the barns had been destroyed he went and laid on the railroad tracks. An officer and a large number of citizens from Brighton had a desperate struggle with Schultz. He was armed with a knife and declared he would take his own life before he would surrender. He was finally overpowered and taken to the county jail.

Rounded Up After Six Years.

Nearly six years ago N L. Surdam, an aged man, and his son, about 60 years of age, residing alone on their farm about four miles from Paw Paw, were robbed of about $800 in money that they, being suspicious of banks, had deposited for safe keeping to an old trunk kept in their residence Suspicion was directed to one Mary Neal, a domestic in their employ, but sufficient evidence to warrant her arrest was not found until recently, when the crime was almost barred by the statute of limitation, it was learned that she was living at Kalamazoo. Officers at once arrested her, and onc Daniel Cobbledick as an accomplice. At their trial, realizing that both would be convicted, each plead guilty.

Supervisors Should Assess Telephone Cos. There seems to be a general ignorance as to the shape in which the laws taxing telephone and telegraph companies were left by the last legislature. Attorney-General Oren has advised all questioners that telephone property should be assessed locally by township supervisors and other assessing officers on account of the fact that the new law passed just before the close of the legislature was not enacted in time for the assessment this year. Telegraph companies and express companies will be assessed by the state under laws which have been on the statute books for some time. Next year all telephone, telegraph and express companies will be assessed under the new law, which provides for a 3 per cent tax on their earnings.

Another Murder in Detroit.

Bert Newman, who was shot on the 25th by Henry Kent died at the hospital from the effects of his injuries on the day following the tragedy. Newman was a divorced man and made his home with My. and Mrs. Henry Kent in Detroit. A short time before the fatal shot was fired Newman and his assassin were conversing in a pleasant manner, Newman lying on a sofa and Kent sitting near him. Newman dropped asleep, but was shortly aroused by a stinging feeling in his side, and, looking up saw Kent standing over him pointing a smoking revolver at him. He sprang to his feet, seized the revolver and pounded Keut into almost insensibility before he realized how seriously he himself was injured. This accomplished, he left the house and boarded a car for the hospital to have his wound dressed. Here it was learned that the bullet had entered the left side just below the heart, and that chances for his recovery was doubtful. The patient lingered for about 20 hours when he died in much agony. The shooting was the result of Kent's jealousy of Newman towards his wife.

Fortune Teller's Preditions Came True. Several years ago Jacob J. Wilcox, then a wealthy and prominent farmer of Danby township, Ionia county, had his fortune told by a gypsie, and the substance of it was about as follows: She told him of his circumstance; told him he would soon move from the farm; said he would engage in other business and lose about all he had, and lastly, that he would go thousands of miles from the place where he lost his money and would there gain so much wealth that his first possessions would be nothing as compared to it. All of the predictions came true and Wilcox left for parts unknown. Nothing had been heard of him until last week a letter was received from him by a friend at his former home stating he was in Alaska, where he has been for more than a year. While his letter does not say he has dug any gold, he will, if the remainder of the fortune teller's story comes true.

Pingree & Smith's big shoe factory on Jefferson avenue, Detroit, was shut down on the 29th and 600 persons were thrown out of employment. The firm, which is composed of Gov. Hazen S. Pingree, Frank C. Pingree and J. B. Howarth, has terminated its agreement made with the Boot and Shoe Makers' union, June 12, 1896, and has decided that hereafter the factory will not be union in so far that union men only be employed. "The firm will hereafter conduct its business in a business way and will not be dictated to by any man or set of men." Those are the words used by Frank Pingree to express the firm's position in the mat-

Wore Diamonds Around His Ankles.

