CHRISTIANITY AND LAW.

partment, discussed the question, "Is sist of the president and the deans of Fidelity to Christian Principles Convith Successful Practice of Law?" before the business men's class Sunday morning.

He showed how the lawyer has come to be regarded as a villian by nature and how the man has been forgotten. The two reasons for this, he said, are because there actually are bad men in the profession and because the true duties of the lawyer are not understood. "There are rascals in every vocation and if there are more in law than othgreater, but he is the best and most successful lawyer who is guided by lege, and many of the associations are Christianity." MISSION INSTITUTE.

W. H. WAGGONER AT CHURCH OF CHRIST.

A New Idea In Missions-Non-Sectarian-Scientific View of the Problem.

Beginning next Sunday evening W. H. Waggoner will deliver a week's lectures on missions at the Church of Christ. Mr. Waggoner is literally a 'specialist on missions" and his lectures are thoroughly scientific, being given from a non-sectarian point of view and with an educational purpose. He has a very complete equipment of maps, charts and curios from all parts of the world and carries a phonograph to make still more real the pictures.

Mr. Waggoner inaugurated this work in 1894 and for two years did the work during vacations from college. Afterward he decided to make it a lite work and has lectured through the most of the eastern and central states. The lectures are free. Following is the program:

Sunday night-Subject to be announced.

Monday night .- "The world in Minature. Old Testament Missions." Tuesday night-"Africa. New Tes-

TRAIN ROBBED NEAR CHICAGO

Hold Up Fast Through Passenger Train and Secure Large Booty.

Chicago, Oct. 14.-Masked robbers, four in number, held up and robbed United States mail and American Express train No. 9 of the Northwestern railway shortly before midnight, between Elburn and Maple Park, forty-six miles from Chicago.

They seized Telegraph Operator
James at tower "W" and after overpowering and binding him, dropped the red light, which stopped the fast

The express car was so badly wrecked by the explosion that the wrecking crew had to be sent out from Chicago to clear the road.

The robbers, after securing their plunder, forced Dan White, the engineer, and his fireman to dismount from the engine. They detached it from the train and ran it two miles down the track, where they left it. They disap-peared in the darkness and comfields. Train No. 9 forms part of the fast transcontinental mall which was recently established to run between New York city and San Francisco. The train leaves Chicago every night at 10 iills." o'clock and carries an express car, two mail cars, and a storage car, the latter used by the trainmen. The running time of No. 9 is over a mile a minute, scheduled between here and

Negroes and Indians Fight. Pina, Ariz., Oct. 14.-Last night colored soldiers stationed at San Carlos reservation, disguised themselves as Indians and, slipping up on a band of Apaches, camped near the post, attacked them with clubs and bayonets.

The Indians made a brave resistance, but were literally beaten down with clubs, until many were seriously injured and four were dead. The sur-vivors fied to the mountains. An alarm was sounded at the post, but a majority of the soldiers escaped back without being found out.

The attack was caused by the ne-groes attempting to abduct two Indian women. The Indians attempted to retaliate by torturing a negro in Indian style, and the attack followed.

Dangers in Great Cities.

Chicago, Oct, 14.-A cable car ran amuck in Wabash avenue yesterday when the street was crowded with shoppers, smashed two wagons, killed one horse and crippled another, and burt six persons more or less seriously. The grip became entangled in a loose strand of the cable as the car left Adams street at 1:30 o'clock, going south, and the gripman was unable to stop the train or slacken its speed. It crushed into wagons ahead of it, de-molishing them, hurting the drivers, and injuring several passengers on the train. After going two blocks the train was brought to a stop by the breaking of the cable.

CRANE AS A CORRESPONDENT Very Clever As a Writer and Very Cool Under Fire.

