

By the courtesy of Allen L. Bourne, Esq., Secretary of the Board of State Building Commissioners...

After a careful examination of each, the board on the 24th of January, 1872, adopted the design of Elijah E. Myers, Esq., an architect then residing at Springfield, Ill., and entered into a contract with him as architect and general superintendent...

The outline is sufficiently broken to produce pleasing contrasts of light and shade; while the architect has studiously observed the suggestion of the commissioners in avoiding superfluous ornamentation...

The stairs throughout the building, including steps, risers, hand-rails, balusters, and balancers, will be exclusively of iron...

Upon the second floor, at the North end of the building, will be the hall of the department of the Quartermaster General, and the remainder of the story will be devoted to present to storage, although, the rooms being high and well-lighted, and ventilated...

Between the Legislative Halls, at the west front of central portion of the building, will be the hall for the State Library...

At the east front, upon the same floor, will be a suit of rooms for the Governor and Secretary of State...

The stipulated date for the completion of the building are as follows: Length, not including portion, 34 1/2 feet; width, 191 feet 3 inches; height of lantern, 265 feet.

The Capitol grounds have been a natural object of curiosity to the traveling stranger for months past. But the excavations and sheds for stone-cutting and carpentry have been for a long time surrounded by a high fence...

ANN ARBOR. FRIDAY MORNING, OCT. 10, 1873

LAST WEEK we were about to compliment the Constitutional Commission on the correct decision it had come to in drafting and determining the University section of the Educational Article...

It has been the design to complete the foundation as nearly as possible before the laying of the corner stone. The wall rests on a solid mass of concrete that constantly hardens until it like rock is set.

At precisely 9:45 A. M. the interpreters, Capt. O. C. Applegate and David Hill, explained to the principals the nature of the order to read to them by the adjutant...

At 10:15 the fatal noises were placed around the necks under direction of Capt. Hoag. It was necessary to cut off a little of Jack's long hair, which was in the way of the cap...

THE PEOPLE, acting through caucuses and conventions, may not always select the best lawyers or most honest ones for judges, but no judicial nominating convention in Michigan has yet been packed in the interest of a gang of speculating financiers...

GOV. BAGLEY has ordered a special election to be held in the Fifth Congressional District on Tuesday, November 4th. DON HENDERSON—Our lively friend of the Allegan Journal, has issued a call, as chairman of the district committee...

A CRAY OF DISTRESS.—The ravages of the yellow fever at Memphis are, if possible, more dreadful than at Shreveport. The pestilence daily increases. Business has almost entirely ceased...

"SOUND AS A NUT" is this plank in the platform of the New York Democracy: "that the granting of subsidies by the general and State governments and the bonding of cities, towns and villages in aid of railroads and other corporations in wrong in principle, corrupting in tendency, and ought to cease."

—In the Constitutional Commission on Friday last a communication was received from the Secretary of State, announcing that Hon. Wm. M. Ferry had subscribed to the oath of office as a member of the Commission. Mr. Ferry takes the place of Mr. L. G. Mason, of the Fifth district, or rather the place Mr. Mason seems never to have occupied nor claimed.

—It is now said that on the day the First National Bank of Washington suspended President Grant received a nice little cake box from the bank, which contained $20,000. There is no report of any "cake box" being sent that day to ex-President Andrew Johnson, who had $20,000 in the same bank.

—The Springfield (Mass.) Republican thinks it small business to incorporate the words "free pass" in a State Constitution. "Salary grab," "salary steal," "back pay," "Credit Mobilier," etc., were thought by our forefathers "petty" or unnecessary words to find place in the national constitution; but what a heap of corruption and national disgrace their insertion might have saved.

—Connecticut voted on Monday last on a proposition to amend the Constitution as to provide for making Hartford the capital. It was carried by about 6,000 majority, and no longer will the school boy answer the question, "What is the capital of Connecticut?" with "Hartford and New Haven."

