MONROE AND WASHTENAW FARMERS WHO BOUGHT BELTS OF CLOTE.

And Then Found Their Orders Tarniar Us Later as Notes-In Addition to This Their Bolts of Cloth was Short in Measure-Some of the Victims are settling at 50 cents on

Last winter a lot of fellows canvassed southern Washtenaw and Monroe countles selling bolts of cloth at a Later they found that the bolts did not serious phase of the deal turned up. The contracts signed by the farmers began to appear as regular notes in the hands of an innocent third party who have banded together and will fight case. Some of the farmers have already settled up by paying fifty cents on the dollar rather than go to the expense of a law suit.

WHAT COAL MEN SAY.

THEY SAY PRICE OF COAL IS NOT TOO HIGH.

When all the Items of Cost are Figured but Little Left for the Dealer-Register Interviews Well-Known Coal Dealer and what Follows is what was Learned-Evidently Two Sides to Story-That Coal Barons are Robbing the People.

Generally people seem to hold the opinion that it is entirely proper to damn the coal barons and incidentally the local dealer. In fact this is so common that one is not up-to-date unless he is ready upon the slightest provocation, to say the harshest things possible about those who control or have anything to do with the output of coal. A Register reporter happened into one of the numerous coal offices in this city one day last week. While there the conversation drifted into the price of coal and the items of expense which must be borne before the product reached the consumer's coal-bin. Said the dealer: "If those who are so ready to abuse the coal producers and dealers knew a little more about what they were talking they would have less to say. There is not." be affirmed, "a gold mine for anybody in the coal business today at the price for which it is now selling. Just consider what it costs to place a ton of coal in your bin and you will not be overwhelmed at the big margins received by those who deal in coal, unless it is at the amount the railroads receive for hauling the same. To start with, the man who owns the land must have fifty cents per ton for every ton mined beneath the surface of his acreage. Next, the miner receives ninety cents for mining. Next comes the expense of pumping water, hoisting the coal, ia many mines over 1000 feet, and the breaking it up. These items of expense are estimated to cost not less than 25 cents per ton. To this add ten cents per ton for opening mines, cost of oversight and wear and tear of machinery. Next you must add the biggest expense of all, that of freight from the mines to Ann Arbor. This is the snug sum of $3.50 per ton. Then the general salesman receives ten cents commission on every ton of hard coal sold. To this must be added the screenings which the local dealer must sell for one dollar per ton. This figures a loss of not less than than fifteen cents per ton dealer but 75 cents to divide between them to pay the entire expense of runhire, and interest on their invest-

A large crowd greeted Rev. C. W. Blodgett Sunday evening at the M. E. church. The speaker was present in the interests of the W. C. T. U. and tics." He first treated of the privilege and power in the ballot and branched off to speak a hearty word for woman's suffrage. Then he touched on the use of the ballot. "It is the duty of every sincere lover of this republic to vote down every man and party that in un-American." He mentioned the saloon as un American and showed the saloon. ist to be one whose interests are not beneficial. Dr. Blodgett then pointed out two dangers in politics; the demagogue and the effort made to keep women out of politics. He closed with a word of praise of the women who will one day be active in politics.

Possibly Six Arc Shot

Carbondale, III., Sept. 17.—The long-expected clash between the union miners at Carterville and the imported negroes employed by the Big Muddy Coal Company came at noon to-day. Four negroes are known to have been killed, one mortally wounded and several others slightly. To-night there is a report that the bodies of two more negroes have been found near the Brush mines, which would swell the list of dead to six.

One company of militia has already arrived at the scene of trouble and others are on the way. It is feared that before reinforcements arrive an attack will be made on the Brush shafts, as before reinforcements arrive an attack will be made on the Brush shafts, as the troops now on duty number only thirty men, and could hardly be ex-pected to cope with the superior force of well-armed miners. The feeling aginst the militia is bitter.

The union miners say the conflict was precipitated by the taunts and threats of the negroes. On the other hand, it is strongly asserted that the killings were deliberate murders, the result of a prearranged and deliberate ately executed plot. Captain Brush says his men were attacked while waiting at the depot for a train, and that they did nothing to bring on a conflict. The fact that no one on the other side was hurt is regarded as suspicious.

When the battle occurred few peo ple were on the streets, many being at church and others at dinner. The negroes came into the city in the morning, intending, as they stated, to go to the county seat to attend church services, there being no colored meeting place in the city.

Eye witnesses to the battle claim not more than fifty shots were fired and only two or three from the fleeing negroes. If such is the fact the aim of the men engaged in the battle was deadly, as out of thirteen negroes nine were wounded.