Near the close of the war a group of a list of the events which, in their opinion, were of the greatest news value during the campaign, and a list of the correspondents, with the events each had witnessed credited to his name, says Richard Harding Davis in Harper's Magazine. Judged from this "How was that?" asked a basis, Mr. Crane easily led all the rest. Of his power to make the public see what he sees, it would be impertinent to speak. His story of Nolan, the regular, bleeding to death on the San Juan hills, is, so far as I have read, the most valuable contribution to literawriters would have handled it, to ap-ture that the war has produced. It is only necessary to imagine how other preclate that it could not have been better done. His story of the marine at Guantanamo, who stood on the crest of the hill to "wigwag" to the warships, and so exposed himself to the fire of the entire Spanish force, is also particularly interesting, as it illustrates that in his devotion to duty, and also in his readiness at the exciting moments of life, Crane is quite as much of a soldier as the man whose courage he described. He tells how the marine stood erect, staring through the dusk with half-closed eyes, and with his lips moving as he counted the answers from the warships, while innumerable bullets splashed the sand about him. But it never occurs to Crane that to sit at the man's feet, as he did, close enough to watch his lips move and to be able to make mental notes for a later tribute to the marine's scorn of fear, was equally deserving of praise. Crane was also the coolest man, whether army officer or civilian, that I saw under fire at any time during the war. He was most annoyingly cool, with the assurance of a fatalist. When the San Juan hills were taken, he came up them with James Hare of Collier's. He was walking leisurely and, though the bullets passed continnously, he never once ducked his head, He wore a long raincoat and, as he stood peering over the edge of the hill, with his hands in his pockets and smoking his pipe, he was as unconcerned as though he were gazing at a cinematograph. The fire from the enemy was so heavy that only one troop along the entire line of the hills was returning t and all the rest of our men were lying down. Gen. Wood, who was then colonel of the rough riders, and I, were lying on our elbows at Crane's feet, and Wood ordered him also to lie down. Crane pretended not to hear and moved farther away, still peering over the hill with the same interested expression. Wood told him for the second time that if he did not lie down he would be killed, but Crane paid no attention. So, in order to make him take shelter, I told him he was trying to impress us with his courage and that if he thought he was making me feel badly by walking about, he might as well sit down. As soon as I told him he was trying to impress us with his courage he dropped on his knees, as I hoped he would, and we breathed

Dr. and Mrs. McDonald are now in Chicago, where he is taking a post-graduate course in medicine. The marriage license was suppressed. Miss Farris was living at the home of her father, who is a butcher. The marriage ceremony was performed at the doctor's house.

Both sisters are beautiful women. Dr. McDonald met his first wife while she was his patient. She was then married and her name was Wherritt, but secured a divorce and married Dr. McDonald. It was two years ago that Dr. McDonald first sued for divorce, This suit was dismissed and the public supposed the doctor and his wife had patched up their differences, when a second suit was filed. A divorce was granted only a few weeks ago. While McDonald was having so much trouble with his wife, he confided to a certain extent in the younger sister. Through this association they fell in love with each other and the marriage followed. "I knew nothing of the marriage." are married, I suppose everything is for the best."

Queen Elizabeth's Lodge.

Visitors to Epping forest will hear with interest of the proposed restoration of Queen Elizabeth's lodge at Chingford, a quaint little hunting box, probably used by that sovereign while taking part in the chase in the forest. It consists of three floors, of which the highest is a spacious and lofty apartment, most likely used for rest and refreshment, while the others were probably dressing rooms and apartments for the attendants. For the last few years the principal apartment has been utilized as an antiquarian museum by the Essex Field Club, and, as such, attracted large numbers of visitors. The exhibits have now outgrown the present accommodations, and the lodge will consequently be further opened up to the public. Prior to the building coming into the possession of the corporation, it had been "restored" in such a way as to conceal all vestiges of the past, but the new plaster ex crescences will be now removed and the place put in something like its original condition, which needed no improvement.

ONLY A HINT NEEDED.