—The Boston Advertiser (Rep.) is making anxious inquiry concerning the legal attainments and qualifications of the would-be chief-justice Conkling. It can't find anything in his career—which has been mostly as a politician—that leads to a suspicion that he is a tried and able lawyer or jurist.

—The Detroit Tribune sides against Don Henderson in his little fight with the Grand Rapids wing of the Fifth District Congressional Committee. We don't see the Post; but to be consistent in never agreeing with the Tribune it must take the other side.

—The San Francisco Chronicle charges that "Boss Tweed" was so collyri received in that city that "he folded his tents like the Arabs and quietly stole away." If that was all he "stole" the good citizens of San Francisco ought to rejoice.

—Ames and Alcorn are just now giving the Radical leaders at Washington a deal of trouble, and the Administration agents are endeavoring to negotiate a peace. Where is Butler? Can't he muzzle Ames?

—The Free Press opposes the incorporation into the Constitution of a provision prohibiting the exemption of church property from taxation. It holds that the Legislature should not be tied up, but at the same time favors taxation.

—And now report has made a "confession" for Mrs. Lucretia Meyers: that she witnessed the killing of Goodrich by Kate Stoddard, or rather that being hid in an adjoining room she heard the altercation and the shots. Fishy.

—The celebrated English painter, Sir Edwin Landseer, died at his residence in London, on the 1st inst., aged 70 years. His animal pictures have made his name a household word in many lands.

—Wanted—Honest Senators? such is the heading of a recent New York Evening Post leader. Judging by the past the Republican party of New York will not be able to furnish them.

—This is how an Albany man soliloquizes on the financial crisis: "I voted for Grant last fall to secure stability in money matters, and now I am ruined by instability." Just so.

—The regular fall term of the Supreme Court opened at Lansing on Tuesday, with 65 cases on the calendar.

The corner stone of the new Capitol of the State of Michigan was laid on Thursday last week. It was a calendar day for the State and a big day for Lansing. The people responded to the invitation of the committee and made a pilgrimage to Lansing from all parts of the State, reminding us of what is so frequently repeated by the eulogistic writer up of some political mass meeting.

—The balance in the State Treasury September 30, but four days after the warrant was protested, and on the very day the bank unwillingly squeezed out one-third of its amount, was $851,471.44.

—AN INCH AND A HALF OF LAND.—The highest price ever paid for real estate was not either in London or New York, but in Boulder, Colorado, where lots are worth about ten cents a foot for front feet. Two adjoining proprietors have gone to law about one and a half inches of the dividing line. The case has been in progress only two years, and when last tried occupied the time of one judge, four lawyers, one high sheriff, one orator, forty-six witnesses, three constables, and twelve jurymen for six days. This was the first trial, and the costs thereof amounted to $1,542.65, and how many more trials there may be can't be foretold, for the jury didn't agree.

—In another column we copy a description of the New Capitol, which will be found more interesting to the reader than a spread-eagle account of the day's doings. The contractors are the same men who built Detroit's City Hall, which is guaranteed enough that the State will get a good building.

MONSIEUR TONSON CRESWELL has come to the front again: this time with a renewal of his proposition or recommendation for the establishment of "Postoffice Savings Banks." In other words his postmasters all through the land are to be authorized to receive monies on deposit, the same as banks, such deposits to draw four per cent. interest. All moneys so deposited are to be sent to a central bank or bureau at Washington, to be invested in government securities. His proposition is not original, but is copied after the English system, which he claims works very successfully, in the British Postoffice Department, at its last report, holding $80,000,000 of deposits at two per cent. interest. After Mr. CRESWELL shall have swallowed the telegraphic system of the country and the Savings Banks he will probably prepare to monopolize the poultry business.

—A Northwestern Farmers' Convention is to be held at Chicago, commencing Wednesday, the 23d inst., at 10 o'clock A. M. Farmers' Clubs, Granges, Farmers' Associations, Agricultural Societies, Boards of Agriculture, etc. are each invited to send one delegate.

