ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN

Lens Lyrics

Visitors come and go daily in the building, but we'll all agree we were happiest to see Isabelle Watson. Of course, Sandy too. They spent a busy day meeting all their friends once again. We are looking forward to their next visit, and hope we won't have to wait too long for it.

They say June is the month of brides, but according to the girls in the Assembly, September seems to be running it a close second. On September 7th, Dorothy Lang was married to Harry Barth in Garden City. The Department extends hearty congratulations to both of them. Another pretty wedding that took place on September 7th was that of Dorothy Morrison to Richard Tice. They were married at the St. Thomas Church with the Rev. Father Allen officiating. Later in the evening, a reception was held at Gleaners Hall. The Assembly Department was well represented to wish the couple lots of good luck and happiness in the future.

The next bride-to-be is none other than our Shirley Montgomery. She will marry Robert Koebnick on October 21st. To date Shirley has been honored with two nice showers. Of course we wish her lots of happiness.

We also are happy to greet our two newcomers, Bob Barnes and Ted Schneider. We hope they enjoy their work here in the Assembly. Lucky boys, working with all these Gals! They can't miss. The girls all agree it's good to see some male faces around again.

The Old Maids Corner wish to welcome Ruth, Janet and Edna.

Two girls who visited Niagara Falls over Labor-Day week end were Rosie and Alyce. They both agree it's the best for that future honeymoon. How-Rosie enjoyed Canada just as much. I wonder why?? Tell us more Rosie.

Esther McAuliffe plans on leaving us soon to join her husband in Japan. Right now she's a busy girl reading up on what to take with her. Sharing in her enthusiasm is her little daughter, Carol. We'll miss you, Esther, but hope with you that you'll be having that Thanksgiving dinner with Jack.

One guy we swear can be in two places at one time is Red Peterson. Just ask anyone that tries to catch up with him. When we want him, we catch him on the way back. He really moves fast.

Up until now, the new girls have been leaning toward the brunette side. Lately, Eddie's been favoring the blondes. Redheads are next in line. Oh well, variety is the spice of life!

Publicity

Mr. W. E. (Ed) Drury, former Navy Pilot, is now associated with Argus as an incumbent representative of Henry A. Loudon—Advertising.

The "Champ"

So proudly we hail Walter "Red" Weid, 1946 Men's City Golf Champion. Capturing Golf Titles is nothing new to this Argus Production Engineer, as he was christened City Golf Champ in both 1941 and 1944. "Red" has been a finalist 8 times, and this year's victory cinches possession of the trophy. For the information of the Argus golf enthusiasts, the Champ shot a 73 in the first round, 73 in the second round, 72 in the third round, 71 in the semi-finals and a "rainy day" 77 for the pay off.

"Red" has won not only a Golf Title and Trophy in Ann Arbor, but also the sincere admiration of his many friends at Argus. Good work, "Red"!

Sales Slips

Hurray! The Sales Department is represented in the Bowling League this year. We are all keeping our fingers crossed for Clair Royal, Marg Kennedy, Ann Kachula, Theresa McCarthy and Evelyn Navarre, who are now officially known as the PIN TOPPLERS! This team will, of course, take all the prize money this season and if you don't think so, just mosey over to the 20th Century Alleys any Wednesday . . . We know you'll want to join the cheering section. Good luck, Gals!

You just can't win. Dictaphone dopster Irene Schneider found it out the hard way. She made it known that she wanted coffee served with her dictaphone rolls, so Mac piped up and said he was sorry but he only served puns . . . Oh brother!

Last week, Jim Steel was seen cruising around the factory with a 5:00 o'clock shadow barely visible on his upper lip. After the usual 3rd degree that that sort of thing promotes, Jim admitted he was trying to grow a moustache. (And all this time we didn't even know he was old enough to shave—) Then he came in one morning without the peach fuzz and said his razor slipped . . . You've heard the tale about "For want of a nail, a horse was lost, etc."? Now Jim is in the same appalling condition . . . "For want of a whisker, a moustache was lost!"

Yvonne West has been dashing around like mad . . . moving from Willow Run into one of the new Veteran's Apartments. Whatta lucky girl!

This is about the best opportunity we have to welcome Elaine Doll, Lois Skarin, Phyllis Brown and Kathryn De Yonkers into the clan. We are indeed happy to have them with us and here's hoping they all enjoy being an Argusite.