Special Treasury Agent Charles E. Lewis, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., made a rich haul in Detroit on the 28th, when he landed Louis Busch, who is charged with being a past master in the art of diamond smuggling. When arrested by Lewis at the Brush street depot, Busch had on his person, wrapped around his ankles, diamonds amounting in value to over $20,000. The capture of Busch is the culmination of years of work on the part of the special treasury agents of the Niagara Falls district, who have been trying to stop the diamond smuggling Italian Deputies Engage in a Fight. In the Italian chamber of deputies on June 30th the socialists and extreme leftists recommenced their obstructive tactics and created an immense uproar The president of the house combated the efforts of the structionists and finally the deputies left their seats, crowded on the floor and there was such an uproar that the sitting was suspended. When it was resumed similar tactics were carried on by extreme leftists, who crowded the floor. The tumult was deafening and eventually a free fight ensued and the sitting was again suspended. At a later session of the chamber, despite the entreaties of the president, who begged the deputies to be calm and proceed to a vote the uproar was redoubled, members flocking to the floor in front of the president's chair and finally upsetting the ballot boxes.

That Alaska Boundary Trouble.

The negotiations in London looking to the arrangement of a modus vivendi fixing the Alaskan boundary have again nearly reached a crisis. The several conferences that have taken place recently between Lord Salisbury and Ambassador Choate have been signally disappointing in results. At moments it appeared that a basis of understanding having, as it was thought, been reached, the details could be easily arranged, but it now turns out that these very details cannot be agreed upon without the sacrifice of the interests of many American miners, mainly those who were driven out of the Atlin district by the severe and disc iminating laws enacted by the legislature of British Columbia, and this the state department is determined not to sanction.

Objected to Modern Methods. There is a mail-order house in Chicago which has no city trade, but draws its business entirely from rural districts, through the medium of catalogues and correspondence. Some of the letters received from the country patrons are not only interesting as specimens of chirography, but very amusing when the convictions they give expression to are considered.

This house in its infancy, before the innovation of the typewriter, sold a wagon to a farmer in West Virginia. The correspondence was written in long hand. Then followed a lapse of twenty years during which time the farmer had no occasion to communicate with the merchants. Two months ago he again wrote for information concerning a wagon, and the reply, typewritten, was duly mailed. In a few days this answer came back:

"Blankville, W. Va., Jan. 9, 1899. --- & Co.-Dear Serze: Yourse abaout the waggin received an' I take my pen in hand to tell you misters that I ain't no durn ful if I ain't had no collidge edacashun. All Because a Daughter Swore Falsely. Gov. Pingree has pardoned John Kaspar, sent from Newaygo, Mar. 18, 1888, to Jackson for 20 years, for criminal assault. Kaspar's alleged victim was his daughter, whose testimony was corroborated by a neighbor, with whom Kaspar had trouble about a line fence. Subsequently the daughter admitted that she swore falsely, and that the neighbor threatened to harm her if she did not do so. Kaspar is now an invalid, having been attacked by locomotor ataxia and has but a short time to live.

Nine Lives Lost in Lake Erie.

In a heavy northeast gale on the night of the 28th the steamer Margaret Olwill, laden with stone from Kelly's island to Cleveland, foundered in Lake Erie off Lorain and nine persons were drowned. Four members of the crew have been picked up by passing steamers and taken into port. The cargo of stone shifted while the vessel was in the trough of the sea and she sank instantly.

So successfully did she play the part that she associated with men in Boyne Falls for a week and her sex was not even suspected until her story leaked

Layer had held the position of city director of the poor for a number of years, and displayed a great deal of bitternes when Mayor Balbirnie refused to appoint him last spring. He had evidently brooded over the matter, and had determined to kill the mayor and then commit suicide.

Married Because She Loved Him.

John W. Jones, aged 76, and Miss Jessie Cressor, aged 18, both of Kalamazoo, were quietly married at Constantine on the 26th. The groom is well-to-do and the bride is pretty and piquant. While the groom's estated is estimated to be worth fully $500,000 and was willed to the young bride before marriage, she asserts that it was not her lover's money that induced her to marry him, but simply because she loved him. FIGHT FOR THE FARM.