Four Hundred Are Out at Decatur, Ill. For More Wages,

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 16 .- Four hundred miners employed in the two shafts of the Decatur Coal Company went on a strike to-day. The trouble has been brewing for two weeks. Af ter two years' efforts, the state mine officials succeeded in organizing a union, embracing 375 men. Then they demanded an eight-hour day and recognition of the union. Manager Armstrong instead of granting this demand, offered the diggers 55 cents a ton, an increase of 5 cents, and the laborers $1.60 a day, an increase of 10 cents. The miners were not satisfied because the union had not been recognized and struck. The rate of wages offered is said to be the highest paid

Published Every Few Centuries. The Chinese court historian's work does not see the light until the reigning dynasty comes to an end.

In this way these Celestial historians have an opportunity to describe most truthfully the virtues and vices of various rulers, and the real significance of the events which take place during their regime. They can write what they please without fear of censure, for they know that their work will not be published as long as the reigning dynasty lasts.

This has been the rule for more than 2,000 years.

The duty of these historians is to write a plain account of all the events that occur during their tenure of office. At regular intervals their completed work is taken from them, and is locked up in an iron safe or vault. There it remains until the first member of a new dynasty ascends the throne. It is then given, with all the other histories in the vault, to the court historian who is then living, and from the mass of documents he is expected to prepare a truthful history of the dynasty which has just expired. The present dynasty has been reigning since 1644, and consequently no court history has been published since that date.-Answers.

BOONE'S BORDER TALES.

Some Hair-Raising Yarns of the Texas Frontier.

A typical Texan is Sheriff Boone, who arrived from El Paso yesterday for "Little Dick" Harris, wanted in that city for burglary of Hixon & Hixon's jewelry store. For several years Mr. Boone was an inspector and line rider on the border between Texas and Mexico, and his experiences would fill a good-sized volume. The Rio Grande river, a mere dry wash at that point, at certain seasons of the year cuts the line between the countries, and the only international street railway system in the world runs between El Paso, Tex., and Juarez, Mexico. Bobtailed mules are the motive power of the cars.

"No, the Apache Kid has not been killed lately," said Sheriff Boone. "Every once in awhile he leaves traces of his bloody work at some poor ranchman's cabin in the mountains of New good Indian when he is a dead one. THE French government has crawled out from under the Dreyfus affair by pardoning the accused. The world believes that Dreyfus is innocent and that it was due to a shamefully corrupt war department that he was convicted merely for the purpose of making him a scape-goat for the corruption of some one or more high army officials. It will be a long time before France will recover from the stain the Dreyfus affair has made upon it. The pardon may give a little immediate relief but cannot remove the blot upon the char. acter resulting from the conduct of the French army.

THE citizens along Packard street are bitterly opposed to allowing the electric cars to run more than twelve miles an hour on that street. In deference to this feeling the council refused to pass an ordinance allowing a higher rate. In this we believe a mistake was made. Now as soon as each car reaches the city limits, it must reduce its speed so much that it seems almost like a snail pace. This causes every passenger on the cars to be discontented and give Ann Arbor the name of a poky old town. Such a rep ntation is rapidly spread by the traveling men who make use of the road. It will certainly do the city no good and is almost sure to work it more or less

Who Does Your Printing.

Jackson is well supplied with organizations whose objects are social, musieal, literary, fraternal and religious. The newspapers are generous donors of e toward all such enterprises. Far too generous many times, for their own good. With only one exception, every Jackson newspaper has a job printing plant. The same disease is as much in evidence in Jackosn as elsewhere. So burdensome has this evil become in Newburg, New York, that Newburg newspaper men are considering the plan of shutting out "deadhead" advarious entertainments by church and printers for tickets, hand bills, etc., where they pay cash, and who visit publication (several times in some cases) of "notices" of the events, for which they pay nothing.

Truly the Newburg newspaper men have good cause to criticise the methods of some people who should be more businesslike than they are. You never know when you may want the favor of your newspaper and the least you can do is to patronize newspaper offices where job printing is done also. And it isn't only organizations, etc., that are guilty, either. Some business (? men and firms work the same methods. -Jackson Press.

Another exchange very aptly remarks that merchants who want newspaper men to roast grocery peddlers, thing like this price. cheap John stores and the like, would make newspaper men feel a good deal more like doing so if these same merchants would quit using the free letter heads of soap firms and baking powder statements, sidewalk advertisements and rubber stamps and patronize the home printer.

A STRINGENT FOOD LAW.

Prohibits the Use of Arsenic or Alum in all Articles of Diet.

The law enacted by the Missouri legslature, a copy of which was recently published in our colums, and which pronibits the manufacture or sale of any article intended for food or to be used in the preparation of food, which contains alum, arsenic, ammonia, etc., places that state in the lead in the matter of sanitary legislation.

Laws restricting the use of alum in bread have been in force in England, Germany and France for many years. In this country, in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky and several other states, direct legislation in reference to the sale of alum baking powders has also been effected. In several of these states their sale is prohibited unless they are branded to show that they contain alum, and in the Dis. trict of Columbia, under the laws of Congress, the sale of bread containing alum has been made illegal.