The other day, we found Irene Schneider floating around on a little pink cloud. We persuaded her to come down to earth long enough to tell us why she is so happy . . . then we were happy too. Irene is the lucky gal in the brand new house in Darlington. The house not only boasts the latest in architectural design but new furniture and furnishings as well. It must be wonderful. (Now, Bill Armstrong, who incidentally, is still house hunting, wants to rent Irene's little pink cloud . . . Guess she's gonna let him if he can get rid of his horns and long tail!)

The dictaphone operators feverently wish, at times when work piles up, that a few loquacious lads would develop laryngitis. Might we suggest a batch of fudge spiked with alum? Then "Lefty" Howell, Bud Davis, Bill Armstrong and Jim Steel could take the afternoon off for a game of golf and we wouldn't care if they couldn't cuss at the ball!

We can no longer say, "There are no flies on us". The sudden weather change must have caused their migration into the Sales Department, but we sorta wonder if there isn't a housing shortage in the fly family too!

Post Scripts from The Mail Room

Esther Phillips turned her house into a beanery one night not long ago, and invited the gals from the Mail Room over for chow. The event was a farewell party for Edna Dennis, who left work to redecorate the nursery for an expected visitor. We are going to miss Edna but hope she gets her wish and can name the new "roomer", Betty Ann!

Marg Miller has taken Edna's place and we are very glad to have her with us even though we haven't had a previous opportunity to extend our heartiest welcome.

Pat Davies heard the school bells ringing last week and couldn't resist 'em. (Or perhaps there was a Truant Officer lurking in the background), but we wish her all kinds of good luck and hope her extra-curricular activities are mighty exciting!

Betty Morgan replaced Pat and is an apt pupil for Teacher Betty Kappler. Now that we have two gals with the same moniker on the mail route, just ask for "Betty", and you can't miss!

Every time your reporter has glanced in the Mail Room door, the gals have been in a huddle and we've just found out what the confab is all about . . . They actually have been trying to figure out whether or not the Postman really does ring twice!

From the Seven Pillars of Wisdom

There was a loud commotion at the lunch counter the other day. A large truck piled high with plastic draw tubes was coming through the aisle . . . (Why is it they always have to run the freight through there when the Engineering Department is having their much needed coffee?) . . . Anyway, the man at the controls caught a glimpse of those trim ankles of Pat Bartell and momentarily forgot about the small door in his path. Then she turned around and gave him that nice smile of hers and he was lost. The truck collided with the door and 1,000 draw tubes were on the floor! There was no damage done however, but that explains the draw tube Pat has on her desk as a souvenir!

We welcome John Bissell, our new addition to the Engineering Department.

In his spare time, Len Wilkinson is painting and redecorating his house.

Wedding bells rang Saturday September 7th, for Dick Foster, Engineering Department, and Doris Atanesian. The double ring ceremony was performed at the Episcopal Church in Bath, New York, home town of both the bride and groom. Doris's former room-mate at the University of Rochester was maid of honor, Dick's brother Gordon served as best man and Bob Beach was an usher. The couple are honeymooning in New England.

We regret the loss of J. Warren Kays, but wish him success in his new position.

Mr. & Mrs. Robert White have two additions to their family; a new baby named Robert Jr., and a sailboat known as "Snafu".

Mrs. Helen Smith, the former Helen Balhoff, and her husband Don, are having their long delayed honeymoon on the beautiful shores of Lake Michigan.

Several people in our Department have been vacationing since the last issue of Argus Eyes. Hobe French just returned from a trip to Boston; Curt Adams and "Smitty" went fishing at Lake Lellanan . . . (the fish must have heard the boys were coming cause they just wouldn't bite.), and both John Barnes and Don Feder went to Rochester.

June Prescott is complaining about the weather and wishes she were back in California. (We'll bet the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce would be glad to know that!)

Helen O'Sullivan Becomes Co-ed

The gal with the million-dollar smile bid us farewell last week and can now be found on the Ypsi Normal College campus. Oh, lucky, lucky Joe College!

Helen has been Assistant Editor of Argus Eyes for the past year and to put it mildly, we are going to miss her a great deal.

From Helen's many friends at Argus come very special wishes for lots of success, happiness and good luck!

Community Chest Campaign For 1947

Argus, Incorporated was leader in the industrial section of the War Chest Campaign for 1946.