Susan Knew How to Bring Jim Around to the Point,

The best-looking girl in the Pine mountain country was Susan Natter, and Susan was extremely, not to say foolishly, fond of Jim Davis, a young man who was my chief timberman in the season, and who owned and conducted a good farm in the river bottom as a side issue. Jim was the catch of the mountains, and, like other men in that happy class, he was careless and stood a fair chance of losing what ought to be his because he was too sure of it. Susan was just the girl for him, but he had almost worn out her patience by his dillydallying policy, and one day I thought the end had surely come, and it was all up with Jim, who was a favorite of mine, as a winner of the Susan stakes.

"I want to see the best dress pattern you got in the store, colonel," she said to me as I sat out in front of the ly. commissary store one day, "and bein' mighty pertickler, I want you to walt she added, with a smirk not usual to Susan.

"Oh, indeed." I said chaffingly, going around behind the counter. "Something must be going to happen."

"I reckon thar is," she admitted,

"Good for you," I laughed, "and I'm glad that Jim has got his senses at

"By the way, Jim," I said, "did you know Susan Natter was going to get married?"

"Thunderation, colonel, no," blurted out. "Ner she ain't, is she?" "I guess she is. I sold her a wedding dress this afternoon and she told me she was."

"Who's she goin' ter marry, colonel?" he asked, anxiously. "I don't know. She wouldn't tell

"Who is it?"

"Me," and he laughed the short laugh of the man who had been made to do what he knew he should have done, and what he most wanted to do. "Oh!" I exclaimed. "Is that it?" And later I discovered that Susan had devised a pretty little feminine scheme to bring Jim to the point, and by my unwitting, but by no means unwilling, assistance, she had succeeded fully .-Washington Star.

at Markham, Canada, evidently bas firm faith in the divine right of kings, at least when applied to Queen Victoria. A recent issue of the above named papes devotes two and a half columns including a long geneological table in which an attempt is made to the site of the proposed Ann Arbor show that Victoria is a direct lineal descendant of David, king of the Jews.

The article is attributed to Prof. Totten of Yale cellege and is interesting to say the least.

THE health board should take some steps to abate the miserable smoke nuisance that is likely to prevail all over the city until the leaves from the thousands of trees within the city are burned. It seems strange that these leaves are not used as a fertilizer. There is none better. Every garden in the city would be benefitted by a heavy coat of leaves. But no, these leaves must be used to produce a sickening smudge which lasts for weeks every fall. Something should be done

THE REGISTER is in receipt of a communication from a well-known business man urging that the dust nuisance on the Main street pavement be abated by a better method than is now in vogue His idea is that two firemen should be detailed every morning to take a hose and thoroughly flood the pavement from one end to the other thus wash ing it perfectly clean. This he declares would end the dust on the street for the day and would be cheaper than sweep ing and sprinkling and the miserable slime that results form the latter. It would be a good scheme to try it.

THE ARGUS is laboring hard at the oar to stir up another row among Re publicans, well knowing that future victory depends wholly upon the opposition being divided. It has no scruples whatever as to what it says, if it can bring dissension in Republican ranks As a result, utterly oblivious to the truth, The Argns pretends that THE REGISTER and its editor gave up some thing when the suit for libel was dropped. It is about time the poor old Argus realized that people can see through its assumption that THE REG-ISTER ever yields an iota when it knows it is right. The funny efforts of Beakes, Hammond, Freuauff, Cramer, Haller, et al, who guide The Argus ship o state, to help Democracy by attempt ing to make trouble among the opposition, are indeed laughable. This great phalonx of editorial ability makes people laugh. Our five-headed editorial brothers should try some new tact. It would accomplish more for its party and appear less ridiculous.

Webster.

The Webster Farmers Club met on Saturday Oct. 14 at the residence of Wm. Scadin. Quite unusual was the weather which was warm and clear.