Following are the names of some of the brands of baking powder sold in this vicinity which are shown by recent analysis to contain alum. Housekeepers and grocers should cut the list out and keep it for reference:

BAKING POWDERS CONTAINING ALUM. CALUMET Contains Alum.
Manf. by Calumet Baking Powder Co.,

COMET Contains Alum. Manf. by D. G. Evans & Co., St. Loffis.

INew York. OCKET..... Contains Alum. Manf. by Sherman Bros. & Co., Chicago. UNRIVALED.......Contains Alum. Manf. by Sprague. Warner & Co., Chicago.

IMMENSE VALUE Contains Alum. In addition to these, many grocers sell what they call their own special brands. These powders are put up for the grocer, and his name put upon the vertising of concerts, excursions and labels by manufacturers of alum powders. The manufacturers, it is said, other organizations, who go to job find their efforts to market their goods in this way greatly aided by the ambition of the grocer to sell a powder with the newspaper offices and request the his own name upon the label, especially as he can make an abnormal profit upon it. Many grocers, doubtless do not know that the powders they are thus pushing are alum powders the sale of which would be a misdemeanor > under the law referred to. It is quite impossible to give the names of all the alum baking powders. They are constantly appearing in all sorts of disguises, under different names and all kinds of prices, even as low as five and ten cents a pound. They can be avoided, however, by the housekeeper who will bear in mind that all baking powders sold at twenty-five contain alum, as pure cream of tartar powders cannot be produced at any-

A GRAND AUDITORIUM.

PROFESSOR THOMPSON WOULD HAVE WIN-CHELL PROPERTY USED FOR ONE.

Thinks that an Auditorium Seating Six Thousand People would be a Paying Investment-Would Enable Choral Union to Make the May Festival a much Greater Event-Also Induce Many Theatrical Companies to Come Here which now do not Come Because of Lack of Room.

Prof. B. M. Thompson has an idea in regard to improvements in Ann Arbor that may some day be realized. His idea is that the old Winchell place on N. University-ave, should be used for the site of a large auditorium. The Professor believes that one with a scating capacity of six thousand or more would be a paying investment. It would then be possible he declares, for the Choral Union to make the May Festival a much more important event. Thus it could be much more largely advertised and the fact that all who came could be accommodated would cause thousands to come to the May Festival who will not come while the present conditions exist because of the fear that probably they could not hear the concerts if they did come. With a suitable place in which to hold the May Festival it could be made practically a national event in the musical world.

The Professor believes, also, that with such an auditorium equipped with a suitable stage many large theatrical companies which now cannot be induced to come here would readily make dates here and by popular prices such as are given in large cities could fill such a building to its utmost capacity. A great theatrical star in Ann Arbor at popular prices would bring out almost the entire body of University people and as many more of our townspeople and fill a hall as large as the one proposed and prove a paying investment for both the theatrical company and for the owners of the build-

Then, too, the Professor believes that with such an auditorium great band concerts could be given here every few weeks and that they would call out audiences sufficiently large to pack such a building to its utmost capacity and be a paying investment to all concerned. Other uses would also be found for such a building were it once erected. The Professor is enthusiastic on the subject and his enthuisasm may prove a leaven to start up a movement that will result in the early realization of his ideas.

Dr. Miry Wood-Allen Obliged to Give Up the Leoture Field-Her Son, Mr. M. C. Wood-Allen will Take Her Place.

Despite the bad weather a number of friends were present at the Church of Christ Tuesday evening to hear Mr. M. C. Wood-Allen deliver for the first time the lecture which he will use during the coming season. The occasion was of especial interest as assuring the continuance of the work which Dr. Mary Wood-Allen had to give up after creating so widespread interest in it.

Dr. Wood-Allen introduced the speaker with a few words stating that she had been obliged to give up her lectures because of ill health and expressthe pleasure she felt in having her son take it up in her stead.

Mr Wood-Allen began his lecture, 'Character Building," in a quiet manner not unlike his mother's. He is of of medium height and speaks in a clear voice and without gestures. His treatment of moral culture is along the line of the latest scientific theories. He treated of brain development and showed plainly the method of elimination of evil by formation of good habits to take the place of evil ones. The lecture, however, was along the line of social purity and the earnest, careful treatment which he gave it showed that it is a work which is very near his heart. The speaker advocated above all else that children be instructed, from the time they are old enough to appreciate such matters, to regard as sacred the functions of the body of which it is now commonly thought unwise and indelicate to speak. He treated the subject from various standpoints and kept his hearers thoroughly interested until he finished.

This is the first time Mr. Wood-Allen has delivered the lecture but he need have no fear as to its future success for, considered from any standpoint it must be regarded as a production worthy of an experienced writer and presented with the tact and eloquence of a far older speaker.

PARADISE FOR BIRDS.

SUCH IS THE ROOMY WHITE HOUSE GROUNDS.

All Kinds of Birds Seek a Home Here, Including the Little Sparrow Which Is a Great Nuisence.

