

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 3, 1874.

If you wish to have your Probate or other legal advertising done in the ARGUS, do not forget to call on the Judge of Probate and Circuit Court Commissioners to make their orders accordingly. A request will be granted.

Local Briefs.

Cases. Circulars. Bill-Heads. Shipping Tags. Printed at the ARGUS office. In the best style and cheap. Don't order elsewhere before calling.

The weather is very dry. Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Lett leave on Tuesday for a short visit to Baltimore.

Lyndon has the oldest inhabitant of the county, Owen McEntee, aged 105 years.

Dr. Cocker delivered a temperance discourse at Dexter, on Sunday evening last.

Everybody and his wife are expected to put in an appearance at Ypsilanti tomorrow.

Milton & Son are after the catch of some names of dry goods with a coat sale. See ad.

Strawberries are now "played out," and Raspberries and Cherries are now the fruits in market.

Miss E. Bassler, of this city, has been appointed preceptress of the Howell Union School for the coming school year.

Miss Hall, who graduated at the University last week, is the preceptress of the State Public School at Coldwater.

The First National Bank of this city has declared a semi-annual six per cent. dividend, payable on the first instant.

The Sharpshooters of this city announce a picnic celebration of the Fourth of July (tomorrow), at the Relief Park.

A Saline merchant advertises a car load of "Standard A" Sags at 10 cents a lb. Ann Arbor dealers had better "come down."

Company B, First Regiment State Militia, Capt. Bevanagh, will be out to-day at 3 p. m., for the first time, for parade, drill, and inspection.

That comet in the northern sky, now sports a bushy tail, visible to the naked eye. And it grows both longer and brighter as the moon grows older.

Miss Leo B. Slocum, who received the degree of Master of Arts, on examination, at the recent Commencement, is a graduate of Hiram College (Ohio).

The long string of notices given out in one of the city churches on Sunday last was enough to sweat a man without the addition of a sermon. Be merciful.

At the session of the Supreme Court to be held at Lansing next week—the Homesteady mandamus case against the Regents of the University is to come on for hearing.

A colored boy graduated at the Detroit High School last week, and proposes to enter the University next fall: the pioneer colored student in the literary department.

Dr. Cocker leaves home next Monday for a summer's visit to his old home and friends in England, and hopes for a new lease of health and life to result from the sea voyage.

Sunday last was the hottest day of the season, the mercury ranging—according to report—from 98 to 108 degrees in the shade. It is hardly worth while to haggle about a few marks on the scale.

Frank C. Hayman, who graduated on the 24th ult., left immediately for New York, and if not advised to the contrary by the college he will proceed to Europe for two years' study and travel.

Instead of "getting up on his car" and twitting us of our poverty, etc., why don't our friend of the Ypsilanti Commercial revise and correct history by telling us when Jonathan Edwards was President of Yale College?

The Jackson city tax, just levied, aggregates $110,000, and is at the rate of 4 1/2 cents on the dollar. The highest tax collected in any ward of this city last fall was 3 1/2 cents on the dollar and covered the State, county, city, and school taxes.

A number of new houses are being built in different parts of the city, which coupled with the fact that a number of first class dwellings have changed hands recently, indicates that the west is over and that our city is again to move forward. Let 'er move.

Geo. W. Hays, of the Farmers' Store, don't propose to go down before dull times. He knows that when business is quiet it must be stirred up, and his advertisements in our columns give evidence that he means to have his share. And he will get it. Advertising will do it.

The population of the township of Ann Arbor, according to the returns of Supervisor Shurtleff, is 13,885, an increase of 13 over the census of 1870. Lyndon is the only other town in the county (the returns of two towns—Lodi and Saline—not being in) which reports an increase, and that just the magic number of 7.

Our old fellow citizen, Dr. Haven, has been elected Chancellor of Syracuse (N. Y.) University, vice Dr. Winchell, resigned; and Dr. Winchell has been appointed Professor of Geology and with six months leave of absence to visit Europe. Both have accepted, and Dr. H. is to be inaugurated September 15th. What will be the next move of these two Michigan University professors?