—The Detroit Tribune sides against Don Henderson in his little fight with the Grand Rapids wing of the Fifth District Congressional Committee. We don't see the Post; but to be consistent in never agreeing with the Tribune it must take the other side.

THE NEW YORK DEMOCRACY mean business in dealing with the salary-grabbers, in evidence of which the recent Utica convention nearly unanimously adopted the following resolution: "Resolved, That the convention will not place on the State Committee any man who has voted for or received back-pay under the recent act of Congress."

—The resolution was opposed by the friends of ex-congressman KINSELLA, who designed to place him on the committee, and in his defense they alleged that he voted against the law but took the back pay as a "loll" and law-abiding citizen. But it was no go, KINSELLA is now without any official position, and the Democracy of the State have no responsibility for his out-goings or incomings.

—The Convention also denounced the increase of salaries, whether of President or Congressmen, and demanded the repeal of the bill.

—There are some queer things in the postal laws. For instance: the Ann Arbor subscribers to the N. Y. Independent or any other mammoth weekly paper are charged postage in the sum of five cents quarterly; while the subscribers to the Independent, printed but twice a month, are taxed six cents a quarter, or more than double the tariff levied on the Independent. Had not Postmaster-General OWEN better give his attention to the regulation of such glaring inequalities and abuses before he sails to town largely for postal telegraphs, postal savings banks, etc. Let us have one thing well done by the postoffice department before spreading over all creation.

—THE DEMOCRATIC ticket for the State of New York, nominated with great unanimity on the 2d inst., by a convention presided over by Hon. HORATIO SEYMOUR, is as follows: For Secretary of State—Dieckroth Wilkerson, Jr. For Comptroller—Asher P. Nichols. For Attorney General—Daniel Pratt. For Treasurer—Thomas Raines, (present Treasurer and a Liberal Republican). For Engineer and Surveyor—Sylvanus H. Sweet. For Canal Commissioner—James Jackson, Jr. For Prison Inspector—Hiram M. Beebe. The ticket is pronounced both excellent and strong, and the candidates were placed upon a platform without a weak plank.

DESPITE the letter written by Hon. S. J. TILDEN, from Vienna, declining a reelection as Chairman of the New York Democratic State Committee, he was unanimously re-elected, an expression of confidence of which he may well feel proud.

The American National Bank, Detroit, is the fortunate custodian—at 1 per cent.—of a large portion of the State's surplus funds, having in its vaults an average balance—if report is not at fault—of over $500,000. Yet the American National Bank refused to pay and allowed to be protested on the 26th ult., a warrant of the State Treasurer for $11,624, drawn in favor of the Treasurer of the University and bearing his indorsement, the currency being needed to pay the salaries of professors and other employees, due the 1st inst. The transaction was none the less disgraceful because "by advice of the Governor." Were other State institutions served the same way?

—The balance in the State Treasury September 30, but four days after the warrant was protested, and on the very day the bank unwillingly squeezed out one-third of its amount, was $851,471.44.

—BABCOK AT SAUCUTUCK.—Our new Babcock fire-engine arrived Sunday morning on the Chaffee, and on Tuesday afternoon was taken to the foot of Butler street for trial. A quantity of dry goods boxes was heaped up and saturated with kerosene oil, then ignited, and the engine completely enveloped in flames a stream was turned on, and in eight seconds there was scarcely a spark left. The flame was again kindled, and the experiment again repeated with the same results, till the large crowd of spectators were thoroughly convinced of its efficiency. On Wednesday, at another test, the hose was carried to the top of the Saugutuck House, and the stream was forced through 200 feet of hose with fine effect. We believe our citizens generally are convinced of its superiority over every other engine. Our village board are entitled to much praise for their action in procuring this desirable machine. Now let us have a company organized immediately.—Saugutuck Commercial, Sept. 5.

The market was well supplied and prices were a little off. One flock of 112, averaging 84-717 lbs, brought $3.70 per hundred.

