VOL. XXV. NO. 37

ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1899.

WHOLE NO. 1294

ALL SUITS OFF.

LIBEL SUIT AGAINST REGISTER DISCONTINUED.

Also Suit Against Allmendinger and The Register Suit for False Imprisonment—Urgent Appeals in the Interest of Harmony Prevail.

When the trial of the suit for libel against THE REGISTER was ready to be called this morning a proposition came to us to settle the cases which, in the interest of party harmony we finally agreed to. The following are the stipulations signed by all parties.

That in the cases above mentioned, now ready for trial in said court, are understood by all parties to be the result of bitter feeling engendered in political combat and all parties confidentially expect to prevail, but many friends of each party dread the contest and predict results disastrous to all concerned and uncomfortable to many not concerned.

While therefore the several parties each insist upon the full justice of their cause they hereby agree for the sole purpose of political harmony and the gratification of their friends to discontinue all suits now pending. And it is also agreed that no one of the parties to this agreement shall publish or cause to be published anything further relating to any question involved in any of said suits, it being the desire of all parties to end farther controversy.

UNIVERSITY MATTERS.

DOINGS ABOUT THE CAMPUS.

The Athletic Meeting.

The annual athletic mass meeting was held in the gymnasium Friday evening. A number of the professors were present and made speeches to an audience of about 1,500 people. The association was about $500 in arrears and an appeal was made which resulted in over $1,500 being turned over to the treasurer. A notable feature was the presence and hearty support of a number of the fair co-eds. They are very enthusiastic and contributed over $100 to the cause. The students altogether gave $1,127 and the business men $389.

The crowd then adjourned to the adjoining part of the campus where the fresh-soph rush took place. As usual the haçum-scarumness of the freshmen brushed the sophomores away without any trouble. The battle was long and fierce and many an unlucky youth and occasionally a professor, lost his hat. Mott Spalding, who was not taking part in the grand steal, was hit by a stone thrown by an angry student and cut badly but not seriously. A town fellow named Brown lost his wheel and a soph. had his collar bone cracked. These were the only special features of the entertainment.

FOREIGN STUDENTS.

The number of students from other countries is larger this year than ever. There are about ten Japanese students and they are everyone smart as a whip. A young lady is among the number. She is studying medicine and expects to practice in Japan. The great need she says, is for Christian Physicians.

Mr. Yin is a full-blooded Chinaman and has only been here three weeks. He also is studying medicine and will probably be instructor in a college when he returns.

There are, besides these, Armenians, Mr. Aluli, an Hawaiian, several Porto Ricans and various other nationalities.

RECENTLY ACQUIRED RELICS.

Among the curiosities sent the university lately is the Spanish mortar which peacefully rests under the Stars and Stripes at the foot of the flag-staff. It was captured during the recent war and presented by Gov. Pingree. 150 years and more have passed since it was cast and it is quite a valuable relic. It is spiked now, though, so that amateur patriots cannot use it.

In museum are several relics of slavery days, a piece of a Chinese tower and an Aztec mill. The latter is simply a three legged stool with one end higher than the other. The Aztec housewife rolled the grain on this and so made the meal. It may be 3,000 years old.

HOUSE SET ON FIRE.

GEORGE WERNER BURNED OUT.

Sunday Morning Fire—Started for Revenge—Colored Tramp Turned Away.

George Werner's house on Packard St. was set on fire early Sunday morning. The house was damaged about $200 worth and the contents ruined. He was insured for $700 in Macomber's agency by the Rockford company.

The cause seems to be that Mr. Werner turned away a colored man who was drunk and persisted in coming back repeatedly simply to make a disturbance. He said that he was looking for a man named Jewells and after he had got Werner out a half dozen times the latter became provoked and kicked him off the porch. The man went away muttering something about revenge. He was about 25 years old, tall and slim and wore a light coat and black sweater.

Mr. Werner's family are visiting in Indiana and he was all alone in the house.

SUPERVISORS' MEETING.

HUNTER CHOSEN PRESIDENT.

Some Measures Taken—The County Jail Matter.

MONDAY.

The board of supervisors convened Monday morning. Mr. Beach, of Lima, was chosen temporary chairman. In the afternoon J. L. Hunter of Ypsilanti was elected president.

The board visited the jail and talked over rebuilding or enlarging and repairing. Some, who have considered the shameful neglect of the institution, proposed to act now but there are some who hang back as usual.

A Sanitary Invention—Will Employ Ten—J. W. Case and A. Crandall the Promoters.

For the past five years J. W. Case of Ypsilanti has been at work perfecting a sanitary mattress. It is composed of eight sections running crosswise and in the ends of them are wire screen ventilators. The stuffing will be the same as in an ordinary mattress. The scheme is pronounced to be all right by those who know.

A company composed of Mr. Case and A. Crandall will manufacture these mattresses in the building formerly occupied by the Commercial Publishing Co. on Huron street. They will employ ten persons and expect soon to double the number. The daily output at first will be ten mattresses. The owners are very well pleased with the outlook.

REPRESENTATIVE MEN.

EIGHT WILL SPEAK ON THE GOOD GOVERNMENT CLUB COURSE.

Trusts, Monopolies and Industrial Combinations Will Be Discussed—Tickets Fifty Cents.