The Ypsilanti Commercial man took occasion last week to weigh us a "scookolager," just because we noticed his attempt upon the political life of Mr. Cutcheon; and then was careful to withhold our exchange copy. Perhaps he wanted to sell it for five cents to increase his great sales at our expense. Well, as his article had no connection with the matter under discussion, it doesn't make "adit of difference."

In addition to the several sales of dwellings heretofore noticed we have another to report: by C. H. Millen to Thos. Martyn—new corner, first block north on the west side of State street, first block north of Huron. Price $2,800.

These movements in real estate indicate a better feeling in financial circles with brighter times ahead. No city in the State offers pleasanter homes to those seeking health or comfort or good society than Ann Arbor, and we are pleased to see strangers giving the town "a look up."

Mrs. D. S. Wood and Mrs. Geo. Duffield represented the Ladies' Temperance Union of this city in the Women's Temperance Convention held at Lansing last week. Mrs. Stannard and Mrs. Devere represented Dexter. Mrs. Wood acted on the Committee on Credentials, and Mrs. Duffield was appointed on the Executive Committee for the session. Mrs. Devere was made Recording Secretary of the permanent organization, and Mrs. Wood member of the Executive Committee.

It must have been on just a day or two last Sunday, that the poet gave out, both mentally and physically, after writing these two lines:

"The sun's perpendicular rays illumine the bottom of the sea." We are all the more convinced of the truth of our suggestion, from the fact that a friend with more poetical and physical power finished his lines thusly:

"The fishes beginning to sweat, Cry 'd—n it, how hot we shall be!'"

Dr. Aldrich, of the Coldwater Republican writes as follows of the Senior Concert, at which he was present:

The concert was conducted by Lawrence Maxwell, Jr., of the graduating class and was in every respect a decided success. The proceeds were used to defray the expenses of class day and the Senior Reception. The manner in which the Glee Club considered the various pieces they sang showed a good degree of vocal culture. The Senior received two encores while the Junior Glee Club received three.

The solos by Mrs. Bliss and Mrs. Darrow were finely rendered, and they were recipients of many bouquets and bouquets of flowers. It was not our pleasure to listen to so fine a musical entertainment since listening to Miss Kellogg and troupe in opera at Chicago last December.

The population of this city as shown by the returns on file in the office of the County Clerk, and compared with the census of 1870, is as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Year, Population, Increase. Rows for 1870, 1871, 1872, 1873, 1874.

These figures ought to satisfy our citizens that it is time to cease local quarrels to desert the street corners and dry goods boxes, to stop seeking investments in other towns or States, and to unite in encouraging the building up of manufacturing at home—manufactories which will invite mechanics to settle and stay here, give employment to laborers, promote a healthy growth, and prevent stagnation and further retrogression. We have an abundance of unemployed water power, and an abundance of capital.

What is wanted is a united determination to make the best of our advantages. Yes, there is one other thing: citizens must stop crying down the business of the city at home and abroad.

The population of Ypsilanti, also compared with the census of 1870, is as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Year, Population, Increase. Rows for 1870, 1871, 1872, 1873, 1874.

Ypsilanti has held her own nearer than Ann Arbor, a fact owing to her new paper mills and other manufacturing enterprises.

In the Aldine for July there are thirteen illustrations, drawn, engraved, and printed in the superior style and manner of all Aldine pictures, which is saying our best thing—for in this line the Aldine is not excelled. Thos. Moran has a fine full page tint, "A Storm in the Mountains"—a full of life and beauty; David Neal has "Watt and the Kettle," that kettle being the legitimate ancestor of all the modern and wonderful steam engines; John A. Hows, three Pennsylvania pictures, "Kettle Run," "Altoona," "Kittanning Point," "Horseshoe Bend, and the "Old Aqueduct on the Conemaugh." Besides these landscapes there are: "An Indian Scout," "Our Pet," "After the Battle"—a spirited sea picture, three views of or at "Westminster Abbey," and a portrait of David Neal. The contents include: Raking Hay, a poem, by Thos. E. Garrett; a Stampede in 1824, by Lucy Ellen Gurnsey; Peneque Island, by Chandos Fulton; Puck in the Pulpit, by H. G. Rowe; Mrs. Gray's Spare Rooms, by H. M. Wright; with papers descriptive of the illustrations, notes on Literature, Art, Music, and the Drama. A capital number. JAMES SUTTON & Co., New York City.