We, as employees, oversubscribed our quota and were the only ones in a company of any size in the industrial field in Ann Arbor to do so. We, as a company, matched our employee contributions dollar for dollar. A superb job was done.

The campaign for the 1947 Chest begins October 21. The money we contribute goes to the welfare of our entire community. As a company, we will again match dollar for dollar, what we, as employees, give. As Ann Arbor citizens, we are represented in this drive by our President, Mr. Howse, who is Vice President of the Community Chest.

At the time of going to print, we do not know the amount of our quota. But whatever it is, let's maintain our leadership as a company and as employees, and go way over the top in demonstrating our appreciation of the work done for the welfare of our community.

ARGUS PROFILES

By H. J. R.

BRAHM, Joseph A.

Affable, hardworking receiving clerk, Plant 1, where he may be discovered surrounded by crates, boxes, packages, etc. First came to Argus eight years ago as a temporary, fourth floor clean-up man and has been here ever since. Was born in Ann Arbor on May 2, 1895; is married and lives at 427 South Fifth Avenue. Recently celebrated a belated honeymoon trip at Niagara Falls—his twenty-sixth wedding anniversary. Went to high school in Ann Arbor and worked at the Ford Rouge plant before his appearance at Argus. Is a veteran of World War I and spent 10 months overseas in the Medical Corps. Hiked over all of England and most of France but is still favorably impressed with the U. S. Doesn't care for bowling or bridge. Says that the latter brings out dark, sinister things in him. Is a football and basketball fan, however, and plays a mean game of poker in which his silences are eloquent. Would like to retire on the proceeds of his Profit Sharing Fund some day plus a pension plan they are cooking up in Congress at the moment.

Receiving Inspection

We welcome Stuart Gerrard who served four years with the Signal Corps in the European Theater of war. Also, welcome to Bud York, who returned from serving twenty-eight months with the Marines in the Pacific. Hope you both like it here.

Another newcomer in our Department, is Ruth Warhle. We hope you are happy here, Ruth.

We are all sorry to hear of Nina being ill in St. Marys Hospital in Detroit. She had an operation but is coming along better. We hope to be able to see her before long.

Bernice is back after a week of rest, also Leola who had a nice visit to Grand Rapids. She says she likes the new trains.

Louise has returned all sun-burned after a week at Patterson Lake.

Inspection has organized a bowling team and call it the "Anti-Q's". It is composed of Layer, Lewis, Coon, Trombley and Fike, who is the Captain. They are having lots of fun learning which way to roll the ball.

Marjorie Holliday (nee Young) paid us a call last week, and she certainly looks happy.

We are glad to hear Cecille's son is doing fine after an operation.

Service Dep't

Martha Crago is ill in St. Joseph's hospital. Her Service Department friends hope she'll be back at work soon.

Bob Lucas was called home to Chicago recently when his father was in an automobile accident. We all hope Bob Dad will soon be O. K.

Doc Benson enjoyed a swell trip on his vacation. He crossed Lake Michigan from Muskegon and then drove through Wisconsin to Rochester, Minnesota. The drummer in the orchestra on the boat brought back tender memories to Doc of the days when he played drums in orchestras while going through the University of Michigan. On his way home, Doc stayed a couple of days in good old Chicago. We were very glad to have him back.

Thank You Notes

Thanks to all my friends at Argus who helped me through a difficult situation recently. Your kindness is deeply appreciated.

Mrs. Elizabeth Schlemmer

It's nice to be remembered In such a pleasant way, And this is bringing you more thanks than words could ever say.

Mr. and Mrs. Is The Name

The Whitmore Lake home of Judge Jay Pray was the scene of the afternoon wedding of Lucille Brazee and Jan Gala, on July 28th.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown styled with a bodice of embroidered eyelet marquisette and a gathered net skirt. Her fingertip length veil fell from a beaded tiara and she carried an arm bouquet of pale pink rubrum lilies.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Helene Brazee who wore light blue net over satin. A complimentary pink organdy gown was worn by the bridesmaid, Miss Genevieve Gala.

Mr. Clarence Carnes of Dexter Avenue served as best man. A reception dinner was held for the immediate families and personal friends at the Allenel Hotel.

Stephanie Gala, Genevieve Gala and Helene Brazee surprised the bride with a miscellaneous shower the evening of August 16th. The girls all enjoyed the party and Lucille received many lovely gifts.