The Good Government Club comes out with a promising list of speakers again this year. They have been secured to speak without any remuneration and so the tickets will be sold for fifty cents each.

Just what the subjects will be and when given cannot be stated but they will run something like this:

Don M. Dickinson, "Our Relations with Great Britain."

Attorney General Mounett, "The Fight with the Standard Oil Company in Ohio."

Wm. Alden Smith, "The Condition in Cuba."

Samuel Gompers, "The eight-hour labor day."

Mayor Jones, of Toledo, "Municipal Reform."

Senator Tillman, "The Race Question in the South."

Besides these Prof. Jeremiah Jenks, of Cornell and Prof. E. W. Bemis, of Columbia are on the list.

Mr. E. S. Cushman, who for the past eight years has been with the Michigan Furniture Co., has recently entered the employ of The E-stey Mfg. Co. of Owosso, and will have charge of their eastern business as traveling salesman. This is said to be one of the largest firms in the world in the manufacture of furniture.

SCHOOL BOARD.

MANY THINGS DECIDED.

No More Tuition in Lower Grades—H. B. Dodsley, Truant Officer—Attendance.

Eight members of the board of Education were present on Tuesday evening and they did business.

First they discussed the tuition question. It was shown that only $150 to $175 was received from that source in ward schools and that it was a source of much trouble; one traveling man was named who avoided stalling here because of school tuition. After some talk it was agreed to drop the tuition in ward schools but to continue it in the high school.

Supt. Slauson's salary was increased by $100 deducted from Prof. Pattengill's salary since the superintendent is doing the latter's work.

A motion was adopted that janitors should be hired under contract and no perquisites allowed.

The singing books to be used as soon as the change can be effected will be the "Natural Readers."

H. B. Dodsley was elected truant officer.

Three rooms in the third and fifth ward schools will be re-seated. The olds for seats were very low and the rooms named need new seats badly.

Prof. Hinsdale, of the pedagogy department in the university, has suggested that his students be allowed to do practical teaching as is done by Harvard students in Cambridge. The matter was referred to the faculty.

The enrollment is 2,155 against 2,032 of last year. The high school has fifty less foreign students than last year.

FROHMAN AND SHAKESPEARE. How a Leading Theatrical Man Sized Up William's Play. Charles Frohman's production of "Romeo and Juliet" is remarkable, first of all because it is by Charles Frohman. The theatrical trust, or so-called syndicate, of which he is the greatest part, has long been credited with anything rather than with an interest in the drama as an art. It is charged that in arranging its multifarious commercial enterprises it tyrannously dictates what its actor-servants shall and shall not do, which, aside from its personal unpleasantness, usually forces our best actors to undergo the soul-destroying ordeal of long runs, such as, for example, John Drew is undergoing in "The Liars," and Miss Maude Adams and James Hackett have lately undergone in "The Little Minister" and "Rupert of Hentzau." Needless to say, it has up to now quietly given Shakespeare roles to the go-by.

The hostile criticism of the syndicate is aptly summarized in an anecdote, emanating, I take it, from the world of player-folk itself, which has been broadly circulated in the metropolis. The anecdote is undoubtedly an invention, but it is more suggestive of the esteem of the syndicate than any array of facts. "Since we are going to do 'Juliet,'" Mr. Frohman is said to have said, "I suppose I'll have to read the play, Jones-Robinson, make me a scenario of it." According to the story, Jones-Robinson did, and Mr. Frohman gave it his best attention. "Confound it!" he said, when he had done, clapping his knee, "that's the corkingest play I've found in a dog's age. Why don't some of you fellows that call yourselves playwrights make me something like that?" The anecdote makes it obvious, among other things, that Mr. Frohman knows a good play when he knows it, like Squere's and that when he knows it, he goes and does it.—Harper's Weekly.

A Story of Gen. Henry. Maj.-Gen. Guy V. Henry, who has been relieved as military governor of Porto Rico, has reached New York. He won't say why he recalled any more than to attribute it to his health and the coming hot weather down there. This coincidence—his refusal to approve certain franchises allowed by the commission but subject to his fiat, and of his being ordered home immediately afterward—he will not explain. Gen. Henry and his wife, who has been with him, are greatly interested in the work of the Colonial Aid Society, and were active in the calling of a mass meeting this last week, in New York, to discuss ways and means for forwarding the work in Porto Rico.

Gen. Henry is a man of stern stuff and not one to retire under fire. Here is an incident from one of his Indian fights on the Big Horn and Yellowstone valleys: "Just as they swept upon the Indians with uplifted sabers, a flying bullet struck Col. Henry in the face. The force of the wild rush carried him on, but he was seen to sway in the saddle. A trooper near him called out hoarsely, 'Are you struck, sir?' Col. Henry tried to wave his sword. 'On, on!' he gasped. 'Charge!' Down under the galloping hoofs of the combatants he lurched.

"He was found at last covered with blood, but life still remained in the bruised body. It was then that one of the other officers condescended with him, saying, 'Colonel, this is too bad. It is too bad!' And it was then that the gallant Henry, suffering untold agony and barely able to articulate, whispered simply: 'It's nothing, Jack. It's what we are here for.'"