Birds having a keen eye out for residence quarters in Washington find the white house grounds the most fashionable and select neighborhood they can enter, says the Washington Star. This is especially so of birds desiring a quiet life, without being subjected to the "rubber-necking" of other birds, animals and human beings. Sparrows in great numbers have their homes in the grounds, but they would be just as much at home on Pennsylvania avenue, and it is said by the bird doctor at the white house that the sparrows which live around there are recluses, or have been run away from the thickly settled quarters of the city. There is plenty of room for more of these little rascals in the grounds, where the trees furnish quiet places for building and hatching, but the great majority of these birds appear not to care much for these delightful grounds. For feeding purposes the white house grounds are not a success, because they are always kept clean. In addition to the value of the grounds for residence purposes, there is one distinct advantage. hat is in the bathing facilities. The white house sparrows are like Japanese people in this respect. When they are not chattering about this thing and that they are bathing in the different fountains in the grounds. At all hours of the day, but more particularly in the morning, the little sparrows assemble at the fountains, flit to the leaves of the water plants and dive and duck as long as they desire. They are not good swimmers and do not wear fancy bathing suits. Where water is convenent sparrows are cleanly little animals. Each leaf of a water plant is strong enough to hold the weight of a they were known to be great friends, bird and there is not much danger of drowning. At any rate, no life guards each other in the street without a are stationed by the sparrows to watch greeting. and protect incautious birds.

Blackbirds, robins, thrush, bluebirds and crows make their homes in the quarreled?" white house grounds, together with other varieties. Nearly all the year round robins may be seen in the grounds, and they have their nests somewhere about. They fly about the front of the grounds and hunt among the flowers and plants for worms. They do not bathe themselves, like the sparrows. They are comparatively tame and no one bothers them. These few robins have been in the grounds for years. They do not go far north, like the others of their tribe, in the summer months. The Washington climate suits them. In the winter they disappear for a trip to the winter resorts in the south, but come back in the early spring. The blackbirds seen in the grounds are big fellows, half as big as crows and just as glossy black.

A raincrow which lives in the grounds and in the trees of Lafayette square can be heard just before each rain, giving his peculiar warning that rain may be expected. Old-timers at the white house say that this bird is a better prophet than the weather bureau, so far as rain is concerned.

How a Filipino Dies.

The general, in a white hat, was marching in advance of the firing line, when the discharge of a rifle was mains of several previous coverings, heard in the yard of the house next to is to be condemned from the standthe road, says Harper's Weekly. Several soldiers rushed into the yard, but not in time to prevent two more shots, which came whizzing in the direction of the general. At this moment I came to a break in the hedge, where I could see what was going on. A young Fillpino was about thirty yards off. He was turning this way and that like an animal at bay, thoroughly frightened. He had a rifle in his hand. It after-ward turned out that this rifle. ward turned out that this rifle was of this unexcelled wall coating.

choked. The soldiers were breaking down the high hedge to get in. Suddenly the Filipino made a run for life. He got through the hedge some way and dashed across an open field. Three shots followed, all of which took effect. The wounded man turned, ran sideways a few paces, lay down on the ground and a second after was dead.

I got a good sight of the whole incident and so naturally did the Filipino stretch himself along the ground and rest his head upon his arm that I thought he was shamming. An examination a minute later proved that he was dead. There is this difference between the manner in which American and Filipino soldiers die-the American falls in a heap and dies hard; the Filipino stretches himself out, and when dead is always found in some easy attitude, generally with his head on his arms. They die the way a wild animal dies-in just such a position as one finds a deer or an antelope which one has shot in the woods.

The princess of Wales had a pleasant and interesting stay in Venice. Her royal highness is traveling strictly incognito. Pricess Victoria and Princess Charles of Denmark were at the station waiting to receive their royal mother. No one recognized the three princesses, who enjoyed making their expeditions as ordinary sightseers. Their royal highnesses drove to the Castle of Miramar, and were not permitted by the custodian to enter the castle, which must have been a novel experience for the princess of Wales. On another occasion an innkeeper made a great trouble of providing coffee for the royal ladies, of whose rank he was of course ignorant. was cold, and finally the three princesses were supplied with the steaming beverages. DANGER IN THE WALLS. A great deal of sickness, particularly throat and lung difficulties, is the result of the conditions of our walls and ceilings. Bedrooms covered with layers of molding flour paste to feed vermin, with paper to hide them and to absorb moisture, must be unhealthy. The practice of re-covering walls with paper without removing the moldy and dirty repoints of cleanliness and health. Yet this is what many people do. When we add an animal glue culture for disease germs, with colors applied to hide dirt, the acme of risk seems to be reached. FULLNESS OF LIFE.

A Right That Belongs to Every Man, Woman and Child-How to Enjoy It.