The Pottsville, Pa., Journal says the largest locomotive in the world is the Pennsylvania on the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad. The diameter of the cylinder is 20 inches, the stroke 26 inches, the number of driving wheels 12, the diameters of the drivers 4 feet, the weight of the engine 60 tons.

A valuable farm-house, belonging to the Hon. Chandler Richards of Fayette County, situated in Lawrence, was burned Monday night. Loss $4,000; insured for $2,200 in the Home of New York. It is supposed to have caught from a defective flue.

The Gale of last week resulted in the loss of thirty-two lives along the eastern coast of New Brunswick, nineteen being fishermen. Four barks and nine schooners were stranded and about thirty fishing boats wrecked.

Dr. Lewis, heeby notifies his patrons that he has returned from his western tour and has resumed the practice of his profession. Office in the Haven Block. Dated, Ann Arbor, March 9, 1874.

Certificates of remarkable cures accompany each bottle, and will be sent gratis to any one. There is no pain which these Liniments will not relieve, no swelling they will not subside or lameness they will not cure. This is strong language, but it is true. Ross & Co. 63 Broadway, New York.

Unless the Free Press reporter draw on his imagination, Sept. Doty, in his oration or address before the alumni of the University, at their recent anniversary gathering, sketched a well-known citizen as follows:

Twenty years ago the college dormitories were without stoves that would show their faces. Many worthy young men boarded themselves, and many of the rooms contained a bountiful supply of what Sam Weller's father would style "wittles." I remember one lad with an appetite like that of an Indiana Methodist conference. He had a general happy way in eating the most obtuse student in seeing the inequality of rations. His first nocturnal discoveries resulted in the depopulation of many a well-regulated farm-yard, and rendered him unsatisfied in this neighborhood. This genial lad has grown to be the director of our observatory, and his fame has extended to many lands. That his present mission to China will be crowned with a success that will make us all his debtors, there can be no doubt. But the traveler who follows his pathway through the celestial flowery land will experience a scarcity in edible bird's nests.

A fatal accident took place near the second railroad bridge west of this city on Monday forenoon last. A gang of railroad men were loading a heavy stick of bridge timber, when the sticks gave way and it fell upon two men, Conklin and Kenningburg, killing them almost instantly. A third man by the name of Weber was seriously injured. The men all lived at Ypsilanti.

IN THE EVENING.
All day the wind had howled across the sea,
All day the wind had howled across the plain,
All day on rustling grass and waving trees
Had fallen "the useful tool of the rain."
All day beneath the love-lorn dreary sky,
The dripping earth had covered solemnly.

At last the wind had subsided into rest,
At last the sun had shined across the sky,
A crimson line gleamed sudden in the west,
Where golden flecks rose wavering into form,
A hushed revival heralded the night,
And with the evening time of the light.

The rosy color flushed the long gray waves;
The rosy color flushed the long gray waves;

When the wave in the sunlight wags,
And the heaven overbrims,
Till the bounds of earth and ocean melt away—
Mortal thought is swallowed so!
I feel no more of grief or pain,
I feel no more of grief or pain;

When Shall Grain be Cut?
It is now generally conceded that the proper time to cut grain is when the ear is past the milk stage, and the grain is milky to the dough stage.

When the ear is past the milk stage, and the grain is milky to the dough stage, it is safe to commence cutting when the straw, as seen from a distance, appears green, but closely examined is found to be approximating to yellow, and the grain itself on being separated from the chaff, is pulpy and soft, but not in the milky stage.