The genial sun glowed warmly through the frost tinged foliage. At noon, the members and friends of the club had thronged the lawn about the residence, or wended their way into the inner apartments of the house. The announcement for dinner was greeted with a hearty good cheer. Twas not long before the guests had at last realized that pleasure of tasting the delicacies bestowed by woman upon them. The twitter of conversation mingled with the rattle of cutlery dreamed the moments away. Some people talked of social affairs or of the blessings of the hour, others of war and politics. The indulgence in social intercourse lasted for an hour or more. The clemency of the weather was sufficient cause for the assembling of everybody on the lawn, for the deliberations of the day.

President Merrill at 2 o'clock called the meeting to order. After a report of the proceeding meeting, which consisted chiefly of an address by commissioner of schools W. N. Lister, a reading was rendered by Miss Eliza Smith on "Ezekial and the Oxen." Miss Julia Ball followed by a recitation entitled "Philosophy."

Prof. A. D. Dewitt of Dexter read a paper on "Female Education." He began by saying that 75 per cent of his pupils were girls, and hence the existence of a question for discussion. The Professor went back to ancient times and traced the history to the present. In Egypt, which had a civilization 4000 years before Christ, there was a high culture; women were equal to men. They had estates of their own married women could control property. They became scribes, queens advocates, they knew all things knowable. All other nations remained in ignorance.

In Babylon, the people were very ignorant. Women were rarely ever educated.

Among the Hindoos a woman was a slave. We remark that where this is so the nation is a third or fourth rate nation. The chief end is to perpetrate the race. The Hebrew children were taught history and literature. They had an educated priesthood. The synagogue is the prototype of the modern parochial school. These schools soon became more common. The Hebrews were the first to educate the women. Regarding her station, read Ex. 15, Judges 5, 1 Sam 1. Women held public offices.

In Greece the Æolian takes the lead. Bodily perfection was sought for. Sparta is noted for her training girls as well as boys. It was the work of women to fit soldiers for the state. Athens too had education as a state concern, but women were excluded. Her only education came from her husband. She led a lonely life.

In Rome there was much respect for women. Both boys and girls were educated. Every opportunity for education was offered, but the women did not avail themselves of it. The convents furnished education for all. Girls were taught to sew.

Brussels had a school for boys and girls in the 14th century, but it was not uted and promises many good things. till the Reformation that free schools were realized. It was Martin Luther who saw that women were quick to preceive the teachings of Jesus. They were alert and active in study and hence schools were soon established. Schools were revived in the Thirty result. Years War. It was left to women who were thus educated to overcome the prejudice against women.

In England schools sprung up everywhere, such as Queen's College, Cambridge and London Universities. The latter conferred degrees on women in fund the money on a fifty cent bottle 1882. There was also established a of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if Teachers' Guild. Coeducation is not looked upon with favor. But the women bottle to prove satisfactory or no pay are educated in private schools.

In Germany Fraulein Lang was the leader to open up advantages for wonen. In Prussia, many girls worked their way up by examination. But there is a sentiment prevalent against the higher education of women.

University of Paris is favorable to in Delhi will be keps up as usual. women. (The professor in his hasty France for school purposes.)

Russia has been in the background for 25 years. But lately a female college was started at St. Petersburg. Spain has a good system of coeducation. In Sweden, the university was opened to women in 1873. In Holland there is no restriction but as in Rome, the women did not avail themselves of the op-

But now for the United States, the Pilgrims were intensely interested. They planted their schools. The professor passed rapidly on and took up hastily the reports of the commissioner of education bearing on the subject. He showed that the percentage of wo-men in schools is rapidly increasing. 70 per cent of teachers are women. We talk nowadays about heredity, but there is no greater influence than the mother's. There was once a vicious mother who had 200 descendents of criminal character. The educated mother could also have as lasting an influence in the other direction. Would it not therefore be better to have the state take some part in the education of its women and turn the tide? Has not woman a soul to educate as well as man? And if it is profitable to educate a man, is it not a woman?

