We feel to sympathize with the wives of those prominent citizens of Ann Arbor who called upon Mrs. Woodhull during her recent visit here, and gave her to understand that "there are no happy married people in the State of Michigan."

The Manchester Journal is at liberty to bludgeon the Argus local columns freely; but did it not overdo the matter and begot its readers by a lack of discrimination in its stealings? For instance, in its item concerning a Dundee correspondent and a narrow gauge railroad.

As Dr. D. M. Tyler was driving on Detroit street on Monday, his horse was frightened by a sudden attempt to "catch a ride," started suddenly as to throw the Dr. and his wife out, and dashed down the street, running over Miss Curtis of the Fifth ward, breaking her arm.

A slight scratch made on an Ann Arbor boy's neck a few days ago, scarcely breaking the skin, gave the local writers for the Detroit Times an opportunity to test their powers of exaggeration and make a wonderfully narrow escape. Besides, they also killed the wrong boy.

A marked weather paragraph gives the date of the thermometer for December as high as 79 degs., lowest, 32 deg; mean 55.6 deg. Think of reading such a report yesterday morning. But, then, wait until we hear from Florida's cold January.

Mrs. Scott Siddons is to read or recite before the Students' Lecture Association on Wednesday evening next, January 21st, in University Hall. The examination of John Dunahoo and Mrs. O'Connor, for adultery, took place on Friday before Justice Brian, and resulted in holding the parties for trial at the next term of the Court. Rev. Dr. E. O. Haven, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and formerly President of the University, preached in University Hall on Sunday evening, before the Christian Association of the University, to the largest congregation convened in the hall since its inauguration, and numbering upwards of two thousand. The instruction given by Mr. McKnight having been wholly gratuitous he is entitled to liberal patronage.

James Donovan, Esq., has purchased of E. C. Webster, the much talked of sword of Mr. Webster, paying $30 for the same. This is the sword presented by the city of New Orleans some years ago to Col. Grayson, by Col. Grayson to an old personal friend in this State, traded by him to E. J. Johnson, of this city, for a gun, and by him presented to Mr. Webster and retained by Mr. W. in the exercises of his Masonic duties. His history ought to have commanded more than $25, saying nothing of its superior work and finish, and reputed diamond settings. We expect to see Donovan cutting a swell on the parade.

A careless compositor and an equally careless proof-reader (orself) are responsible for a number of inexcusable typographical errors in the last ANNO'S. As a sample, see paragraph concerning "The Week of Prayer" and a little "friction" in one of the union meetings. In sixth line from close of paragraph we wrote "glowing"; it appeared in print, "glowing." The "proposition" we intended to characterize were not "glowing"; that is, one would not naturally speak of enures and fore-shadowing heresy or infidelity,—grow out of indifference and an assumed list of religious influence in non-sectarian colleges or universities,—as "glowing."

The First National Bank annual meeting and election was held on Tuesday. The following Directors were elected: Ebenezer Wells, Philip Bush, Hiram Arnold, David Henning, Chas. C. Miller, John H. Smith, Johnson W. Knight, John Henley, Charles Trippe.

The February Scribner will contain the second of the papers entitled "Glimpses of Texas," which illustrate the life of Northern and Southern coast, of Dallas and Galveston, and treat largely of the commercial and industrial progress of the State.

The March number will contain the first of the articles of "The Great South" series, describing life and adventures "Among the Mountains." This introductory article deals with a region hitherto almost unknown to the general reader and the ordinary traveler—viz: Western North Carolina, where the great Appalachian system of mountains, which forms the Atlantic barrier of this Continent, culminates in a region whose wildness and grandeur are amply testified to by the wealth of illustration lavished upon the article describing it. A journey of six hundred miles on horseback was made in order to obtain the illustrations for the March article of "Among the Mountains."

The annual meeting of the First Congressional Society was held on Monday evening last, and was largely attended with a good spirit prevailing. Messrs. S. Wood and H. M. How a Reporter Lost his Situation.

It is said that in a moment of temporary insanity, a Boston city editor assigned a horse racing, base ball and aquatic reporter to report in half a column the Sunday services at the church of a sensational preacher. This is the report he published and for which he was discharged.