Here is a Porto Rican opinion of him: "He is a small man, poor! Small like my son," exclaimed one of the committee of Porto Ricans selected to pay its respects to the new commanding officer of the island, after the ceremony which gave him control, "but his one eye, Madre de Dios! It is like a Mauser bullet when it strikes you."—Boston Journal.

Had It All Down. At a North side boarding-house one of the newly arrived boarders, named Burton, is an expert accountant. The first evening after his arrival he began boring the other boarders by talking "shop," and relating the great feats of mathematics that he had accomplished in his time. Smith, one of the star boarders, made up his mind to rid the parlor of shop talk—at least, for that night. "I have a little piece of addition work that I think you would have a hard time in doing. If you can add it all without aid of a pencil and paper you are a good one." "Name each item, and I will add," said Burton. "Five barrels of cider at $4.50 a barrel. Have you got that down?" "Yes." "Four bushels of bran at 90 cents a bushel. Have you got that down?" "Yes." "Fifteen kegs of horseshoe nails at $2.35, and two strings of garlic at 50 cents a string. Have you got that down?" "Yes; go on." "Six gallons of castor oil at $4.25. Have you got that down?" "Yes." "Sure you've got it all down?" "Sure, I have," said Burton. "H—m! How does it all taste?"

PUT TO THE TEST. Ann Arbor People Appreciate a Good Thing. Everybody has their hour of trouble. But people having any itching of the skin have many hours of trouble. Nothing so irritating, scratching, it, it becomes worse. Leave it alone and you can hardly stand the misery. Eczema and Corrie itching piles. Relief and Cure are here at last. Ann Arbor Has put it to the test. Doan's Ointment cures every form of itching of the skin. People at home are learning that this is so. Here is a proof in a citizen's statement. Mr. C. C. Church, of 520 S. Seventh street says: "I suffered for years from itching hemorrhoids and although I tried everything I could hear of, nothing gave me any relief and at times the trouble was very severe. My attention was called to Doan's Ointment and I got a box of it at Eberbach & Son's drug store. The first application gave me relief from the irritation and in a short time I was completely cured of the trouble. Mrs. Church suffered for years from kidney trouble in a severe form and though she used many remedies and was to a certain extent relieved she never had anything do her the amount of good that Doan's Kidney Pills did. After trying all the most prominent remedies for the kidneys, she unhesitatingly gives Doan's Kidney Pills the preference."

USE OF RICE AT WEDDINGS PRETTY CUSTOM WHICH ORIGINATED IN CHINA. They Have a Clever Little Story As to the Origin and Reason of the Peculiar Custom.

There are very few people who know that the custom of throwing rice at weddings is one borrowed from the Chinese, and fewer still who are cognizant of the superstitious legend that makes the throwing of rice at a wedding considered lucky by the celestials says the New York Herald. This is the story, as told by a Chinaman: "Long ago, in the days of the Shang dynasty, some 1,500 years before the birth of Christ, there lived in the province of Shansi, in China, a most famous sorcerer called Chao. It happened one day that a Mr. P'ang came to consult the oracle, and Shao, having divined by means of the tortoise diagram, informed the trembling P'ang that he had but six days to live. "But P'ang was not satisfied and, in order that there should be no mistake, to the fair Peachblossom he went, a young lady who had acquired some reputation as a sorceress, and to the tender feminine heart unfolded the story of his woe. Her divinations yielded the same result as Chao's—in six days P'ang should die—unless by the exercise of her magical powers she could avert the catastrophe. "Her efforts were successful, and on the seventh day great was Chao's astonishment and still greater his mortification and rage when he met P'ang taking his evening stroll and learned that there lived a greater magician than he. The story would soon get about, and unless he could put an end to his fair rival's existence his reputation would be ruined. "And this is how Chao plotted against the life of Peachblossom. He sent a go-between to Peachblossom's parents to inquire if their daughter was still unmarried, and receiving a reply in the affirmative he befooled the simple parents into believing that he had a son who was seeking a wife, and ultimately he induced them to engage Peachblossom to him in marriage. The marriage cards were duly interchanged, but the crafty Chao had chosen the most unlucky day he could select for the wedding—the day when the 'Golden Phoenix' was in the ascendant. Surely, as the bride entered the red chair the spirit bird would destroy her with his powerful beak. "But the wise Peachblossom knew all these things and feared not. 'I will go,' said she; 'I will fight and defeat him.' When the wedding morning came she gave directions to have rice thrown out at the door, which the spirit bird seeing made haste to devour, and while his attention was thus occupied Peachblossom stepped into the bridal chair and passed on her way unharmed."

And now the ingenious reader knows why he throws rice after the bride; at least, that is how the Chinese explain the custom. Mrs. Cleveland's Veto. An incident which occurred during the first Cleveland administration illustrates the good feeling existing between the newspaper men and the chief of the bureau of naval construction, says the Philadelphia Post. A certain correspondent who was on particularly intimate terms with the chief called at his office and was received with unusual cordiality. Calling the correspondent by his first name, the chief said: "Look here, Blank,"—his appointment to a place in this department, after being fought through two congresses, has prevailed, has been signed by Secretary Whitney and only awaits the signature of the president. You, of all men in Washington, can find out what action the president will take, and I think you know a way to prevent the document being signed."