Strong Contest Between the Duffys of Northfield. Question of Validity of a Deed Given 41 Years ago.

A most peculiar suit was in progress in the curcuit court last Saturday being the contest for a third of 80 acres of land on a deed given 41 years ago.

John Duffy and family were living in Ireland in the early 40's. Patrick Duffy came here is 1842 and settled in Northfield on 80 acres of land. After being here until 1848 he wrote to the family in Ireland to come here, but before they arrived Patrick had gone to New Orleans and he was never heard of afterward.

Thinking that Patrick was undoubtedly dead, John Duffy, as heir to his son, in 1858 came to Ann Arbor and deeded the farm to Michael, Philip and Margaret Duffy. All the family took hold and worked the 80 acres, but Michael and Philip did the business and claimed to have paid all the taxes and made all the improvements since 1851. Margaret remained on the farm until 1867, when she married Patrick

Gallagher. Mrs. Gallagher claimed that she never knew that the farm had been deeded to her and her brothers until seven years ago, and that then she made a request for her portion of it, which was denied by Michael and Philip. Michael and Philip claim that John Duffy, the father, never had any tittle in the farm to convey. That they had held possession of the farm openly, notoriously and adversely for 48 years and that they were entilled to it.

As an argument against the doctrine of adverse possession, Attorney Miner, of Corunna, who represented Mrs. Gal lagher, held that Michael, Philip and Margaret were tenants in common at the time their father deeded the land to them; that she was never ousted; that there was no contention on her part until she gave them notice to quit about seven years ago; and that therefore the statute of limitations does not run against her as she was a tenant in common.

Judge Kinne-"The principal question relates to the old gentleman. Was he an heir to Patrick. If Patrick was dead he was an heir. Then if he gave a deed to the three children and two of them go into possession, they are tenants in common and the statute of limitations will not run against any one of them. But why cannot this case be settled up as it should be between brothers and sisters?" Mr. Cavanaugh-"We have nothing to settle." Mr. Miner-"I am sure if the parties want to settle it up, I, as attorney, will not stand in the way in the slightest." Judge Kinne-"I cannot enter a decree that will satisfy both sides. It must be for one or the other. I think I will give it two or three days' time to see if you can get together."

An American Railroad in China.

Moneyed men from the United States have secured a franchise for buildinga railroad from Hong Kong to Han Kow, China, distance of nearly 700 miles. While railroads are necessary to a nation's prosperity, health is still more decessary. A sick man can't make money if there are a thousand rail-roads. One of the reasons why America is so progressive is the fact that in every drug store is sold Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, that celebrated tonic for the weak, appetizer for the dyspeptic and sedative for the nervous. taken with great success by thousands of men and women who are run down, pale and weak. Hospital Site Project was Carried by a Vote of 650 Yeas to 16 Nays.

As was clearly evident from the start, the vote authorizing the council to spread a $17,000 tax for a site on which to locate the new homoeopathic hospital carried Monday by an overwhelming majority, the vote standing 40 to 1 in favor of the tax, This settles the matter so far as removing that department to Detroit is concerned. With what is practically a contract with the city it would be difficult to find grounds upon which that department could be removed.

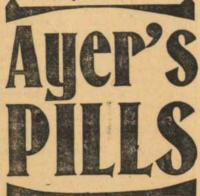

The next question to be settled now s where is the hospital to be located, In addition to the Smith property on Washtenaw, the Eberbach place on Packard can be had for $17,000. This is by all odds the most desirable and may be selected.

MRS. MULGAHY'S REVENCE. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

IT COST HER SPOUSE TEN DOL-LARS AND COSTS.

Sowed Up in a Bag, He Had No Possible Show of Escaping the Wrath of His Better Half.

There was no light in the Mulcahy domicile.

Mrs. Mulcahy was awake, nevertheless. The reason? Mr. Mulcahy had come in. It was the third night that week that Mr. Mulcahy had stayed in her loneliness she had resolved upon a plan.