"No House met at 10 A. M. Prayer by the chaplain. The first row was between the chaplain and the singers, it being a pretty even match for the first two heats; but the singers got the best of the last three heats, and came in on the top length ahead, winning the last three heats and race. Time, 9:02. Petitions were then presented for forgiveness, and other similar matters, and notice was given for special assignments during the coming week for obvious objects." The singers then sallied up to the judges' stand, and, after getting into position, sallied away on the course with all canvas set and a spanking breeze from the organ, which drove them along in fine style. The top-rigged flat flying blue pennant was trail ahead at the stake, and came home ahead of all the fleet. The speaker then took the floor, and announced his intention to ask that the resolutions of censure that had been passed upon Ananias should be rescinded, and proceeded to read the records of the case, from which it appeared that Ananias had sold his horse and had not given all the price to the church. The speaker then called up to say that no reason appeared on the records for Ananias to give any, and much less all, his property to the church, and he questioned if any of those before him would do any more than Ananias had in the same place. He then went on to show that Ananias had obeyed his wife in the matter, and expressed the belief that few of those before him could say as much for themselves. After further arguments of similar character, he moved that the character of Ananias be, and is hereby declared A 1 by the members of the House.

Farming in the Last Century.

A contemporary of the early colonists, of unquestionable authority, says the early colonists of Virginia "neither housed nor milked their cows in winter, having all ideas that it would kill them." A hundred years, no doubt, made some progress in the practical ideas of farming and in the methods of keeping stock, and yet a scientific Swedish traveler, Kalma, after his tour of our beautiful mountain land, the Kalmian, was named, in speaking of the James River colonists in 1749, says "they make scarce any manure for their corn-fields. Their cattle are allowed to wander through the woods and uncultivated grounds, where they are unfastened, having long ago extirpated all the annual grasses by cropping them too early in the spring, before they had time to form their flowers or shed their seeds."

That this gives us a true and tolerably correct idea of the farming of that day in that section of the country, is clear enough from the statement of the Hon. J. M. Garnett, of Virginia, who in 1842 said: "Previous to our Revolutionary war, as I have been told by the farmers of that day, no attempts worth mentioning were made to collect manure for general purposes, all that was useful being saved for the gardens and tobacco lots, by summer cow-pens. These were filled with cattle such as our modern breeders would hardly recognize as belonging to the bovine species. In those days they were so utterly neglected that it was quite common for the multitudes started to death every winter to supply hides enough for shoeing the negroes on every farm. This was a matter so generally and constantly anticipated, that my own grandfather, as I have heard from unquestionable authority, was once very near turning off a good overseer because cattle enough had not been on the farm of which he had the supervision to furnish leather for the above purpose."

This is a most instructive and striking picture of the methods and the ideas prevailing in the middle of the last century.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

Detroit Live Stock Market.

The Market Centre (Cattle Yards) MICHIGAN CENTRAL, Monday, Jan. 12.

The arrivals continue brisk at this yards and the firm prices of the past few weeks and shipments eastward from here were quite easy. The constant volume thus thrown upon the markets here has caused a slight reaction here in yesterday's market, though the amount shipped was none the less. Receipts for the week and corresponding week last year were as follows:

Cattle, Hogs, Sheep,
Week ending Jan. 12, 1874, 517 781 4,434
Week ending Jan. 13, 1873, 397 2,531 2,954
Through cattle 600 head were received against 1,378 of the previous week. Hogs none.

The yards were not with as fine a quality as on the previous week, the former good prices inducing farmers to bring in an inferior article which at other times would not be marketable.

This throwing upon the market so many inferior qualities received a check during yesterday's market, as this fall fell off 1-2c to 3-4c. A very choice article of butchers' stock sold the scales at $4 and $4 25, and shipping lots averaging 1,000 to 1,100 at the same price. Nearly all the thin cattle were bought by the head at a depreciation of some $5 per head. The supply was too great for the home and shipping demand, and some were obliged to ship to wait a great sacrifice.