The correspondent replied: "I think I know a way." He left the building and went for Miss —, who was at that time doing Washington society for The Associated Press. To her he told the story and explained what he wanted done. Miss — obtained an audience with Mrs. Cleveland and told her what she came for. Mrs. Cleveland went to the president's desk and singled out a paper with the remark: "There, I guess that is the one you mean." She turned a corner down and left it.

In the course of his work the president came to the paper and then, in a surprised tone, said to Secretary Lamont: "Dan, do you know anything about this appointment?" Mr. Lamont didn't know anything about it. "Well," said the president, "Frances has evidently turned this down for a purpose; I guess it's all right." And the official signature was not attached.

An Unjustified Suspicion. Mrs. Blimbers—"My husband was awfully angry yesterday. Our girl got hold of his razor and tried to rip some carpets with it. She took the edge off terribly." Mrs. Maundley—"Does your husband shave himself?" Mrs. Blimbers—"Oh, yes, every morning." Mrs. Maundley—"I'm awfully glad to know it. Some of the neighbors have suspected that you were responsible for the horrible condition of his face, and I have even been advised not to associate with you on account of it. Now I shall be able to explain that your fingernails are not at fault."

Prussia's Suicidees. In Prussia only 6,407 of 100,000 attempts at suicide were successful.

NEARLY Fifty-eight Years Old!!! It's a long life, but devotion to rate rests and prosperity of the American people has won for it new friends as the years rolled by and the original members of its family passed to their reward, and these admirers are loyal and steadfast to-day, with faith in its teachings, and confidence in the information which it brings to their homes and firesides. As a natural consequence it enjoys in its old age all the vitality and vigor of its youth, strengthened and ripened by its experience of over half a century.

It has lived on its merits, and on the cordial support of progressive Americans. It is "The New-York Weekly Tribune," acknowledged the country over as the leading National Family Newspaper. Recognizing its value to those who desire all the news of the State and Nation, the publisher of The Ann Arbor Register (your own favorite home paper) has entered into an alliance with "The New-York Weekly Tribune" which enables him to furnish both papers at the trifling cost of $1.25 per year.

Every farmer and every villager owes to himself, to his family, and to the community in which he lives a cordial support of his local newspaper, as it works constantly and untriflingly for his interests in every way, brings to his home all the news and happenings of his neighborhood, the doings of his friends, the condition and prospects for different crops, the prices in home markets, and, in fact, is a weekly visitor which should be found in every wide-awake, progressive family.

Just think of it! Both of these papers for only $1.22 a year. Send all subscriptions to THE REGISTER, Ann Arbor, Mich.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1899.

It is not mere curiosity that is bringing big crowds to the railroad stations through which the president's train passed on its western trip. The enthusiasm of the people is unmistakable. And it is the enthusiasm of approval.—N. Y. Sun.

SECRETARY ROOT struck the nail on the head in his Chicago speech when he said that 30 years of peace had caused round pegs to be put in square holes in the war department and army, and square pegs in round holes. It was the nearest he could come to taking the public into his confidence and showed that he is thoroughly alive to the situation. It is an implied promise to remedy the defect as soon as possible.

CONGRESSMAN HENDERSON, the next speaker of the house of representatives, in opening the republican campaign at Waterloo, Iowa, places himself squarely on record as to his attitude toward the issues of the day and strikes the keynote of the republican national campaign. All through his speech he showed that he is in accord with the administration, which he says is doing all in its power to honestly and wisely carry out the pension laws, and he predicts that at the coming session congress will legislate so as to increase the confidence of the people and establish the gold standard. Regarding the trusts, he says that the republican party will go as far as the constitution will allow in passing laws for their restriction and regulation, and gives it as his opinion that a constitutional amendment, giving the federal government more power, is easily within the lines of possibility. He stands by the administration on the Philippine question and appeals to the patriotism of the people to do likewise. There is no evasion of any question and he accepts on behalf of the republicans of Iowa full responsibility for the acts of his party while in power. The issues are clear cut, and in Iowa, at least, there is no confusion for the voters to unravel.—Exchange.

SENATOR ALLISON of Iowa, in his opening speech in the Iowa campaign, sets forth the position of the republican party in its relations to the great question of trusts. Here is what he says.

"I do not know how it is possible to raise any issue between political parties as respects trusts and monopolies in restraint of trade or for control of products.

"The question as it stands today is, how to deal with the monopolies and illegal combinations, and not whether they should be dealt with at all. The republican party has not hesitated to deal with at all. The republican party has not hesitated to deal with this question in the past as I have shown and who can truthfully say that we shrink from dealing with it now? After all it is a question under our dual form the government how far congress can go or to what extent the states must exercise the power. Congress has tried it and nearly all the states have tried it. Republican and Democratic states have made drastic laws upon the subject.

"In trying to find remedies to remove the vice of trusts and combinations, efforts have been made to find the cause of their origin. Some attribute them to our protective system as reflected in the tariff but if they had their origin in these causes it was late in its development. Free Trade would probably destroy some of them but it but it would destroy our industrial system fabricating more than twelve thousand millions of dollars in value of products annually, at the same time and thus create a much greater evil.