"Shure an' OI'll do ut," she said to herself, and just then she heard the side door close with a bang. That meant that Mr. Mulcahy had arrived. Mrs. Mulcahy went to the top of the stairs and listened. A shambling footfall from the hall below was carried to her ears.

"Done it agin," muttered Mrs. Mulcahy to herself, which meant that she had concluded from the sounds that Mr. Mulcahy had dallied long with the frothy bowl that evening.

She hastily went back into her room and feigned sleep. By and by Mr. Mulcahy stumbled into the chamber. He leaned against the washstand to take off his shoes. In the flickering ray of the electric light that shone through the window Mrs. Mulcahy saw her worse seven-eighths stagger as though about to fail, but he caught the door jamb in time. Mrs. Mulcahy watched him from between half-closed evelids. He had succeeded in getting off both shoes. Then he peeled his coat and without going to further trouble he threw himself on the bed.

Mrs. Mulcahy waited. She didn't make a sound. By and by the heavy breathing of Mr. Mulcahy told her that he was in a deep sleep. That was Mrs. Mulcahy's clew to act. She rose quietly and stealthily crept to the bu-reau. From a lower drawer she took out a clean sheet. This she threw over Mr. Mulcahy, with care that the edges of the sheet upon which he reposed and the edges of the one she threw over him met. Then she tiptoed over to the stand by the window and returned with a needle in her hand, threaded with a long string of tough linen thread.

Without a sound she sat down on the edge of the bed and began her work of the night. She stitched the edges of the two sheets together all the way round, and when she had finished she stepped one side to view her work. There in the bag she had sewn round him lay the form of Mr. Mulcahy. That wasn't all. Mrs. Mulcahy went down stairs in her bare feet. She was gone 10 minutes at least And when she returned she carried in her hand a long, thick barrel stave.

She looked at the white-covered form. Then she raised the stave high above her head, and down it came. There was a yell from between the sheets. The sheets moved, but Mr. Mulcahy couldn't get out. Again and again were the blows reigned on the embagged body of Mr. Mulcahy, and Mrs. Mulcahy had only just begun when the officer on the beat rattled the front door, his sleep broken hy the yells from the Mulcahy residence Well, Mr. and Mrs. Mulcahy were ar rested, and the next morning Mr. Mulcahy was fined $10 in police court for disturbing the peace .- Detroit Free

IT WAS SO EASY. He Was Sorry He Did Not Ride the Entire Distance.

Though elevators are not new, they are new to a whole lot of persons. An old fellow from somewhere is the client of a lawyer who recently removed his office from the first floor of an old building on Grant street to the thirteenth floor of a modern office building. The old fellow came in to see him, and after much trouble found the building. His legs were stiff and his wind was short, but he started up the stairs. By the time he reached the out after 11 and Mrs. Mulcahy had fourth floor he declared that he would made up her mind to put an end to it. take his business out of the hands of the man who was so unreasonable as to live so high. He took a long rest at the fifth floor and would have turned back if it wasn't that he wanted to pay off his lawyer that very day and retain one with an office on the ground floor. At the seventh floor he gave it up. He couldn't go any higher. He sat on the steps and watched the elevators going up and down and noticed that they were well filled. He reasoned that since scarcely any person used the stairway, the fare on the elevator could not be high, and he could hardly be accused of extravagance if he rode the rest of the way, since there would be no necessity for him to come to the building again. So he hailed one of them. "How much'll you charge to take me to the thirteenth floor?" he asked the young man who seemed to be in charge.

"Get in here!" ordered the young fellow, as he seized him by the coat, pulled him into the car, and started up. "I can't stand there answerin' fool questions all day. Thirteen. Out you go! Move lively, now!"

"H'much?" asked the old chap, untying the shoe string that held his wal-

No Time to Fool Away.

One of the venerable members of the bar was a circuit judge much earlier in his career and tells this sweet soil, adding available fertility among the many interesting incidents all the time, but cannot thrive in a of that time:

THE VALUE OF A RYE SOD.