After a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, the couple plan to reside in Ann Arbor. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gala are Argus employees.

From The Pilots Log

Another one of our members rang the bell this month. John Poeton was up there with the birds all by his lonesome. He soloed last Sunday and we hear he did a good job, at least he walked away under his own power. Poeton learned to fly at a considerable saving since he has only a few hours on his logbook. He got most of his instruction unofficially from one of the other members of the Club. Mervel Smith did his first solo cross-country flight a few weeks ago by finding his way from here to Pontiac and Lansing. He didn't get lost and brought the ship back all in one piece so he did a good job too. Verne Nelson attempted to attend a dawn patrol somewhere but had to turn back because of bad weather. Same thing almost happened to Van den Brock who, with his wife, set out one Sunday morning for the Hastings Dawn Patrol. The weather closed in when they were fifteen minutes out and got worse as they went along. When they got about two thirds of the way out, it got so bad they could just barely turn around and fly the trusted "iron beam" (railroad) into Jackson, where they safely sat down, had some breakfast and waited for the weather to clear. Jackson has what all airports should have. A weather station with a competent and courteous gentleman in charge, who, after an hour or so, reported clearing weather to the west, so that the Van's could continue their trip to Hastings. Later in the day, they returned, happy and satisfied after a beautiful trip back over the top of high scattered clouds, saying that Hastings airport is a swell place and worthy of your visit. They got their share of the prizes too.

The Flying Club, though successful in every way, is hard up for new members. In fact, the Club won't be able to continue to operate at a saving to its members unless they get more. They have therefore made it possible to join the Club for only ten dollars. They don't claim that flying is a cheap sport, but they do claim, and are ready to prove, that Argus employees have an opportunity to learn to fly for less than anyone, anywhere. The people of Argus that would like to fly and that are not members of the Flying Club are passing up a chance that is too good to miss. Usually opportunities knock but once, but this one has been knocking for some time and it will knock now. Better listen though, cause this may be the last knock.

Earlyne and Cam Speak Vows

The 8:00 o'clock candlelite wedding of Earlyne Krapf and Cameron Figg took place August 31st in the First Baptist Church. Earlyne and Cam spoke their marriage vows to Rev. Chester Loucks at the flower decked alter while background music was supplied by the organist, Miss Elizabeth Rohns.

Miss Krapf's gown of candlelight satin ended in a short train. Her fingertip veil was gathered on a juliet cap studded with seed pearls. White gladiolus and a white orchid formed Earlyne's bouquet.

Maid of honor, Evelyn Loy, wore a gown of pink nylon, fashioned after the bridal gown, and carried blue delphinium and pink gladiolus. Kathryn Lindauer and Isabelle Bruckner served as bridesmaids and wore net and lace gowns of ice blue. The glamellias in their hair matched their gowns and they both carried blue delphinium with picardy gladiolus.

William Krapf of Wilkensburg, Pennsylvania, was best man while Denert Figg and Louis Farrell served as ushers.

Earlyne and Cam are now honeymooning in Kansas. You might be interested to know that maid of honor, Evelyn Loy, caught the bride's bouquet. You can take it from here, Evelyn!

Smudges from The Paint Shop

We have been so busy in this Department for the past month that we missed getting our news in the last issue of Argus Eyes. That column would have told you all about our vacations, but that is old news now.

We have several new folks with us this month. Cathy Ratti has taken Clara Shallhorn's place in Inspection. Phil Brier is new in the Oxidizing Room. Charles Holter has been added to the Sprayers. Leona Baltezar has returned after several months absence. Edna Arnold is also new, although she has been with us a couple of months. We welcome them all to Argus and are sure they will like it here.

The reason for the broad smile you have noticed on Katie Bauer's face, is a brand new nephew. Katie became "auntie" to Gerald Frederick Bauer, on August 28th.

Rube and Laura Egeler attended the Air Races at Cleveland, Ohio over Labor Day week-end. They had a wonderful time and then flew back to Detroit.

Sally and Ray Kneiper were called to Amherst, Ohio recently by the death of Ray's brother-in-law. We would like to take this opportunity to offer our deepest sympathy.

Wedding bells will be ringing in the Paint Shop during the month of October. Sally Stone and Katie Bauer have both chosen October 26th as the date for the big event. We'll tell you about both weddings, next month.

