

"T. T." OF THE Grand Rapids Post, is so indignant at the failure of the constitutional amendment that he advises all the Circuit Judges to resign.

AT A recent Democratic meeting held at Logansport, Ind., ex-Senator Pratt, who is also ex-Commissioner of Internal Revenue, made a speech and declared his belief that Messrs. Tilden and Hendricks had been fairly elected.

DOWN in New Jersey the seat of a Democratic member of the Assembly is being contested, one of the grounds being that in at least one of the election districts all of the election officers "were of the same political party, a direct violation of the election law." Yet the whole Republican party of the country defend the illegal constitution of that famous (or infamous) Louisiana returning board. The law requires that all political parties be represented in the board, yet the four Republican members refused (or as Kellogg and Anderson swear, couldn't agree) to appoint a Democrat to fill the vacancy. The presence of a Democrat would have exposed the inquiry perpetrated in the secret sessions of the board.

AN "INTELLIGENT" correspondent of the N. Y. Evening Post writes from Washington under date of Dec. 30: "A prominent Republican Senator said today that the prospect of a satisfactory solution of the Presidential complication is brighter than at any time since the election. He bases his belief upon inside information that the Senate committee to consider the question of counting the electoral vote are likely to reach a unanimous conclusion, and that the House committee will be forced to yield whether individual members desire it or not. We incline to the opinion that the Democratic members of the House committee will cheerfully agree with any decision which Messrs. Bayard, Thurman, and Merrimon, of the Senate committee, are likely to reach. Democracy and constitutional law are the same in the south as in the north wing of the capitol, and our Republican friends may look for harmony, both in opinion and action, between the Senate and House Democrats.

ON NEW YEAR'S day the New York Sun paroled out the "compliments of the season" with rare discrimination. This was the message of good will to Senator Ferry: "We wish a happy New Year to Vice-President Ferry, and suggest to him, as a means of securing it, the abandonment of any idea of controlling or influencing the counting of the electoral votes." And this to Gov. Hayes: "We wish Mr. Hayes a happy New Year and a prosperous career in the office of governor to which his fellow-citizens of Ohio called him, and that he may be saved from the reproach of holding another office to which he has not been elected." And this to another governor: "We wish Mr. Tilden a happy New Year, and that the 5th of March may find him quietly domiciled in the White House, to reside in which the people have elected him." The large majority of the people will repeat the Sun's wishes.

AT THE risk of throwing our good friend of the Lansing Republican into a violent spasm we are compelled to give place to the rumor that Hon. John J. Robinson, late Democratic candidate for Congress in this district, has been advised to serve a notice of contest on the Hon. Edwin Willis, his Republican opponent, whom a confiding public have supposed to be elected by a large majority. Gross and wholesale intimidation will be alleged, and not only alleged but proven. In advance of a demand for "a bill of particulars," we will say that the intimidation consisted in making the intelligent Republican voters of Lenawee and Hillsdale counties believe that if Robinson should be elected the Constitution would be torn into shreds, the rebel debt paid, and slavery re-established. They were frightened out of both their reason and their wits, fairly intimidated or ball-coated into voting for Willis. The case seems to us a clear one. What does the Republican think of it?

THE attention of the legislators now convened at Lansing is invited to the absolute necessity of some legislation regulating the business of private banking. The failures in this State during the last few years, with the great losses suffered by depositors, furnish all the reasons needed as a foundation for stringent legislation. We think that individuals should not be permitted to engage in banking or brokerage. Individuals and firms should give place to corporations, and the law should define what the articles of association should set forth: capital, names of stockholders, &c., and provide for annual reports, investigation by authorized officers, etc. And the law should also pattern after the national banking law and prohibit the capital and deposits being largely loaned to the stockholders. In short, bankers should be money lenders not money borrowers.

THE Kellogg-Peckard carpet-bag Senate of Louisiana convened on Monday last with a bare quorum—not "a spare." Soon one member escaped, and the Sergeant-at-Arms was dispatched in pursuit of plunder, and succeeded in capturing a Democratic Senator who was officially waiting on the Governor. Conducting him to the guarded Senate Chamber, "a resolution was adopted seating the Senator who in the last session represented the Rapides district but was not returned this year by the board of canvassers" (the people are of no account); also "Baker who ran in the district adjoining the parishes of Ouachita and Morehouse" (not elected). "They were seated, provided the Senators returned as elected did not present themselves." What say our candid Republican readers to such methods of getting a quorum? And by just such burlesque of law Louisiana declared carried for Hayes and Wheeler.