It always makes us feel good to meet a person who shows that every nerve and muscle and organ of the body is brimful of vim and vigor and health. Such people drive away the "blues"what a pity every person don't always feel so full of life. Millions more would if they had good health. Statistics show that the most common causes of poor health are troubles of the chest, throat, and lungs. It was this fact that produced Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, the world's greatest throat and lung cure. During the last 25 years hundreds of thousands have found by experience that this wonderful cure conquers these maladies from the so-called simple coughs and colds to the desperate and fatal diseases of the lungs. Thankful letters prove this supreme remedy does cure Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Pleurisy, Hemorrhage, La Grippe, Lung Fever, Asthma, Hay Fever, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. It acts very quickly on the diseased mucous membranes of throat and lungs, soothing, healing, and cleansing them of all impurities. See what this royal cure did for Berry Mize, of Welch, W. Va. Mr. Mize, who is 61 years old, writes: "For seven years I was constantly in pain, and my suffering was great. This pain would now be in my sides, then in my breast, changing from time to time. I tried several doctors, but they could do me no good. I heard that Dr. King's New Discovery was good for troubles of the throat, lungs and chest, and decided to try it. One bottle cured me, and I have not had a touch of the pain since. I cannot find words to thank you for this wonderful medicine." If suffering, ask for Dr. King's New Discovery, and take no substitute. Large bottles 50 cents and $1. Money back if not cured. A trial bottle free. At all druggists.

OBITUARY.

Jane Lamb was born at Russeltown Flats, in the Dominion of Canada, fiftyfive years ago and met a sudden death while crossing the Michigan Central Railroad in Ann Arbor, Sept. 13, 1899. She was one of a family of eight children, four of whom are now living, Mr. James Lamb of Quebes Ontario. James Lamb, of Quebec, Ontario; Mrs. Lowell Clifford and Mrs. Luther Clif-ford, of Brockton, Mass.; and Mrs. Re-becca Smith, of Dixboro. With the latter who was a twin sister, she has lived nearly all her life, and the two have been most devoted to each other. She has lived in Michigan for thirty-six years, and although of a quiet dis-position she was to those who knew her best, a kind and earnest friend. Early in life she became a member of the Presbyterian church, to which faith she ever clung. She was a good neighbor, a kind sister, and an industrious woman. The funeral services, conducted by Rev. Howard A. Field, were held Sunday afternoon.

Prices Cut to a Figure Which Must Close out Everything at Once Bargains for Michigan People.

The great dissolution sale of Keenan & Jahn, 261 and 263 Woodward avenue, Detroit, caused by the death of Adolph Jahn, of that firm, has attracted admirers of furniture throughout the State. These goods, comprising furniture for the hall, parlor, library, diningroom, bedroom and kitchen, and all styles of curtains and draperies. must be converted into cash at once. The firm had bought over $100,000 worth of the best furniture made in America, for the fall trade. Keenan & Jahn were always noted for the superior quality of the goods they made or sold, and this year they proposed to keep up the sterling character of all they offered to the public. They were deeply sensible of the weight which their guaranty had always carried, and the present stock was selected to give emphasis to that warrant. This is the stock that has been cut away down in price, because it must be sold off im-

The opportunity is here afforded of selecting articles from an assortment never before offered in Michigan at such low figures. A brief examination by any person at all acquainted with good furnisure, curtains or draperies. and the prices generally asked for them, will be convincing evidence that this sale is a genuine sacrifice.

The house of Keenan & Jahn has been 30 years in business in the State metropoils. In its dissolution it has good words from thousands of Michigan customers, who were regular buyers from the house because years of experience had satisfied them of the value they reserved. The present sale will draw very many to the warerooms who have not been regular customers. They need so sourance of the bargains offered. The high reputation of the firm and the values they see be-fore them will be sufficient. Every article is marked in plain figures on a large red tag showing the regular re-tail price and the cut price made for this dissolution sale. Buyers may have thelr goods stored for future delivery

OFFICIAL TEXT OF THE TRANS-VAAL'S ANSWER.

Kruger Charges Bad Faith and Asserts He Made Former Proposals at the Suggestions of Great Britain.

Pretoria, Sept. 18.—The reply of the government of the South American the South American republic to the latest dispatch, dated Sept. 12, of the British Secretary of State for the Colonies, Joseph Chamberlain, after acknowledging the re-ceipt of the British note, proceeds in part as follows:

The government deeply regrets the withdrawal, as the government understands it, of the invitation contained in the British dispatch of Aug. 23, and the substitution in place thereof of an entirely new proposal.

"The proposals, now fallen through, contained in the Transvaal dispatches of Aug. 19 and 21, were elicited from this government by suggestions made by the British diplomatic agent in Pretoria (Conyngham Greene) to the Transvaal State Secretary (F. W. Reitz), suggestions which this govern-ment acted upon in good faith and af-ter specially ascertaining whether they would be likely to prove acceptable to the British government. will pass Washington Square at 10

This government had by no means an intention to raise again needlessly the question of its political status, but acted with the sole object of endeavor-ing by the aid of the local British agent to put an end to the strained condition of affairs. "This was done in the shape of a pro-posal which this government deems, both as regards its spirit and form, to be so worded as, replying upon intima-tions to this government, would satisfy her Majesty's government.