IT IS ALL RIGHT IF HANDLED AT PROPER TIME.

If Plowed Under at the Wrong Time, Good Fields May Be Made Unproductive For Years.

Some of our farm papers are discussing the value of a rye sod, a few correspondents having poor results from its use, while others are strong advocates of rye as a manurial crop. I have been growing rye as a winter cover crop for many years, plowing it under at different stages of growth, and can easily understand how farmers may differ widely in their estlmates of its value. The objects in view when using rye as a crop for green manuring are these: First, to give the soil a cover, because a mulch of any sort adds to the fertility; second, to prevent leaching, the roots going down into the soil and picking up the soluble plant-food; third, to release tough plant-food in the soil; fourth, to dry wet soils by pumping out the excess of water in late spring; fifth, to make the soil more friable; sixth, to add to the content of organic material

Rye is a hardy plant, growing in the warm days of winter and the early days of spring, and springs up ready for heading early in the season. If it is left until nearly headed out before plea for his client, and the defendant's the crop is turned under, an immense amount of water is pumped out of the soil by the growing plants, and in a dry season there may not be enough moisture left in the ground to start the summer crop well. More than this, the rye-stalks become slightly woody, ment.' and lying in the bottom of the furrow they hold the top soil away from the subsoil and shut off the rise of moisture from below. In this way the chances for a good summer crop may be ruined. The roots of the plants hold some dry soil around them, mak ing the ground cloddy, and as the rye rots cavities are made at the bottom of the furrow, and a proper amount of moisture cannot be secured and held His lawyer explained the matter to for a summer crop in a dry season.

There is always another danger heavy growth of rye in hot weather. The mass of green stuff in its fermentation "sours the land" oftentimes, as we farmers express it. There are living organisms in all good soils at work for the farmer, making tough plant-food available. They multiply in a good soil that has been made acid by the addition of a mass of green macounty of the northern part of the terial in hot weather. I have seen state where the transcripts from jus- good fields made unproductive for tices' courts were usually incompre- years by plowing under a heavy coat hensible and where little concession of rye, clover or weeds in midsumwas made to forms of law in running mer. Such a result is not always gotten, of course, but may be expected in case of heavy soils, though very liable to occur with sandy solls also. Much land is slightly too acid for best results in farming. The safe thing to do is to break the rye sod as early in the spring as is necessary for reasonably early planting of a spring crop. The rye will then be several inches high, and the roots will be found to extend deeper into the soil than the plow goes. There an increase in the amount of organic material in the land, an in-

Thought He Could Improve Them. It was a bleak afternoon, but they strolled through Jackson Park to the lake front, under the miserable pretext advanced by the young man that it would be interesting to see the waves come rolling in.

"What a dreary prospect!" she exclaimed, as they sat down on a park bench.

"I think, myself," replied the young man, satisfying himself by a comprehensive glance around that nobody could see him, "I think, myself, the surroundings could be improved upon.

A Man Holds His Head Under Water Till He Is Drowned.

Of all strange suicides that of a man at Lexington, Mo., seems the most remarkable. He calmly walked into the river until he was in three feet of water, then leaned forward and held his head under until drowned. Hopeless despondency from disease causes many suicides. We have never heard of a more wonderful rescue from the grave than that of Jesse Middleswart, of Decatur, O. The pit of death yawned darkly at his feet, but he was anatched back from it by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. He says: "I had been enjoying life. My health was good. I weighed 180 pounds. I thought I could defy rains, snows and storms and exposed myself to all weather. But a severe cold settled on my lungs, and I began to cough-how I did cough-day and night. Nothing would stop it. Two of the best physicians here told me that I had consumption and doctored me for a year. Then they told me that I could only live a little while longer. I had frequent hemorrhages and was very weak. I had lost sixty-one pounds and could hardly walk. To think of my former strength and feel this fearful weakness made me desperate. I almost longed to end my horrible suffering. Then a good friend advised me to use Dr. King's New Discovery. I began to get Letter frora the first bottle, but kept using it until I am as strong and stout and well as ever, and now weigh 190 poun ds. I can't find words strong enough to praise this wonderful rem edy. Dr. King's New Discovery will cure Bro nchitis, Pneumonia, Pleurisy,

"'Much obleeged, jedge,' and the fellow started for the door.