"This is an important question in the evolution of our economic life and deserves to be treated as such, inviting and requiring the highest ability and the best purposes of all parties and of all students for its solution and in the end if the greatest good is to be obtained all these must be invoked. Congress will and the legislatures of the several states will, with the aid of all these lights, through the proper committees and by means of the fairest debates legislate in such way as to minimize, if not wholly eradicate, the evils which are found in these combinations now declared illegal or which may hereafter be declared illegal.

SO MUCH has been said against banks and bankers that it is gratifying to be able to state that they have one virtue as well as a thousand crimes. They have not race prejudice. There is one place in the south, according to Booker T. Washington, where a black man is the equal of the white man. That is in the soulless grasping bank. He says he finds that "If a negro wants to borrow money of the bank in the south he can get it, with equal security, as quickly as the white man can get it." That is as true of banks in the north as in the south. The northern banker takes no heed of the race or religion of the man to whom he loans money. It is all one to him whether he is black or white, Jew or Gentile. At the bar of the bank men are judged by their collaterals, not by their creeds. Booker T. Washington says also: "If you want to find a class of people in the south who today are the most encouraged through the prospects of the race go to the hundreds of colored men who are merchants, real estate dealers, contractors, and successful farmers. They have collaterals and can go to a bank and be on an equality with the white man there if they cannot be elsewhere. So the wisest course for the black man of the south to pursue is to let politics alone and devote himself to the accumulation of collaterals. The more they have the more highly will the white people think of them.—Ex.

THE VALUE of iron and steel and their manufactures exported during August last was $10,317,000, against $7,452,000 for the corresponding month of 1898. The exports of steel rails increased 7,100 tons in the face of an increased price of $4 a ton. Up to the end of August, therefore, the great advance in the price of iron and steel had exerted no depressing influence on exports. The value of iron and steel and their manufactures sent abroad during last August exceeds by $800,000 the value of all imports of those commodities during the first eight months of this year. That is something to be proud of. It must not be forgotten, however, that most of the August shipments were to fill orders made on the basis of the lower prices. Steel rails cannot be purchased now for $23 a ton, which is all that was paid on the average for those sent abroad month before last. The value of exports of iron and steel and their manufactures for the first eight months of this year is $68,000,000, while for the corresponding months of last year it was $52,900,000. The principal articles and their values are as follows:

Buildings' hardware and tools	$5,881,000
Steel rails	3,440,000
Pig and scrap iron	3,039,000
Sewing machines	2,576,000
Locomotives	3,636,000
Pipes and fittings	4,273,000
Steel wire	3,255,000
Electrical and other machinery	9,160,000
Nails and spikes	1,300,000

"Incurable" Heart Disease Soon Cured.

During the last two or three years very great improvement has been made in the treatment of diseases of the heart. Cases formerly considered incurable now readily yield to new remedies. The well known specialist in treating heart diseases, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., of Chicago, will send $2.50 worth of his new Special Treatment free to any of our afflicted readers.

This liberal offer is for the purpose of demonstrating the unusual curative powers of his new Treatment for heart troubles, such as short breath, pain in the side, oppression in the chest, irregular pulse, palpitation, smothering spells, puffing of the ankles or dropsy. It is the result of twenty-four years of careful study, extensive research, and remarkable experience in treating the various ailments of the heart, stomach and nerves, which so often complicate each case.

The Treatment is prepared expressly for each patient, as the result is very much more certain and satisfactory.

Few physicians have such confidence in their remedies. And there is no reason why all afflicted persons should not avail themselves of this liberal offer. No death comes more suddenly than that from heart disease.

Mrs. Frank Smith, of 12 Wabash Ave., Chicago, was cured of heart dropsy, after five leading physicians had given her up. Mr. Keester, of Chicago, was cured after failure of ten able physicians.

A thousand references to, and testimonials from, Bishops, Clergymen, Bankers, Farmers, and their wives will be sent free on request. These include many who have been cured after from five to fifteen physicians and professors had pronounced them "incurable." Among them are H. A. FOUR TRIALS FRUITLESS.

Lack of Wind Has Made Every Effort a Failure So Far.

New York, Oct. 5.—Again "no race" between Columbia and Shamrock. In fact, it was not so much of a race as Tuesday's contest for the possession of the American cup, as then the two boats at least rounded the stake boats and got a good part of the way home before the time limit was called. But to-day neither of the racers had got within three miles of the turning point when the race was given up in disgust, there being only half an hour left in which to make eighteen miles in a breeze which was hardly sufficient to drive a boat a mile an hour.

New York, Oct. 7.—The third trial of speed between the Columbia and the Shamrock in the series of races for the American cup resulted to-day, like the efforts of Tuesday and Thursday, in "no contest."

Neither yacht reached the goal within the time limit, and both vessels must again compete for the first victory in the series of international races off Sandy Hook.

New York, Oct. 10.—The race today was postponed on account of dense fogs and lack of wind.

James Harlan Dead.

Mount Pleasant, Iowa, Oct. 5.—Former United States Senator James Harlan died at 10 o'clock this morning after an illness of several weeks.