Had not Postmaster-General OWEN better give his attention to the regulation of such glaring inequalities and abuses before he sails to town largely for postal telegraphs, postal savings banks, etc. Let us have one thing well done by the postoffice department before spreading over all creation.

—THE DEMOCRATIC ticket for the State of New York, nominated with great unanimity on the 2d inst., by a convention presided over by Hon. HORATIO SEYMOUR, is as follows: For Secretary of State—Dieckroth Wilkerson, Jr. For Comptroller—Asher P. Nichols. For Attorney General—Daniel Pratt. For Treasurer—Thomas Raines, (present Treasurer and a Liberal Republican). For Engineer and Surveyor—Sylvanus H. Sweet. For Canal Commissioner—James Jackson, Jr. For Prison Inspector—Hiram M. Beebe. The ticket is pronounced both excellent and strong, and the candidates were placed upon a platform without a weak plank.

DESPITE the letter written by Hon. S. J. TILDEN, from Vienna, declining a reelection as Chairman of the New York Democratic State Committee, he was unanimously re-elected, an expression of confidence of which he may well feel proud.

-The philosopher's stone: Advertisements in the Argus.

The University Chronicle is again abdicating its right to publish advertisements. The Argus office block is taking on a coat of paint. A decided improvement.

Quiet has prevailed around the University campus for a week or more; but the pumps may be only resting.

On Sunday evening last the Rev. C. H. Brigham delivered the opening discourse of a course on "National Religion."

Victims were numerous at Cook's Hotel yesterday, paying their claims against Miller & Webster, and paying each $1.50 for the privilege.

Frank M. Fox, a graduate of the University, class of '73, died at the residence of his father, in Chicago, on the evening of the 23d ult.

By the failure of Miller & Webster the Students' Lecture Association lost $1,000.00, the accumulated profits of several years' courses of lectures.

Three copies of the daily New York World for three consecutive days were received at the Argus office on Tuesday last. Don't the mails need regulating?

Col. C. B. Grant is soon to leave our city, leaving at Houghton, U. P. Regulating to lose him we commend him to the kind attentions and business favors of the Houghtons.

The loss by the burning of the barns of the Messrs. Finley, with contents, has been adjusted at $27,500. The insurance was not properly paid to make the assured good.

If that corner stone hadn't been laid last Thursday we should have "done" the fair at Ypsilanti, which we are glad to learn was a success, financially and every other way.

We expected to give our readers the County Fair Premium List in this Argus, and believe they promised to do so; but the copy has not yet been furnished us, and our correspondents cannot well put it in type before we get it.

At the meeting of the Regents on Tuesday evening a special committee was appointed to retain counsel to argue the homesteady manumission, which is to be heard at the November term of the Circuit Court before Judge Chan.

The funeral of the late Maj. Robert J. Barry was largely attended on Sunday afternoon, evidencing the general esteem in which he was held by his community. No obituary of Maj. Barry has been furnished us, and we are ignorant of his place of birth, age, etc.

Monday morning last the first ice of the season was seen, and that only where water was spread out exceedingly thin—say on a plank slowly; but Tuesday morning the ground was frozen, since which vegetation and foliage look as though they had been scorched.

The annual session of the Board of Supervisors will commence on Monday next, at the Court House in this city. If all parties having claims against the county will present their bills the first week of the session the labors of the Board may be facilitated and their session shortened.

On Monday evening last as James Welch and wife of Northfield, were returning home from the city, their buggy was upset on a sidewalk place, breaking the large bone of the left limb of Mrs. Welch and dislocating the tibia. Mr. Welch was somewhat bruised, but a habe escaped unhurt.

In the United States Court at Detroit, on Monday last week, the motion to dissolve the injunction in the case of the Rock Island (Ill.) Wash Company against the Mozart Wash Company of Ann Arbor, was argued and submitted, and decision has since been rendered granting the motion.