"'No, I hain't, jedge. I've stumped this here hull durn section and I can't find a lawyer in it. Atween you and me, jedge, I don't see no way but ter drap this doggone thing. Me or you either hain't got no time ter fool away.

Why He Was in Prison.

An old whitewasher stood before the court as a witness. The lawyer for the defendant tried to confuse him. "Your are James Miller?" "Yes.

"Are you the James Miller who was sentenced under mitigating circumstances for robbery?" "No.

"You are, perhaps, the Miller who was sentenced to two years' imprisonment for theft, then?"

I am not that Miller, either." "Were you ever in prison?" "Yes; twice.

"How long the first time?"

"One afternoon."

"One afternoon! And the second time? You must make a truthful statement, for you are a sworn witness. If you were in prison for so short a time, what did you do?"

"I whitewashed a cell for a lawyer who had cheated his clients.' The lawyer did not ask any more questions on that subject.

crease of fertility and an improvement of the mechanical condition of the soll, without any danger of souring the land or of robbing it of moisture, Rye as a manurial plant has been condemned because it has not been used aright by some experimenters. When crimson clover does not thrive rye is the best winter cover crop we have. It is sure in making a catch, does fairly well on thin land, and works when many other plants would remain dormant.

Feed Old Horses Proper Food.

Serious results are liable from feeding old horses having poor teeth on unground or unbroken feed which they cannot half masticate. Some such horses are very voracious and will bolt their food, not even chewing it to the extent possible for them. Such swallowing of food of course reduces the flow of saliva, which is the real beginning of digestion. Dry feed, ground oats, corn-meal, bran, etc., will oblige such animals to eat slowly, as it is necessary to moisten the food before they can swallow it, so they cannot eat faster than the flow of saliva will prepare the food. In the case of cattle, so long as they do not choke it matters little how fast they eat, for it is well-known they have their food to chew over again. This process of cud-chewing is an operation about which they never hurry. If they are disturbed or hurried they stop chewing. It is thus desirable that cattle should, after milking, be left undis turbed to their ruminations.

Breaking a Sitter.

When a hen wishes to sit she is usually fat. If you break her she will lay five or six eggs and become broody again. Let her get rid of her fat. Give her one egg, let her stay on the nest two weeks, give her plenty of water, feed only once in two days, and then break her up. She will then have lost flesh, and when she begins to lay she will keep it up. If you must break her, however, get a coop with a flat floor, slat sides and open everywhere. Let it be raised a foot from the ground. Place the coop in an exposed location, where she can see everything around her. Being disturbed, and not being able to warm her airy nest, she gives up in disgust.

WAR NOTES.

It is improbable the war department will accept as final the decision of the Pennsylvania court declaring that the army canteen is subject to state taxation. The officer in charge of the canteen at Camp Mead appealed to the war department for assistance in defending the case, and the department, approving of the application, transmitted it to the department of justice with the request that an officer of that department be assigned for the purpose. It is believed the decision was rendered before the defense could be prepared. The principle involved is regarded as important, and it is significant that the Pennsylvania decision is directly in conflict with the formal opinion of the court of claims in the case involving the canteen. That court decided that the canteen was one of the instrumentalities of government and therefore exempt from taxation.