James Harlan was born in Clark county, Illinois, but came to Iowa in 1845. In 1855 he was elected to the senate, and re-elected in 1861. In 1865 he resigned to become secretary of the interior, but was returned to the senate in 1866, but was defeated in 1872 by Senator Allison. From 1882 to 1886 he acted as chief justice of the Alabama claim commission, and in 1893 made an unsuccessful race for governor.

Smell of Metals.

It is a generally accepted theory that metals have smells, since if you take up at random a coin from your pocket a smell can be detected. But, says a writer in the Chemical News, as commercial aluminium, brass, bronze, copper, German silver, gold and iron are more and more carefully cleaned they become more and more alike in emitting no smell, and when perfectly clean the sharpest nose can detect no distinguishing smell.

Metals, therefore, have no smell in themselves, but handling one is the surest way of causing it to acquire its characteristic smell. The experiment is easily tried. Clean a penny and then hold in the hand a few seconds; the action will bring out the smell of copper. Leave it for a short time on a clean piece of paper and the odor will be found to be gone. All metals yield to this treatment. Aluminium, tin and zinc smell much the same when rubbed with the fingers, but the odor is quite different from that produced by brass, bronze, copper, German silver and phosphor-bronze, which all give the characteristic copper smell. It is not the warmth of the hands that brings out the smell of metals, for the coins if heated in the sun remain odorless. It is probably the chemical action of the moisture of the hands on the metals.

Head of St. Paul.

What is believed to be a veritable likeness of the Apostle Paul has been found at Rome.

A tourist named Henderson, exploring in the catacombs, found a piece of clay from which projected the edge of a coin. He broke the clod and exposed a medallion, three and three-quarters inches in diameter, well preserved.

On one side was a head clearly outlined, showing fine features and the skull of a man of thought. Around the head were the Latin words: "Paulus Apostolus Vaselectionis."

On the other side another Latin inscription identified in more detail the medallion as intended to present the logician and philosopher of the fathers of the church.

It reads: "Blessed by the most high God is this one from out of the sources of Israel, being a child of Benjamin, and a master mind."

If the belief of Mr. Henderson is confirmed, his discovery is of priceless worth. No portrait from the life exists of any one of the twelve apostles. It is supposed that the author of the Epistle to the Romans was portrayed by an artist at the time of his stay in Rome, and that the coin was preserved by some of the faithful Christians who fled to the catacombs from their persecutors.

HIS FIVE BAD CHILDREN.

Were of no Account Whatever From His Standpoint.

"Some folks has children to brag of, and some don't," said the old man, as we sat smoking our pipes on the doorstep. "I reckoned that my five might amount to sunthin' arter all I'd done for 'em, but I've been powerfully disappointed. Jim was the oldest and he had money 'nuff to go into moonshine whisky and make a fortune at it, but he jest went off to Shelbyville and got to be a lawyer, and wouldn't even sell moonshine to help his old father out. Ten y'ars ago I says to him:

"Jim Perdo, you've disappointed yer father and hurt the feelin's of yer mother, and yer no longer a son of ours. Don't never come home to us no mo'!"

"Bill was next," continued the father. "He was sharp as lightning on a new trade, and nobody could fool him on a hoss. He might hev made a power of money in tradin', but he goes off to Prestonburg and sets up a store and gets into politics. I tried my best to save him, but he was sot, and he wouldn't find no welcome if he should come to see us. Suke was next. She could have married a tin-peddler with $200, and she could hev sued a windmill man for breach-of-promise and got $500, but she goes off to Perrysburg and marries a preacher. She used to come home once a year, but we couldn't use her right and she got discouraged. Joe was next. Lawd! but what a hunter he would have made! He had an eye for b'ars and coon and possums, and he'd never have lacked for what skins would buy, but it wasn't no use to talk to him. He packs up his duds and goes over to Simmondsville, and the last we hears of him he was working for the railroad and lowing folks to boss him 'round. The last was Moses. That boy was the smoothest, slickest, cutest bar ever heard of in these parts, and could also play the fiddle and sing. When the rest of them had gone away and turned out bad I says to Moses:

"My son, you are all what's left, and your pees is dependin' on you. Jest keep right on lyin' and addlin' and singin', and you'll git a reputation as long and an wide as the state!"

"But Moses was the same as the rest. One day he packed up and went off to Birchville, and next we heard of him he was teachin' skule and wearin' white shirts and collars. All gone, sah—all gone—and when I sot down and think what those five children might hev bin, and what they turned out to be, it jest makes me so rip-roarin' mad and put out that I hev to go out and rub my back on the barbed-wire fence and throw clubs at the mevl'!"

Her Idea of Womanhood.

Mrs. William Jennings Bryan, whose experience with her husband as his mascot in an unsuccessful campaign might not augur well for a following of her advice, nevertheless the other day addressed a graduating class of young women and advised the "American woman" thusly:

"Woman has long been a recognized power in the spiritual world, and when one looks into a church in any part of our land and sees how much of the work is done by women, it seems almost superfluous to say that the ideal of American womanhood is attained under a threefold development of the physical, the mental, and spiritual.

"I can not believe that a woman is less womanly if she understands the working of our government, if she appreciates the broad principles upon which a republic rests. Our young men and women are not usually taught to properly value the privileges of citizenship."