"This government saw a difficulty as to the acceptance of those proposals by the people and legislature of the Transvaal, and also contemplated possible dangers connected therewith, but risked making them on account of a sincere desire to secure peace and because assured by Mr. Chamberlain that will now declare open war against the Carnegie Steel Company and its allied concerns, the H. C. Frick Coke Comsettled on their merits.

"As regards the joint commission, the Transvaal adheres to the acceptance of the invitation thereunto given by her Majesty's government, and can-not understand why such commission, which before was deemed necessary to explain the complicated details of the seven years' law, should now be deemed unnecessary, and why it should now without much inquiry, be thought possible to declare this law inadequate.

"Further, there must be a misapprehension if it be assumed that this government was prepared to lay proposals for a five years' franchise and a quarter representation of the new population before the Volksraad for unconditional acceptance.

"As to the language, this government never made any offer such as is re-ferred to, considering, as it did, such a measure both unnecessary and undesir-

"The proposed conference, as opposed to the Joint Commission of Inquiry, this government is likewise not unwilling to enter upon, but the difficulty is that an acceptance thereof is made dependent upon the acceptance on the side of the Transvaal of precedent conditions, which this government does not feel at liberty to submit to the Volksraad; and, moreover, the subjects to be discussed at the conference re-

BOER REPLY MADE PUBLIC BREAD 1,800 YEARS STALE

better, they are told. There is in the museum at Naples some bread which ought to be stale enough for anybody. It was baked one day in August, 79 A. D., in one of the curious ovens still to be seen at Pompell, says the London Mail.

More than eighteen centuries, therefore, have elapsed since it was drawn 'all hot" and indigestible from the oven. So it may claim to be the oldest bread in the world. You may see it in a glass case on the upper floor of the museum. There are several loaves of it, one still bearing the impress of the baker's name.

In shape and size they resemble the small cottage loaves of England, but not in appearance, for they are as black as charcoal, which, in fact, they closely resemble. This was not their original color, but they have become carbonized, and if eaten would probably remind one of charcoal biscuits. When new they may have weighed about a couple of pounds each, and were most likely raised with leaven, as is most of the bread in oriental countries at the present time.

The popular idea that Pompeii was destroyed by lava is a fallacious one. If a lava stream had descended upon the city the bread and everything else in the place would have been utterly destroyed. Pompeli was really buried under ashes and fine cinders called by the Italians lapilli.

On that dreadful day in August, when the great eruption of Vesuvius took place, showers of fine ashes fell nal. first upon the doomed city, then showers of lapilli, then more ashes, and more lapilli, until Pompeli was covered over to a depth in places of fifteen and even twenty feet.

Other comestibles besides the bread were preserved, and may now be seen in the same museum. There are various kinds of grain, fruit, vegetables and even pieces of meat. Most interesting is a dish of walnuts, some cracked ready for eating, others whole. Though carbonized, like all the other entables, they have preserved their characteristic wrinkles and lines.

There are figs, too, and pears, the former rather cariveled, as one would expect after all these years, the latter certainly no longer "juicy." But, perhaps, the most interesting relic in the room is a honeycomb, every cell of which can be distinctly made out. It is so well preserved that it is hard to realize that the comb is no longer wax nor the honey honey.

A piece of the comb seems to have been cut out, and one can imagine some young Pompelian having helped young fellow took it with him and ate t as he ran, or whether he left in on his plate, intending to return for it when the eruption was over.

An Awful Mistake.

If you observed closery pretty bridesmaid at a certain wedding on a certain day last week, you may have noticed that her hair under the fetching hat had a strange look, an oddly disheveled appearance, but I don't believe you ever guessed how narrowly that bridal pocession missed being one maid short.

If you'xe seen the crystal baskets your mother used to make by immersing strings in alum water you may have some slight idea of how the hair looked. The bridesmaid's hair was finally rescued after a fash on, but it wasn't a thing of beauty at the wedding, and it will be weeks before it is what is was before the accident .-Washington Post.

Our President Was Compelled to Refuse Them by Law.

A SULTAN'S GIFT.

On the seventh day of the month of Schawwai, in the year 1254 of the Hegira-which is the Arabian way of lead from the house to the garden, at writing Dec. 25, 1839-the sultan of the American embassy, she met three Omam, whose name was Seyyid or four young attaches of foreign le-Saood, bin ahmend, addressed a gra- gations, who were entire strangers to cious letter to "His Excellency, Martin her, says the St. Louis Globe-Demo-Van Buren, president of the United erat. Their politeness induced them to States of North America," in which he stand aside for her to pass, but their informed the president that he had sent him by the royal ship Sultanee a few trifles as a token of friendship and good feeling, says the Ladies' Home French was an unknown tongue to Journal. These trifles consisted of two Americans. Arabian horses and their groom, one bottle of attar of roses, two pieces of gold, five demijohns of rose water, one Persian carpet, one gold ornament with announced No. 2. a silk tassel, four camel's-hair shawls, one gold-mounted sword, two large pearls, a string of 150 pearls, one gold No. 4. plate, one bottle of diamonds, one gold snuffbox studded with precious stones and one box of mixed pearls and dia-