The lots now arriving show conclusively that the hog crop of 1873 is pretty well marketed, scarcely any choice ones being in the pens. Those in market yesterday were mostly light stock hogs and sold at $5 and $5 25. The demand is mostly for heavy weights. A comparison with the same week last year exhibits a falling-off of two-thirds in the receipts.

The arrivals have continued uninterrupted, shipments to the East being quite heavy. Prices were off at the 1-4c yesterday under the heavy arrivals, fine qualities selling at $4 00 to $5, and medium $4 and $4 25. Shippers express a fear that the market will be precarious this week.

KING'S CATTLE YARDS, DETROIT, Monday evening, Jan. 12.

The market was well supplied with common cattle, but choice shippers were scarce; the demand for car lots was not urgent, however, and the general market was lower, variously estimated at 1-4 to 1-2c, but the prices given at the scales for best lots offered were apparently as good as last week. The following quotations will cover to-day's transactions:

Choice heaves, young, large, well matched, weighing from 1,200 to 1,400 lbs., 81 00 @ 4 50
Good heaves, well fattened, steers and heifers, averaging 1,050 to 1,200 lbs., 3 00 @ 3 75
Medium grades, fair steers, averaging 950 to 1,000 lbs., 2 50 @ 2 75
Working cattle, well fattened, averaging 1,000 to 1,500 lbs., 3 25 @ 3 75
Cows, common to choice, 3 00 @ 4 00
Common stock, medium steers, and fair to extra cows, in decent flesh, 800 to 1,000 lbs., 2 00 @ 2 75

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters

are a purely Vegetable Preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the blood of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, in Bilious Disorders.

When men will enjoy good health, let them use VINEGAR BITTERS as a medicine, and avoid the use of alcoholic stimulants in every form.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their livers are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, and all the diseases of the liver, and of the great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Sores, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc., etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Pimple, Salt Rheum, Blisters, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ringworms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurf, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors, and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Jaundice.—In all cases of jaundice, quick relief can be obtained by the use of these Bitters. The only sensible treatment is to promote the secretion of the bile and favor its removal. For this purpose use VINEGAR BITTERS.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find it impurified, bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

A Cracked Satellite.

The story of a cracked and disintegrating moon, which is made public through the well-known Observer, which, if fully assured as to their authenticity, will arouse a good deal of discussion among astronomers. The story is that of Luigi Acciari, a young man with an idea and an observatory, and a student at the Observatory of Marseilles. The young man was so devoted to his idea that he heaped his little fortune upon it, and with a telescope and other instruments set sail for the solitude of Southern seas. Before embarking, he handed to his old instructor a roll of manuscript upon which was inscribed the idea which the youth pursued, and his reasons for entering into the expedition. His time and money were believed, speaking unscientifically, that the moon was altogether more cracked than modern astronomers imagined, and he went to the south seas alone, that being there, in that region, before he passed the moon's shadow, he might see the sunlight peeping through the cracked moon at the time of the next eclipse. He went away to the South, even to Pitcairn's Island, erected the observatory, gained an old sailor to assist him, and he passed the time in waiting for the moon to be eclipsed. It came straight through the rugged rocks, the rugged sunlight shone as one sees a gleam through a crack in the wall. The sailor, turned photographer, caught three negatives of the penetrating sunbeam. The youth with his idea, possessed no proof, to him, sufficient, that that which he believed, but a scientific reality, and he writes to his old instructor in France, with all the enthusiasm of a boy who has stormed a snow fort, and with all the exclamation points of the successful lover, that he has discovered the moon during his lonely vigil on Pitcairn's Island to make him declare "that his lovely satellite is not only a shell, and not only a shell full of cracks, but a shell that is crumbling upon some rocky pier, and that it is now crumbling to ruin with a constant, a savage, a frightful velocity."

A Horse With A Long Memory.