Board of Supervisors—December Session.

On motion of Mr. Wheeler the report of the committee for building a new court house be made the special order for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Wheeler from committee on criminal claims reported the following bills and recommended their allowance at sums stated:

On motion the report was accepted and adopted. Mr. Wheeler, from committee on the poor with the superintendents of the conf in relation to the insane at Kalamazoo, made the following report:

To the Hon. Board of Supervisors: GENTLEMEN—Your committee, who were appointed to consult the superintendents of the poor in relation to the insane who are supported at the insane asylum at Kalamazoo, from Washtenaw county, would most respectfully state that they have had the subject under consideration, and find that the whole number now supported at the asylum is twelve, three of which are supported by their friends, two of which (William Johnson and Adelia Goodspeed) cannot locate in any township or ward in the county, and are properly chargeable to the county for their support, and that George C. Smith should be assigned in the township of Ypsilanti, Maria Starks to the township of Webster, Ida Ball to the township of Manchester, Miran Barker to Ypsilanti city 2d district, Augusta Remus to Ann Arbor city 1st and 2d wards, Sarah E. Mount to Ann Arbor city 3d and 4th wards, Edwin Shaw to Ann Arbor city 5th and 6th wards. Therefore we would offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the superintendents of the poor of Washtenaw county be and are hereby authorized to assign and set off the insane at Kalamazoo, who are now supported at the expense of the county, to the different townships, wards and cities in the county, in accordance with the report by the statement above, and that the county treasurer be and is hereby authorized to open an account with the several townships, wards and cities, to whom the persons named above shall be assigned, and charge the cost of supporting the persons so assigned to the townships, wards and cities to which they belong.

The Adrian Press says that Rev. E. J. Fab, of that city, is soon to marry an Ann Arbor lady, if rumor is a truth-teller. Who says?

C. H. Miller & Son advertise in this week's Argus their annual "Crown" sale, and a rare opportunity is offered good goods buyers. Go in and see them.

Six per cent is that the amount of the semi-annual dividend which the First National Bank of this city commenced paying to its stockholders on Tuesday last.

Joe T. Jacobs is making a specialty of Scotch woolen shirts and drawers—just the thing for winter weather as the weather clerk is saying off. See his ad.

The Circuit Court opened Tuesday. The first jury case was called on Wednesday; Lutz Travers v. Nathan Webb, slander, and was continued over yesterday.

In the Circuit Court, on Wednesday, John Curple pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny (the York horse and wheel-stool), and Elsie Harris guilty to a charge of larceny from a horse.

By order of the Board of Regents the School of Pharmacy is no longer an attachment or annex to the Department of Science, Literature, and the Arts, but a separate school.

We have better than fifty new books being made by the Old Fellows of Dexter for the establishment, in that village, of an encampment of the patriarchal branch of their order.

It is too much to ask of every subscriber to the Argus to send in extending its circulation for 1877. A word spoken to a non-subscriber is all that is necessary to get his name and the $1.00.

A young lady of this city was recently introduced to a gentleman (a student) named Moody, and immediately disclosed the channel in which her thoughts were running by addressing him as "Mr. Seneca."

The Common Council made a short session and a hasty adjournment on Tuesday evening, and didn't reach action on Ald. Besmer's resolution recommending a repeal of the saloon license clause in the charter.

Governors Bagley and Crosswell spent a day or two last week in "looking up" the University. Their impressions may be gathered by discovering by reading the message of the one and the inaugural address of the other.

James Hubbard, son of Wm. Hulbert, of this city, went home intoxicated on Tuesday evening, attempted to rob his father's desk, and being interfered with severely cut his father with a razor and injured his mother and sister. Neighbors were called in, who succeeded in binding him after a desperate struggle, and he was given in charge of an officer who escorted him to jail. His examination is set down for next Monday.

Bro. Wyndop has caught the Argos in a mistake in fixing the almanac for the coming year in Ann Arbor, which seems to be the incorrect date of Winter as Dec. 1. His stock of almanacs say Dec. 21 at 5 o'clock 42 minutes A. M. We shall appeal to the almanac makers for a revision, if we are inclined to believe that in this latitude winter ordinarily begins (in earnest if not in name) several weeks before the sun enters Capricorn. The fictions of the almanac don't exactly agree with the facts.