Talking about co-education, why we have that in the home. The boys who have no sisters are coarse and unrefined. The girls without brothers are shy and untrained. The boys and girls brought up together are better development. oped into manhood and womanhood.
Hence it is better in school. In 1871, the U. of M. first admitted women.
Long before this Mrs. Julia Dexter
Stannard tried admission but failed, but she has lived to see three of her bildren one a girl graduate from the children, one a girl, graduate from the institution. The lives of men and women are so interlinked that they of Capen and H. W. Cheney, Detroit, necesity must be closely related. The Lock for bicycle stands; D. A. Daly, necesity must be closely related. The girls are daughters of their fathers, and boys sons of their mothers. Surely the day is coming when more shall avail themselves of higher education. General discussion followed, and some witty pleasantries were indulged in. Mr. Wm. Ball was called upon and spoke of the deterorating effect on society by educating women, for this leaves so many ignorant mothers to bring up the children. The country therefore is filled up with illiterates. Again there are certain duties women cannot perform as warring against our enemies. The dangerous part is not taken by women. Rev. Mr. Moorehouse held that if the education of women detreeted her four her househeld. Kalemaron Vehicle heaten men detracted her from her household

COVER SEVENTY-FIVE MILES IN-SIDE AN HOUR.

A Regular News Service Is Carried on Between Santa Catalina Island and Los Aageles, California.

Santa Catalina island lies between 25 and 30 miles off the mainland, and Avalon, the principal town, is about 50 miles from the city of Los Angeles as the crow flies, and can be reached by train and steamer in three hours and a half. On account of its fishing, fine scenery, and other attractions, it has become a favorite resort, and in the summer Avalon has a population of 5,-000 or 6,000.

Several years ago it was found desirable to have telegraph facilities. This meant an outlay of a good many thousand dollars, owing to the great depth of the Santa Catalina channel, so some other plan of communication had to be devised. A pigeon fancier in Los Angeles, a Swiss named Zahn. suggested the use of pigeons, and the plan was put into operation. Birds were taken to the island and bred, and when of age they were given to the purser of the daily steamer, who at first liberated them at half a mile, then at two miles, five, 10, 20 miles, and finally at San Pedro. There they were handed over to the conductor of the Los Angeles train on successive days, and their education continued day after day until they would return from their coop in the heart of Los Angeles directly to the island.

All this time the education of an opposite flying flock was being carried on. After months of careful work in training the birds and eliminating poor ones the Santa Catalina aerial news service was complete. The birds were employed in various ways. Dispatches were sent from the island every day, and at 3 in the afternoon a daily budget of news was forwarded by the birds to a Los Angeles paper. This was written on very thin sheets of paper and fastened by an aluminium ring. All being ready the birds were released, one carrying the news and two or three others going as a guard, for bawks, it appears, rarely attack a group of birds, while one is more or less in danger.

When released the birds immediately began to circle upward with long, sweeping flight, rising in a few moments to a height of 800 or 900 feet, then either seeing the mainland, or by Instinct recognizing the direction, they turned and like arrows shot from a bow, disappeared across the waste of waters. The trip has been made in 55 minutes, but an hour and a quarter was the average time-required for the delivery of a message, and in very few instances was there a mistake. Sportsmen once or twice shot birds by mistake, and once the birds were delayed by a violent sandstorm.

When the pigeons arrived in Los Angeles they announced their presence by an electric bell which they rang on pressing open the door of their house. The owner immediately answered the bell, relieved the bird of its message, and delivered it, and started another bird back with the answer as soon as itawas received. In this way it was possible to send a message and receive an answer almost as quickly as by wire.-New York Sun.

Effect of Red.