From the Lowell (Mass.) Courier. Many years ago, Mr. Abram Dodge, of the town of Ipswich, Mass., owned a beautiful horse which was the pet of the family. He was a fine specimen of his kind, and his playfulness and good qualifications. In the summer it was Mr. Dodge's habit occasionally to have a frolic with his horse in his barnyard, then let him out alone, and he would go to the river, which was about one-third of a mile distant, where he would bathe, then go to a common and roll on the grass, then with the freedom air start for his home. His stable was removed for him, and he was gone, and his breakfast put in his crib. If he met his master he would show some coltish pranks, bound for the stable, pull the wooden pin that fastened the door, with his teeth, and rush to the manger where he needed to find his food. One night the horse was stolen from the stable. After the expiration of sixteen years Mr. Dodge was at the tavern when a man drove a horse up to the door. Mr. Dodge at once recognized his horse, and told the driver his reasons for believing it to be his. The man told of whom he bought the horse, and said that he had owned him for years. Mr. Dodge claimed his horse, and it was finally agreed that if the horse would, he should take to his stable, go through the habit of bathing, rolling on the grass, and pulling the pin from the stable door as above described, that Mr. Dodge should have him. When the horse was let out into his old paddock, he recognized the premises for a moment, then started for his old bath-tub, then for his green towel on the common, then to his old stable, pulled the wooden pin, won for himself a good meal, and he was back in his favorite paddock. These facts are vouched for by reliable old residents of the beautiful, picturesque old town, and show conclusively the long memory of our noblest animal.

A Trotting Horse Dies of Hydrophobia.

We learn from the Oshkosh Northwestern of the death from hydrophobia of Ripon Bay, by all odds the fastest trotter in Wisconsin, who has been mentioned in 2:25, and has won three straight heats in 2:28 1/4, 2:29 and 2:30. In all pool selling on local races he was thrown out, as he was believed to have a sure thing, and the competition was confined to the slower horses. The boy allowed Mr. Van Brunt to approach, but exhibited great violence when he attempted to touch him. Mr. Van Brunt supposed that he might have been poisoned by eating something which he had been told to eat. He was taken to the hospital, but died on Wednesday at 10 o'clock. After watching the symptoms of the animal for a few moments, Mr. Ormond pronounced them those of hydrophobia. Water was several times given to the boy, but to no avail. The doctor says the actions of the horse were terrible to behold. He would rub his head against the wall, and finally break through his upper teeth, and finally fractured his jaw. Finding that the life of the horse could not be saved, Mr. Van Brunt ordered the stall to be boarded up so as to prevent him from doing any mischief. The horse was kept in the stall until two o'clock Friday morning, when death ended his misery.

A Staghead Following a Buck to Seneca.

During the recent camp hunt at St. James Island, by some of our citizens, an incident occurred, which, perhaps, will stand out as a parallel in the annals of hunting, and deserves a place in our large book. It was pursued by that famous staghead, Old Bird, belonging to Mr. Hopkins, took water, and headed right out to sea; the dog, without any hesitation, boldly followed him on his voyage over the water. The dog was seen by the hunters, and they watched with intense interest by the hunters until each was a mere speck upon the surface of the sea, and until they were finally and totally lost to view. It is then that it is believed, when it was known in Oregon when said Hippie, alias Mitchell, was elevated to the Senate; otherwise he would not have received a single vote for his election to that high office. That State, it is believed, has been known in Oregon when said Hippie, alias Mitchell, and an outraged people respectfully ask redress at the Senate's hands. The petitioners therefore respectfully pray the Senate to present this statement to said Hippie, alias Mitchell, and if he declines to do so, to commit the matter to a committee of investigation; and if they are found true, that he be expelled from the Senate as a member from Oregon. Senator Kelley, his colleague, is requested to present this memorial to the Senate, and to uncover about the worst Senatorial record of scandal of the times.

The Past Year in the Copper District.

From the Mining Gazette, Jan. 1. The year ending with this issue of the Gazette is of more than ordinary interest to the practical observer of Lake Superior's advancement. In looking over the events that have transpired up here during the past 12 months, we find the two great industries of this region—copper and iron mining—stand out as facts of no less importance than they ever did before. Although the copper mines have suffered from the late financial disturbances, yet the burden heaped upon them has not so far so onerous as to have retarded the business throughout the United States have had to bear. The yield of mineral during the last season—19,000 tons and over—was greatly in excess of any previous year, which is a fact of no small importance, especially in view of the fact that in 1874 are exceedingly good. We do not know of any mine, with