Mrs. Bryan—this was before the election in 1896—decided to accompany her husband in his tours. With a bit of feminine superstition she reminded him that in every instance where she had attended assemblies in which he was interested he had won. When she remained away he lost. Politics aside, her devotion to and belief in her husband are touching. Mrs. Bryan is a lawyer as well as her husband, and although she has never practiced in the courts, she has often helped him in the preparation of his cases. She studied law through sheer love of companionship for her husband, and was admitted to the Nebraska bar soon after they arrived there.—Boston Journal.

In an Old Dutch Town.

Some of the quietest and most forgotten of all the villages in the world are found in the interior of Holland, and the people in them have little disposition to keep up with the occurrences in the great world beyond their own doors, says the Youth's Companion. Last year two American men of science visited the little town of Hoorn, in Holland, from which Cape Horn has its name. Schouten, who discovered the cape in 1616, gave it the name of "Cape Hoorn" in honor of his native place.

The two gentlemen knew a little Dutch, but they thought to find some language with which they were more familiar—if not English, then French or German; but not a man, woman or child in the town knew any other language than Dutch.

After they had developed this fact and settled down to Dutch, the local functionary, who was endeavoring to inform them in various matters, said to them:

"You are Americans; what part of America do you come from?" "From New York," they answered. "New York!" he exclaimed. "Then why do you not speak Dutch as I do?"

"How could we be expected to speak Dutch as well as you do?" "Why," said the gentleman, looking surprised, "is not New York a Dutch city? It was founded by the Dutch; surely its people speak Dutch still?"

He was greatly surprised and shocked to learn that in New York Dutch is now a foreign tongue.

It is scientifically affirmed, that in the thirty years which follow the change from the girl to the woman, beginning at fifteen and ending at forty-five, the average woman spends ten years of that time in physical suffering caused by irregular periods, disagreeable drains, female troubles, or other derangements of the functions of the delicate female organs.

There is no opinion or other narcotic, and no alcohol, whisky or other alcoholic stimulant in "Favorite Prescription."

BOERS RETURN TO HOMES.

SCARCITY OF RATIONS SAID TO BE THE REASON.

Report That President Kruger Refused to Proclaim Martial Law When Influence Was Brought to Bear.

Cape Town, Oct. 10.—The Transvaal government has sent an ultimatum to Great Britain.

London, Oct. 10.—A London news agency publishes the following dispatch from Pretoria, filed there at 7:40 p. m. yesterday:

"An urgent dispatch has just been handed to Conyngham Greene, the British diplomatic agent, requesting an explicit assurance of the withdrawal within 48 hours of the British troops from the Transvaal borders, as well as the withdrawal of all the British forces landed in South Africa since the Bloemfontein conference."

London, Oct. 7.—A royal proclamation summoning parliament to meet on Oct. 17 and authorizing the calling out of the reserves was signed this morning.

Her majesty in privy council at Balmoral this morning assented to the calling of parliament, the mobilization of the reserves, and the continuance in the army of all soldiers now serving, who, in ordinary circumstances, would be entitled to discharge or transfer to the reserve.

The war office announces that under the proclamation calling out the reserves, 25,000 men will be summoned.

The field force for service in South Africa, the war office announces, will commence mobilizing next Monday.

It is rumored at Portsmouth that the admiralty will organize a flying squadron for the Cape.

London, Oct. 7.—Most important news comes from the Transvaal to-night, which, if true, indicates that the South African Republic is about to yield, or in any case, that the Boers have decided to abandon all idea of invading Natal.

The news is comprised in a telegram from Newcastle, Natal, which says that farmers who arrived there to-day from the Buffalo River state that the Boers are returning to their homes, heaving patrols along the river. The commandoes still remain on the Orange Free State border.

The dispatch also says that the feeling at Newcastle now is that the Boers do not intend to attack that place and that the evacuation of the town was premature.

A dispatch from Durban also says that the excitement there has abated owing to the Boers holding back from the frontier.

This retirement of the Boers is what the British war authorities have expected, as their defective commissariat would prevent them from long remaining massed along the border.

Pretoria, Oct. 10.—President Kruger, in the course of an interview, said he regarded the situation as grave and considered it exceedingly difficult to predict coming events.

London, Oct. 10.—Kruger is now in a serious dilemma. He has either to take the field when the British are well prepared to fight or see his troops quit the field and return to their homes dissatisfied at the inactivity.

That a raid through Natal was then an easy matter is admitted generally. Now the advantage is gone, as the British are prepared all along the border, and the Transvaal troops are disaffected, if the reports sent to London are true, and are anxious to quit.

Justified in Killing Husband. Chicago, Oct. 8.—A coroner's jury yesterday exonerated Mrs. Mary O'Shay, who shot and killed her husband, Patrick O'Shay, at their residence, last Thursday night, and recommended that she be discharged from custody.

After hearing the story of Mrs. O'Shay and her nine-year-old daughter the jurors declared that the shooting was justifiable. O'Shay reached his residence in a state of intoxication and chased his wife about the house with a knife, threatening to kill her. She got a revolver and warned him not to approach her with the knife. He advanced and she shot him.

Losses 1,000 Freight Cars. New Albany, Ind., Oct. 10.—The Ohio Falls Car Company of Jeffersonville has a tracer out looking for 1,000 freight cars made and supposedly shipped to the Denver and Rio Grande.