Why does the bull so strongly object to a red rag? While the professional physiologists do not as yet appear to have found any satisfactory explanation of the fact, a French manufacturer of photographic materials professes to have discovered that buils are by no means the only members of the animal kingdom who are excited by anything red. A large number of hands are employed in the manufactory, both male and female, and most of the work has hitherto been performed in rooms to which all the light that was admitted came through panes of red glass. The invitations men, now between two of the women; sometimes the melee was general. "Workshop regulations were absolutely ignored and no amount of fines or other punishments seemed to have any permanent deterrent effect. This state of affairs was assumed, until recently, to be inseparable from work carried on in uncomfortable conditions. At length it occurred to some bright spirit that the red panes of glass might be at fault, and it was decided to try what the effect of green panes would be. The effect was instantaneous. From that day a sudden peace fell upon the whole workshop that had never been known before. Bickering and fighting ended as if by enchantment, and the voice of a man or woman was never heard raised above a whisper.-New York Press,

Need of Timber Supply. News that the Philippine archipelago contains a wealth of timber will be encouraging to those who have been worried by the rapid exhaustion of the forests in the United States. By far the greater part of the white pine has been cut, and vast inroads have been made into the supply of other timbers. While timber is being cut in Europe at the rate of 20,000,000 tons a month the forests of the United States are being depleted at the rate of 50,000,000 tons a month. Forest reservations have not had the slightest pain since taking been made, but timber is in increasing demand by reason of the new uses that have been found for it. A fact is always hedged about with proof: has to stand the test of investered the same courtesy to their proof; has to stand the test of investigation or it drifts to the realm of friends on behalf of their daughter. Ordinarily, however, the cards are in the conventional form. The hour chosen is usually 5 o'clock in the afternoon. A musical chime rings the hour as the bride reaches the cathedral. The organ within breaks suddenly into a wedding march. The old beadle, wearing a scarlet coat and cocked hat, precedes the bridal pair up the aisle. The groonsmen follow, and then the bridesmaids, the maid of honor, and the tiny flower-girl; finally the bride, pale and l' ely, on her father's arm. The great altar glows with candles.

The priest, in gorgeous vestments, attended by acolytes and choirboys, steps forward with the bridegroomthe selfsame priest who anointed the bride's forehead with baptismal oil and has blessed each onward step of her life. He addresses the youthful pair in homely, paternal fashion, recalling their religious vows, enjoining upon them a faithful performance of their home duties. Then in sonorous tones he recites the stately ritual of the church and gives the nuptial benediction. The voice of some singer thrills the air, while chosen friends pass up the chancel to sign the parish register. An invitation to "sign" for the bride or groom is an honor conferred only on ntimate friends or distinguished guests.-Ladies' Home Journal.

Yankee Yacht Crosses the Line Far Ahead in First Contest.

New York, Oct. 17.-Within half an hour after the start, which was a good one, Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht was disabled by the breaking of her topmast, and was obliged to give up the race, while the Columbia, under the rules governing contests for the international trophy, proceeded to sail over the course alone. At the time of the acci dent the cup defender was leading the challenger by several boat lengths.

New York, Oct. 16.—The Columbia finished at 3:54 p. m., passing over the starting line a mile ahead of the Shamrock.

New York, Oct. 14.-Like its predecessors, the seventh effort for a contest between Shamrock and Columbia proved a failure. What little wind was blowing in the forenoon died away entirely at noon, and the judges declared the race off. The next effort is scheduled for Monday.

ONLY ONE CURE FOR SCROFUL

S. S. S. is the Only Remedy Equal to this Obstinate Disease.

There are dozens of remedies recommended for Scrofula, some of them no doubt being able to afford temporary relief, but S. S. S. is absolutely the only remedy which completely cures it. Scrofula is one of the most obstinate, deep-seated blood diseases, and is beyond the reach of the many to-called purifiers and tonics because something more than a mere tonic is required. S.S.S. is equal to any blood trouble, and never fails to cure Scrofula, because it goes down to the seat of the disease, thus permanently eliminating every trace of the taint. The serious consequences to which Scrofula surely leads should impress upon those afflicted with it the vital importance of wasting no time upon treatment which can not possibly effect a cure. In many cases where the wrong treatment has been relied upon, complicated glandular swellings have resulted, for which the doctors insist that a dangerous surgical operation is necessary.