There have been numerous fish stories around concerning Sy and Orville. They went to Alpena on a fishing trip and as proof of their nimrod abilities, brought a fish in to show us. Of course, they could have visited the fish markets along the way, and no one knows what really happened but Orville, and he won't tell!

Argus Eyes - Personified

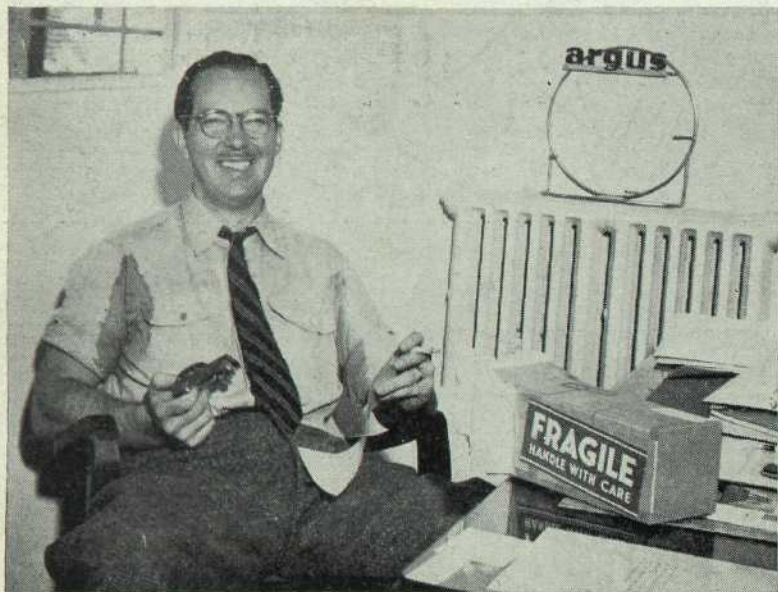

This bright-eyed little boy is Bobbie Kennedy. "Mama Marg" works in the Sales Department and deserves to be proud of both the subject and the C3 snap. Bobbie amazed everyone but himself when he walked at the ripe old age of 9 months, and by the twinkle in his eyes, no one knows just what he is thinking of doing next!

The Dead End Kids

The other day some joker dashed down the long aisle in the Sales Department and found the Advertising Department tucked into our cosy corner . . . We immediately became the Dead End Kids, (and we hope they were talking of the office location instead of our "upper stories"). Our Beautiful Character, alias the Barker of the Argus Circus, alias the Fugitive From a Martini Factory . . . but "Jimmy" to you, . . . had a birthday this month. He didn't tell anyone so we didn't have a chance to serenade him with our off-key rendition of "Happy Birthday". S'pose he had that all figured out? Or perhaps he knew we'd haul in a 2 x 4 and give him the customary "one to grow on"! Anywho . . . Belated Happy Birthday wishes, Jimmy!

Mac, The Real you-know-what, vacationed in Northern Michigan last week. Accounts of his snipe sailing sounded very fine indeed, and in case you need a lesson on how to mend a sail, just ask Mac. An "ill wind" split the canvas on the snipe and we're still convinced that he stirred up the breeze himself—Or, who knows? Maybe it was the "Scotch" in him! Just between us Kremel users, we are of the opinion that if Ed Drury doesn't stop losing his hair, he soon will look very much like the Surry With The Fringe On Top! It's just as Becky says . . . "All This, and Drury too! (We do realize that one doesn't have to be crazy to work in the Advertising Department, but it sure helps a lot!)"

Mac Has A Ford, Has A Ford, Has A Dodge

A special delivery package to Mac McCoy turned out to be a small-sized car and surprisingly enough, a photog was on hand to get this picture. A boomerang to that practical joker is the fact that Mac turned the small jalop in and got a beootiful new Dodge!

And Even Their Ears Got Wet

The watermelon season was celebrated this year by (left to right), Herb Oliver, Leon Vealey, Phil Street, Florence Esslinger, Francis Gerrod, Lucille Beauchau, Edgar Fowler, Charles Cotton, Herman Bauer, Richard Lynch, Alfreda Overman, Caroline Wiley, Sylvia Feldcamp and if you don't think a "good time was had by all", just take a second look at those expressions!

Personnel Personals

Our current problem is how to get along without Mary Haight. A very fortunate lad named Harold Rose persuaded her to marry him, and she'll be leaving us October 4. She and Rosie will live in Detroit, where Rosie has his home and work.