Under the constitution, the president is prohibited from accepting a personal gift from any foreign state or power, and as the sultan's gifts had arrived in New York and the commander of the Sultanee would not leave the country without presenting his master's offerings an embarrassing complication was the outcome. The matter was finally referred to congress, and after three months of correspondence, red tape, diplomacy and legislation the sultan's Christmas presents were finally accepted; and then the president was put to the trouble of selling the horses, the shawls and the rose-water, while Uncle Sam was given the further trouble of finding a suitable place to store the remaining gifts and was afterward put to great expense in capturing the thief who carried off the entire collection in a bag and was only caught after a long chase.

Colleges Turn Out Spinsters.

Investigators who have been studying the college girl versus marriage make the extraordinary assertion that the percentage of marriages among women collegians falls far below that of the less highly educated woman, says the New York Mail and Express. For example, take one college-Bryn Mawr-and the classes of '89 and '94 for illustration.

Class '89-Ten years out of school, averaging now 32-33 years of age; twenty-six members, eleven married, two studied three years post-graduate to take the degree of Ph. D. Neither of these has married.

Class '94 Five years out of school, averaging now 27-28 years of age; twenty in class; three have married; three studied one year extra to take fellow had rendered the above as foldegree of A. M., one stayed three years lows: to take Ph. D.

held fellowships ten have married, or -Answer.

13 per cent; of 161 graduates thirtynine have married, or 24 per cent; of 225 girls who did not stay to take their degrees thirty-eight have married, or 17 per cent; of 234 A. B.'s thirty-two married, or 14 per cent.

Very few women will agree, however, with the conclusions of the Rev. Dr. E. Winchester Donald, made public in a speech delivered at Abbott cademy. Andover, that the "methods of education followed in nearly all the female colleges make pupils unwomanly and too erudite." They may make them critical and develop their discernment and discretion, two attributes which women greatly need to get along in the world whether married or single, but in the sensible words of one undergraduate is found the true solution of the problem. She says: "Graduates leave college at the age of 21 or 22, and are less likely to rush into marriage. They think longer and look at maternity more seriously. While I have my poor children ever done to must admit that there is a great dif- you?" ference in the percentage of married women who graduate compared to those who do not, I do not think that a girl's erudition scares a young man or creates a desire to remain single, but makes a woman more sensible and restrains her from rushing unheedingly into wedlock."

A Surprise Indeed.

It will come as a surprise to most people to learn that there is a real house of lords in the United States. It is situated in the state of New Jersey, and its members, although citizens of the United States, are, at the same time, vassals of her majesty. Charles II. gave to his brother James the land which is now New Jersey, and James in his turn gave the land to twelve of his friends, with a deed of grant creating them and their descendants lords. The lords meet twice every year in Perth Amboy, in a little two-roomed house erected on the site of the first meeting house, which was erected in 1686. They are summouned by a crier with bell, dressed after the manner of a beefeater. His summons begins with the usual "Hear ye, hear ye, hear ye-all manner of men to whom these presents do come, that in pursuance of his majesty King Charles," etc. The lords, who have been waiting in the outer room, then proceed to the inner, or council cham-ber, where their deliberations are presided over by the lord president.

AMERICAN GIRL'S RETORT.

She May Have Had a Big Mouth, but Was no Fool.

As one of our countrymen was going down the rather narrow stairs that courtesy did not prevent their making audible personal comments. They seemed to take it for granted that

"Look at her yellow dress; it's very pretty," said No. 1.

"Yes, but she has on white gloves,"

She has good teeth," said No. 3. "And an enormous mouth," added

"And she understands French perfectly," said the owner of the enormous mouth, turning suddenly upon them, "and would like to say that her ears are even bigger than her mouth." This in French and with such an air of giving impersonal information to nobody in particular, that it was quite as if she had been kindly helping strangers to information out of a guide book.

The men had just enough presence of mind to flee the premises.

They Didn't Waste Much.

Imagination.

"When I grow up," said Ethel, with a dreamy, imaginative look, "I'm going to be a schoolteacher."

"Well, I'm going to be a mama and have six children," said Edna.

"Well, when they come to school to me I'm going to whip 'em, whip 'em." "You mean thing!" exclaimed Edna, as the tears came into her eyes. "What Still More Counterfeiting.

The Secret Service has unearthed another band of counterfiters and secure a large quantity of bogus bills, which are so cleverly executed that the average person would uever suspect them of being spurious. Things of great value are always selected by counterfeiters for imitation, notably the celebrated Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which has many imitators but no equals for indgestion, dyspepsia, constipation, nervousness and general debility. The Bitters sets things right in the stomach and when the stomach is in good order it makes good blood and plenty of it. In this manner the Bitters get at the seat of strength and vitality, and re-store vigor to the weak and debilitated. Beware of counterfeits when buying.