Wending our way homeward at the usual hour of Friday afternoon or evening last, we heard one of a knot of students remark, "Well, we'll put on our old clothes," which seemed to presage an evening with the campus pumpkins. But the rain stole the march on the rains and all was quiet around the square.

At the regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Ladies' Library Association held on Monday afternoon, Mrs. L. B. Gilmore tendered her resignation as a member of the Board, and also as Treasurer, which position she had long filled to the satisfaction of directors and members. Mrs. Dr. Angell was elected to fill the vacancy in the directory, and Mrs. H. W. Rogers elected Treasurer.

Yesterday at Cook's Hotel, was the first day and place for the creditors of Miller & Webster to present and prove their claims. Another opportunity will be given them at the same place, on Thursday next, October 10th, and Saturday, the 12th inst., at the office of Hovey K. Clarke, Esq., Register, in Detroit, in the day and place named for the creditors to meet and elect an assignee.

We were indebted to the Knights Templar of this city, for a seat in the car chartered by them for their recent corner stone excursion to Lansing. Without such courtesy we should have found "Jordan a hard road to travel," and might have had to stand on the platform, take deck passage, or hang on the "hind end board."

As we have been boys do in going to Sunday-school celebrations or mass meetings; many times ago we mean, they may not do so now. We kept our eye on the Knights and discovered that they behaved very much like other men.

Messrs. Star & Co., of Philadelphia, are now engaged in putting a new and improved condenser and washer at the gas works in this city, at a cost of $2,500, which promises to do a fine thing for consumers, that is give them purer gas and of stronger illuminating power; saving full 25 per cent. in cost, so Superintendent Douglas informs us. This community will, we are sure, appreciate this effort to give better and cheaper gas, for increase in illuminating power is exactly equivalent to reducing the price.

The annual meeting of the Washtenaw Mutual Fire Insurance Company, held at the Court House on Saturday last, was largely attended. Secretary SHELDON made a full and plain report of the financial condition of the Company, its losses and assessments for the year, which report was accepted and approved. Thereafter the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Benj. W. Waite, of Seio.
Vice President—Lyman S. Wood, of Lodi.
Secretary—Newton Sheldon, of Ann Arbor.
Auditor—John J. Robinson, of Sharon.
All other officers except Auditor Robinson.

So far the Washtenaw Mutual has proved a success, and with the same careful management it will continue to give cheap and safe insurance to farmers.

Doings of the Common Council.
The Common Council held an adjourned session on Monday evening last. Present: Mayor, Recorder, and all the Aldermen except Ald. Rhodes.
On motion of Ald. Dow the Council proceeded to the election of a Treasurer by ballot, and E. B. Pond receiving a majority of the votes cast was declared elected.
On motion of Ald. Leland the amount of the Treasurer's bond was fixed at $50,000, the same to be approved by the Board.

On motion of Ald. Leland the Recorder was directed to report at the next Council meeting the amount of the bonded debt of the city, principal and interest.
The Mayor and City Attorney, on motion of Ald. Leland, were appointed a committee to report to the Board of Health bills to the Board of Supervisors for allowance.

A petition for a sidewalk on the east side of Third street, between South University street and Monroe street, was referred to the street committee; and one from same parties for a lamp post to lamp committee.
A petition of Tremain & Co. for the privilege of erecting a temporary woodshed at the corner of Huron and Fourth streets was laid on the table.

On motion the Marshal was directed not to permit wood teams to stand more than two days on either street, adjoining squares, and other main streets to be arranged on the east side of the square.
A proposition was received from the Clapp & Jones Manufacturing Co. to sell the city a steam fire engine, which after hearing Chief Engineer, was referred together with the whole subject of protection against fire, to a special committee, to report at an adjourned meeting to be held on Monday evening, Oct. 14. The committee consists of the Mayor and Ald. Rogers, Messrs. Dow, Lutz, and Smith.