The insurgent army has taken to the swamps and hills beyond Imus. The largest force is supposed to be in the neighborhood of San Francisco de Malabon, holding a position more toward the lake or toward the coast according as exigencies demand. Gen. Wheaton returned to Imus on the 21st, bringing three men who were wounded in the battle the day before. The heavy rains that fall nightly make campaigning uncomfortable. The roads are still good, but the rice fields adjoining them are pools of water. The Filipinos will not fight unless they can meet our troops in positions most advantageous to themselves or take our reconnoitering bodies in ambush.

Surgeon General Wyman, of the marine hospital service, has received word lic. When I see a thing that's got up from Dr. Park, the quarantine officer at Santiago, reporting the existence at that port of 14 cases of yellow fever, and four deaths from that cause. The fact that the season had advanced thus far with the appearance of only a few sporadic cases of yellow fever led to the general hope that the improved sanitary condition of Santiago, Havana and other Cuban cities since the Amercan occupation might result in preventing an outbreak. But now that hope is blasted. Every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

According to Col. Thos. Ward, of the adjutant-general's staff, the regular army is now practically full, but men are being enlisted at the rate of 1,000 a week. These men, he says, are not for a provisional army, but will be used to complete the strength of companies, to replace sick and disabled men and those whose terms of service have expired. Col. Ward says none of the men now being enlisted will be used to fill up volunteer regiments now in the Philippines.

The war department is preparing to accommodate the troops who are to be returned to the United States from Cuba and Porto Rico during the summer at the military posts of Fort Ethan Allen and Plattsburg, on the shore of Lake Champlain. Fort Meade will be abandoned.

> Beware of the Doctors' Patchwork: You Can Cure Yourself at Home.

There is not the slightest doubt that the doctors do more harm than good in treating Contagious Blood Poison; many victims of this loathsome disease would be much better off to-day if they had never allowed them-selves to be dosed on mercury and potash, the only remedies which the doctors are jue for only remedies which the doctors ever give for blood poison. The doctors are wholly unable to get rid of this vile poison, and only attempt to heal up the outward appearance of the disease—the sores and eruptions. This they do by driving the poison into the system, and endeavor to keep it shut in with their constant doses of potash and mercury. The mouth and throat and other delicate parts then break out into sores, and the fight is continued indefinitely, the drugs doing the system into sores, and the fight is continued indefinitely, the drugs doing the system more damage than the disease itself. Mr. H. L. Myers, 100 Mulberry St., Newark, N. J., says: "I had spent a they could do me no good. I had large spots all over my bedy, and these soon broke out into running sores, and I endured all the suffering which this vile disease produces. I decided to try S. S. S. as a last resort, and was soon greatly improved. I followed closely your 'Directions for Self-Treatment,' and the large splotches on my skin has been as clear as glass ever since. I cured my self at home, after the doctors had failed completely." It is valuable time thrown away to expect the doctors to cure Contagious Blood Poison, for the disease is beyond their skill. Swifts Specific— S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD

SINGULAR STATEMENT.

From Mrs. Rank to Mrs. Pinkham.

The following letter to Mrs. Pink-ham from Mrs. M. RANK, No. 2,354 East Susquehanna Ave., Philadelphia, Pa., is a remarkable statement of relief from utter discouragement. She he assumed to tell Gen. Henry how he says

"I never can find words with which to thank you for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me.

"Some years ago I had womb trouble and doctored for a long time, not seeing any improvement. At times I would feel well enough, and other times was miserable. So it went on until last October, I felt something terrible creeping over me, I knew not what, but kept getting worse. I can hardly explain my feelings at that I was so depressed in spirits time. that I did not wish to live, although I had everything to live for. Had hysteria, was very nervous; could not his acts, which I do not believe, then he sleep and was not safe to be left "Indeed, I thought I would lose my mind. No one knows what I endured. "I continued this way until the last of February, when I saw in a paper a testimonial of a lady whose case was similar to mine, and who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I determined to try it. Bourgoyne company for the loss of her in March last granted the professor a and felt better after the first dose. I continued taking it, and to-day am a well woman, and can say from my heart, 'Thank God for such a medi-cine.'"