Mr. H. E. Thompson, of Milledgeville, Ga., writes: "A bad case of Scrofula broke out on the glands of my neck, high had to be langed and caused me much suffering. I which had to be lanced and caused me much suffering. I was treated for a long while, but the physicians were unable to cure me, and my condition was as bad as when I began their treatment. Many blood remedies were used, but without effect. Some one recommended S. S. S., and I began to improve as soon as I had taken a few bottles.

Continuing the remedy, I was soon cured permanently, and have never had a sign of the disease to return." Swift's Specific—

—is the only remedy which can promptly reach and cure obstinate, deep-seated blood diseases. By relying upon it, and not experimenting with the various so-called tonics, etc., all sufferers from blood troubles can be promptly cured, so-called tonics, etc., all sunerers from blood troubles can be promptly cured, instead of enduring years of suffering which gradually but surely undermines the constitution. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable, and never fails to cure Scrofula, Eczema, Cancer, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood Poison, Boils, Tetter, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers, etc. Insist upon S. S. S.; nothing can take its place.

Books on blood and skin diseases will be mailed free, to any address by the Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

The secret of a celebrated English statesman's long life was his systematic way of cating. Every bite was chewed thirty times before swallowing. The result was he naturally enjoyed good health. Most men and women bolt their food, and eat thiqgs which were never intended to be eaten. They become costive, have a bad complexion, flesh, are irritable and nervous, and the first thing they know they are "played out." It is gratifying to know that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters cures stomach troubles. It is a purely vegetable medicine that has stood the test of many years. It cures cases which seem to be hopeless. Sufferers from any disorder of stomach, liver or bow-els stould try it.

NERVOUS DISEASES TREATED FREE.

The Celebrated Physician and Specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL B., of Chicago, ment Free to Each of Our Afflicted Readers.

Our afflicted readers will certainly never have a better chance to try a new and highly recommended Treatment for Headache, Dizziness, Dullness, Neuralgia, Backache, Weak Stomach, Weak Heart, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Prostration, Numbness, Cramps, etc.

Dr. Miles' Special Treatment is the for a time finally settled in Oklahoma latest result of twenty-five years of The first Wesleyan Guild lecture where he has been very successful. He laborious investigation and extensive 1000. experience, and his New Treatment is the number last year.

South Huron St is being paved with eminently scientific, and three times as successful as the usual methods.

Many hundreds of prominent people have testified to the almost miraculous results of this new treatment. The Doctor has for years been well and favorably known as a leading specialist in these diseases, and his offer should certainly be accepted by our afflicted readers

Mr. C. M. Buck, a prominent banker of Farlbault, Minn... was cured after six prominent physicians of Chicago and elsewhere had failed. Mr. J. S. Zent, of Indianapolis, State Representative of the New York Life Insurance Co., was cured after failure of many physicians. Rev. C. H. Young, of Chicago, was cured of constant headache, sleeplessness and nervous prostration after several specialists failed.

Dr. Miles has had twenty-tour years' experience, and is well and favorably known throughout the country. He has an able and extensive corps of assistants and investigators in his laboratories. He has patients in every State, Territory, Canada and Mexico. He cordially invites the afflicted to write to and had an armed possee in waiting.

You may never have another such an opportunity. Do not fail to write for $2.50 worth of free treatment. Address Dr. FRANLLIN MILES, corner Adams and State Streets, Chicago.

Robert G. Ingersoll.

Robert Greene Ingersoll, born in an obscure town 66 years ago, is to-day mourned wherever Christian civilization has a voice on this globe. His was a nature so gentle, so upright, so honest, so loving and fair, that he knew no fear.

Ingersoll. 'Tis altogether fitting that another genial. gentle soul, whose writings have sweetened the lives and lifted the burdens of the tollers of earth, should write his epitaph, and it will read:

An honest man here lies at rest, As e're God with his image blest The friend of man, the friend of truth, The friend of age, the friend of youth; Few hearts like his to virture warmed Few heads with knowledge so informed.