Messrs. Dow, Lutz, and Smith were appointed a committee to let a contract for partially filling with gravel and then bricking the artesian well (so-called), the contract to be let to the lowest bidder giving the necessary security.
At the request of the University authorities A. W. Porter was nominated by the Marshal and confirmed as a special policeman for service on the University grounds for the term of six months.

Bills were reported from the Finance committee, and allowed, payable from the funds named as follows:
From general fund, $779 99
" First Ward street fund, 161 50
" Second " " " " 13 62
" Third " " " " 7 34
" Fourth " " " " 12 50

The Marshal was directed, on motion of Ald. Rogers, to purchase wood for Council room.
Adjourned two weeks.

Messrs. Everts & Stewart, who made some time ago a preliminary canvass of this county for a County Atlas, have just opened an office over the store of J. E. Schulz, on Main street, where the actual work of compiling the surveys and statistics and making the drawings for the lithographer will be actively entered upon and vigorously prosecuted. They have shown us an Atlas of a Wisconsin county, with in maps and illustrations is a beautiful specimen of work, and in its statistical and descriptive matter and invaluable reference book. Farmers visiting the city and business men generally, are invited to call at their office and examine the work as it progresses. Canvassers will soon take the field and solicit orders for illustrations of public buildings, city mansions, village residences, farm houses, barns, landscape views, etc., as well as for copies of the Atlas.

At the meeting of the Regents of the University on Tuesday evening President Angell read a letter from Gov. Bagley presenting a beautiful case of bronze and silver medals and medallions: the medals being copies of those struck by order of Congress or other bodies in honor of distinguished military or naval officers; and the medallions, portraits of the Presidents. There are 94 in all, and they form a very valuable collection considered either historically or as art-works.

Two beautiful bronze statues have been added to the art collection in the Museum—copies of Michel Angelo's Lorenzo and Julienne de Medici. They were purchased in Paris by Prof. Frieze, at a cost of $1,000, and belong to the White contributions.

The 8th Regiment, Members of the Ann Arbor Commandery No. 13, K. T., on their return trip from Lansing, Oct. 2d, 1873, wishing to acknowledge their thanks for courtesies shown, adopted the following resolutions:
Resolved, That the thanks of this Commandery be and are hereby tendered to C. H. Hurd, Assist. Gen. Supt. M. C. R. R., and to H. S. Roberts, his clerk, for their kindness and courtesy in furnishing this Commandery with a special car on the occasion of their recent excursion to Lansing to participate in the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of the State Capitol on the 24th inst.

Resolved, That to Lansing Commandery are due the thanks of this Commandery for the entertainment furnished and courtesies shown by them to Ann Arbor Commandery while at Lansing, Oct. 2d, 1873.
Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the Ann Arbor papers and copies forwarded to the parties named in the foregoing resolutions.

W. A. LOVEJOY, Recorder.
Dr. D. B. KELLOGG of this city, who has been spending a few months for the recuperation of his health, on the Atlantic coast, has returned in apparent good health, and is prepared to receive patients as heretofore. This, however, parties interested seem to understand as his office is daily filled with those seeking medical advice.

During his absence he has treated a large number of cases of cancer, with invariably successful results. To this branch of his profession he will hereafter give special attention.
"Death on Fire!"
A discouraged physician, whose medicines failed to relieve his stubborn patient, finally wrote a long prescription and gave it to the nurse, saying, "There! give him that. I have faith to believe that it will throw him into fits—and I'm death on fire!" So the bewildered doctor, practicing upon Fever and Ague, gave one vile poison to drive out another—feeding their patients mercury, arsenic, and quinine—committing murder instead of curing diseases. DeWitt's Fever and Ague Pills contain no poison, but a certain and well tried cure. We strongly advise sufferers from Chills and Fever to use this unfailing remedy. Sent by Fraser & Lee, New York City, for a pamphlet.

CRIBBIAES.
Prof. "ANDERSON'S DEMONDO" is a certain cure every day for Cribbiaes. The proprietors will warrant a cure in all cases when the Demondro is applied freely according to direction. See advertisement in another column.