FRENCH PEOPLE ANGRY.

They Do Not Like Criticisms of Other Nations of Rennes Verdict.

Rennes, Sept. 13.—The Council of Ministers, which met this morning in conference with President Loubet, seriously discussed proposing a law to the next Assembly for the abolition of councils of war in times of peace, which probably will be the government's reply to the Rennes dedisian.

Grave fears are entertained for the health of Dreyfus.

Dr. Posesi, a celebrated physician, after a careful and thorough examination, says the prisoner is a dead man and that his constitution is hepelessly undermixed, despite his calm and outward appearance.

Mentally the condition of Drogfus is reassuring, and in spite of all the physicians say he seems to be better.

The army men, as a rule, heartily acquiesce in the desire that on account of his illness Dreyfus should be par-doned, and not one hard word has been heard against him.

Berlin, Sept. 16.—This has seen a
Dreyfus week in the German capital.
From the beginning the case has been followed with more interest in Ger-many than in any other country in Europe. This is due chiefly to the fact that the Gesman military attacks was necessed of having had relations with fate of their coreligionist, materially contributed to the strong feeling aroused.

The case has been most fully reported from the beginning, and the interest rose to fever heat toward the conclusion. This was further increased by the solemn statement made in the Bioksanzeiger at the eleventh hour by order of the emperor that Germany had no knowledge of Dreyfus. Utter disregard shown for this by the Rennes court-martial caused deep indigna-

PROS. SCHURMAN'S PANDY. Provide of Philippies Commission Says

Mines, N. Y., Sept. 13 .- Excellent Seriousas, upon his return to Gernell University, gave his views area the Philippipe situation.

He said that the extent of the territime ago that he seemed to want the earth.

tory taken in charge by the Waited States was greater than most Americant understood and that he find made a circuit of 2,000 miles without going

Regarding the future pelicy Mr. Schurman said it was a national duty not to turn back, and that the solution he thought best was for Congress to declare what form of government was intended, or to even establish governments medified in detail to conform to

This, he thought, would distinguish between friends and enemies. He be-lieves limited home rule will succeed.

Girl Saves Lives of Three.

Nerfolk, Va., Sept. 12.-Vertie Griggs, 17 years old, a daughter of the lighthouse keeper at Cape Heary, yes-terday saved three girl companions from drowning.

Miss Griggs and the party went bathing directly in front of the station. At this point there is a shelving beach, all were at once carried out.

A heavy swell cast Miss Griggs upon a shoal, where she regained her footing, and saw her companions struggling with the waves. The girl, who is an excellent swimmer, daringly made her way through the big waves, and one by one brought the young women ashore. Then she be gan the work of resuscitation.

Mrs. J. C. S. Blackburn Dead. Versailles, Ky., Sept. 18.—Mrs. Therese Graham Blackburn, aged 50, the wife of former Senator J. C. 3. Blackburn, and who had been in a precarious condition from a complication of heart disease and stemach trouble for some time, died last night.

Mrs. Blackburn was a daughter of Dr. C. C. Graham, a pioneer physician, who once owned Harrodsburg Springs, and who lived to be over 100 years old. She was a bright and attractive wo-

Big Fire at Lincoln, Neb.

Inncoln, Neb., Sept. 16.—Fire which broke out early this morning caused a loss of $500,000. It started in the North block, occupied entirely by printing firms, and spread se rapidly through the building that it was soon apparent that the structure with all its contents would be a total loss. From there it spread to the Masonic Temple, Methodist church and Webster block, which were also destroyed. Several small buildings were also burned. The total loss is fully $500,000.

Smallpox in Army Hospital. San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 17.—Excitement was created at the Desidio to-day by a case of smallpox, which was discovered in Ward 1 of the inilitage hospital. The wictim is a private in the Thirty-first United States Volunteers, whose name Colonel Girard, commanding officer of the hospital, re-

An . Audacious Cavalier.

Alexis Razoumovski, the dashing young lieutenant of "Her Majesty's Own," the crack cavalry corps of the Russian army, surpasses in audacious assurance the D'Artagnan of Dumas' "Three Guardsmen," and the reckless-Prisoner of Zenda." The escapades of this gay cavalier gave Elizabeth Petrovna of Russia no little trouble. His iberation of Maurice de Saxe, Duke of Courland, and pretender to the throne of Russia, forms the central incident of "A Royal Prisoner" which will be pre-sented at the Athens Theatre next Monday evening, Sept. 25, by True S. James and his excellent company. In the role of the gay and debonair Alexis, Mr. James has found a character well suited to his recognized talent as a ro-mantic actor. He has youth, an athletic figure, a strong resonant and musical voice, and his portrayal of the role, which calls for remarkable versatility, has won for him an enviable place as a favorite in the romantic drama.