The first step in our readjustment has already been taken. By this time many of you met Frances Galloway, and if you've met her, you like her—she is friendly, charming and helpful.

We lost Mrs. Radford for two weeks when she took a vacation in Connecticut, but we have her back again, thank Heaven! We all decided while we were trying to get along without her that she does the work of three strong men.

Mr. Reid and his wife are vacationing in the Great Smokies this week. We hope they are having a wonderful time, and we'll be glad to welcome Mr. Reid back.

Roy is about as usual, busy being several places at once. Beverly and the rest of us are busy, too, these days. Drop in occasionally and say "hello" to us beavers.

Chatter On The Party Line

Highlighting our news this month is the recent trip Evelyn Loy made to the famed "Sidewalks" of New York. She really had a marvelous time, even though she did go by train when everyone wanted her to fly. (They talked about it so much that she just about sprouted a pair of wings!) Evelyn's friends in Jamaica, Long Island, entertained her royally and she thoroughly enjoyed every minute in the big city . . . Incidentally, if anyone notices the "Sidewalks" are now painted bright red, you can blame the job on "Skeeter" . . . She did it and she's glad!

Stuart Gerrard, recently returned veteran and Spouse of our lucious Louise, is now working in the Inspection Department. Louise says she likes having her better-half so near all day long and after we saw Stuart, we agreed with her!

We do believe we haven't officially welcomed our newest addition to the Switchboard, Ruth Schank. So we'll now print our belated best wishes for a happy cruise on the good ship, Argus. Ruth hails from Chelsea and spends most of her time commuting between Ann Arbor and that fair metropolis. However, (this is strictly hush-hush stuff), being a single lass and a good example of feminine pulchritude, Ruth has had some trouble keeping the Wolves away from the Switchboard. In fact, the situation is getting so bad that instead of answering incoming calls with the usual "office", she has been known to yell . . . "But Grandmother, what long teeth you have—"

Payroll Postings

Wilnot returned from her two weeks vacation in the Northern most part of the upper Peninsula where the weather was none too warm. A few picnics and dinners were enjoyed, also agate hunting along the shore of Lake Superior. Beverly Sue also returned with her mother to attend Mack School.

Louise Palmer and husband spent a few days of their vacation at a cottage. Of course, all the good fishing weather began the day they returned home. Once home, hubby Don began building a study room on the side of their trailer. Under the careful eye of the "strawboss", it is developing into a lovely addition. All in all, their one week passed much too quickly.

A card just received from Virginia Hurst now on vacation in Tennessee, says, "Having a fair time. Saw Cumberland Falls, Kentucky, will be in Chattanooga today. Weather has been good. Say hello to all—behave!"

With the beginning of bowling season, Juanita enters the League this year with the line-up of the "Screwballs", which consists of Dotty Bisson, Alice Blanchard, Peggy Allen, Marion Devine and Juanita.

To move about ne'er content Seems to be our fate, For we have just moved again, The second time of late.

Although it wasn't very far And moving vans were lacking, We still had the fuss and muss That always comes with packing.

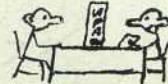

We have someone now with us You've never met before, Earl is what we call him, Last name, Delamore.

Also from old Tecumseh, South and west of here, We have one Bob McDonald To put up with we fear.

We're shouting out the praises, Shouting them with pride For Ann Arbor's City Golf Champ, Mr. Walter J. (Red) Weid.

When you become a champ, it seems Along comes glory too, for Red was on the radio, A program with Bob Ufer.

Bill Bone is in a quandary. He wonders where they're hiding All the building materials, Especially a little siding—

Thanks for staying with us But, we must run with all our might For we see the wagon coming With those little men in white.

The Gals In White

One of the "Old Timers", the Bird Woman, (Mildred to you), has returned to "roost under the wings" of Argus for a short time . . . about a week to be exact. Seems good to have her back. First Aid, Plant II, is again bustling with activity as all her old friends are dropping in . . . to pass out . . . a lot of news, and to either hear or tell the "latest one". The Birds have been feathering a nest out Evergreen's way. 'Tis rumored it's quite a swanky shack. Of course, there are small details such as getting material, etc., but it won't be too long now and then the Birds will be ready to put out the Welcome Mat. "Pat" is also dressing up her new home in Indiana. Best of luck to both the Allens and the Birds. Hope we see you again . . . soon!