It has been the custom to decrease the expense of sending the new cars so far west to have them loaded with freight by some company, and they thus paid their way. When the last shipment was made the cars were loaded by the Pennsylvania company, which now has a famine in rolling stock.

The bill was sent and answer came saying that it would be paid when the cars were delivered. The company at once sent out an agent, who has only succeeded in locating a part of them so far.

ALMOST A MURDERER.

William Slossmaker Shoots To Kill Albert Pierce—He Eludes the Officers.

William Slossmaker, of Webster, escaped because a murderer, perhaps, because he did not shoot straight. Slossmaker ran to his buggy and seized a revolver and while Pierce's back was turned fired at him at a distance of twenty feet. Luckily he missed.

A Great English Statesman's Secret.

The secret of a celebrated English statesman's long life was his systematic way of eating. Every bite was chewed thirty times before swallowing. The result was he naturally enjoyed good health. Most men and women bolt their food, and eat things which were never intended to be eaten. They become constipated, have a bad complexion, lose flesh, are irritable and nervous, and the first thing they know they are "played out." It is gratifying to know that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters cures stomach troubles. It is a purely vegetable medicine that has stood the test of many years. It cures cases which seem to be hopeless. Sufferers from any disorder of stomach, liver or bowels should try it.

NO SERVICES AT JAIL.

Ladies Provoked, Also the Sheriff—He Refuses Them Admittance Henceforth.

When the ladies went to hold services in the jail Sunday they were not admitted. There were only three men in durance vile at that time and one of them is crazy but the ladies were quite put out, literally, and want to get their rights. They talk of getting the pastors and others to help them and see what can be done about it. On the other hand, they have had to remain locked in when the sheriff was busy and have put him to some inconvenience. We don't know the value of stuff-it-down-ism Christianity but it seems as if some peaceful settlement ought to be reached—for the ladies sake.

TRAMPS COST MONEY.

Figures Show What Expenses of Poor Farm Amount To.

The report of the superintendents of the poor has been completed by Tracy L. Towner and the following are some of the interesting parts of it.

During the year the tramps and other outsiders who have been cared for by the county have cost the taxpayers $1,020.17; the county house exclusive of the farm products, labor, etc., has cost the people $3,376.22. For the year the total number of inmates of the county house has reached 76, and there has been an average of 42 all the time. There have been five deaths among the inmates during the year. The average cost of maintaining the inmates, exclusive of the farm and the labor of inmates, has been $1.35 a week. Of the expenses of maintaining the poor, the amount apportioned to Ypsilanti is as follows: First district, $332.27; second district, $350, making a total of $682.27, which the city has to put up for the county poor.

The farm has been managed very well and Mr. and Mrs. Shankland deserve credit for their work there.

Friday 7:15.—Pennmanship. M. S. Farrah will be at the rooms soon after seven and much of the work will be individual. Business letters will be a specialty.

Friday 8 p. m.—Prof. Coler's Bible class. Sunday 3:30—A meeting of interest. Good music, a good leader, friendly young women in a pleasant room. Better come.

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman too it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops. Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from over-exertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all its attendant horrors.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effective remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No gripping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

A Mother's Duty

is to see to it that her children begin early in life to shampoo their heads regularly once a week. In each instance, after the hair is thoroughly dry, some mild, health-giving tonic should be applied to the scalp to aid nature in creating the best possible growth of uniformly colored, lustrous, healthy hair—the most important feature in the make-up of beautiful women and handsome men. For more than fifteen years, the

A vast amount of mischief is done, too, because people neglect to keep their blood pure. The mischief appears in eruptions, dyspepsia, indigestion, nervousness, kidney diseases, and other ailments. This mischief, fortunately, may be undone by the faithful use of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which cures all diseases originated in or promoted by impure blood.

The Wonderful Ganges.

One of the Greatest Rivers of the World, It Flows Through India as a Healing Stream of Health.

For hundreds of years the natives of India have considered their great river, the Ganges, pure and holy. A marvelous discovery has lately been made that its water will kill the most deadly disease germs, even of cholera, within six hours, and that it is really a stream of health flowing through the land. A wonderful discovery was made 25 years ago in this country of a liquid that will quickly kill fatal disease germs, which is called Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. This medicine was made to cure all diseases of the chest, throat and lungs. It is now known that these diseases are commonly caused by very small germs that fasten upon the mucous membranes of throat and lungs. No medicine will cure these diseases which will not cleanse, soothe, and heal the inflamed membranes and kill the disease germs. This is just what this royal cure does. It will stop the most obstinate cough, give rest to the throat, and induce refreshing sleep. It cures Colds, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Pleurisy, Hemorrhage, La Grippe, Lung Fever, Asthma, Hay Fever, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. It never fails to cure Consumption when taken in time, and many letters have been received proving that it has cured consumptives who had been given up to die by doctors. Read what Mrs. Ella F. Sweet, of Polo, Ill., says. She writes: "I can truly say that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best medicine that is made. It cured me of throat trouble that I had suffered with for years. My brother had asthma very bad and it cured him. It cured my uncle, who believes it has no equal, and many others that I advised to use it." Ask for it and take no substitute. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Money back if not cured. A trial bottle free.