The Ypsilanti Commercial threatens opposition to a new Court House, just because the Supervisors gave Best instead of Pattison the job of printing the proceedings of the body in pamphlet form. And twenty-two of the twenty-five offending Supervisors don't live in Ann Arbor, which seems to be the incorrect fact of the Commercial's spite. Isn't Pat making faces at somebody's sister?

The stockholders of and depositors in the Ann Arbor Savings Bank have reason to congratulate themselves upon the favorable showing made by the statement published in another column. The managers of the bank have taken every means to secure their depositors: careful loans on real estate and other securities, with double-burial proof safe and a private night-watchman for the protection of the business in Ann Arbor. Deposits in the savings department are 75 per cent compound interest, compounded daily and nightly—increased with the safekeeping of their funds.

The model of the Heels and Calumet stamp mill, which on its arrival was set up in the lower hall of the central building, has been removed to the laboratory building. This beautiful and costly model was built for exhibition at the national meeting, and was presented to the University by President Agassiz of the Heels and Calumet Company. The real mill of which it is an exact miniature is the largest stamp mill in the world.

Dr. N. S. Halleck, for the last two years a resident of this city, and prior to that for nearly forty years a resident of Whitmore Lake, died on Saturday afternoon last, while sitting in his chair examining some business papers. His wife had been absent from the room but a few minutes when she returned found him dead, pencil in one hand and book in the other. Mr. Halleck was born in Madison County, N. Y., in July, 1806, and had therefore passed his seventieth birthday.

Down Comes Gas.—The public will welcome the announcement that the Ann Arbor Gas Company has reduced the price of gas for the six fall and winter months—October to March inclusive—to 30 cents per hundred feet, beginning with the first day of January next. It is understood that several other gas companies in the State have made the same reduction.

The annual meeting of Forest Hill Cement Company of this city was held at the office of the Clerk on Tuesday afternoon last. The attendance of old owners was very small. The following officers were re-elected: President—J. Austin Scott. Clerk—George Grenville.

Treasurer—Emanuel Mann. Trustees—John M. Whelan, S. H. Douglas, Sexton—Lewis C. Risdon.

The Churches.—Prof. Estabrook, of Ypsilanti, is to preach in the Congregational Church next Sunday. Dr. Crocker occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church on Sunday last, Dr. Brown being indisposed.

An Oyster Supper will be given at Union School Hall, Saline, Thursday evening, January 11, for the benefit of Rev. O. Whitmore, of the M. E. Church. All are invited to attend, and members of the society are requested to bring refreshments.

For a year the weekly issues of the American Architect and Building News have come regularly to our table, and the examination and reading of its successive numbers have confirmed us in the opinion expressed at the beginning of the year that it would prove a valuable aid to architects, builders, and the general public. Each number gives large and excellent drawings of public and private buildings—churches, halls, country or city buildings, stores, dwellings, etc., and on each number is printed the names and addresses of the principal designers. The intelligent architect and builder, as well as the intelligent layman, cannot read its pages and examine its illustrations without profit. $6 a year in advance. James R. Osgood & Co., Waterfront Square, Boston.

The assignees of Cornwall, Hemphill & Co., suspended bankers at Ypsilanti, have published a card which makes the following statement showing:

Table with 2 columns: ASSETS and LIABILITIES. Assets include Furniture, Real Estate, etc. Liabilities include Due Depositors, etc.

In connection with these figures, they say: "So large a share of the assets consist of the liabilities of the Ypsilanti Paper Company that the amount which may be realized from them depends largely on the future success of the operation of the paper mills. In these straits, it is not to be expected that forced collections would, in our judgment, prove disastrous to the interests of the creditors, and consequently we cannot encourage them to expect an early dividend." They also make an offer to creditors of preferred stock in the Ypsilanti Paper Company, with a guarantee of an 8 per cent dividend payable semi-annually.

We have sections 2 and 3 (320 large 3 column pages in each section) of "Zell's Popular Encyclopedia and Universal Dictionary," revised edition. The articles begin with Robert Blakey and end with Fire Island Light House.

There are large and fine double page maps of Arizona, California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, and part of Montana Territories. The contents include the latest facts, discoveries, and researches in history, biography, geography, science and art, language, natural history, mineralogy, medicine, law, mechanics, architecture, manufacturing, agriculture, Bible and church history, pronunciation, etc. It is at once text-book, gazetteer, and dictionary. The illustrations are numerous and practical.

The new matter of the current edition is completely supplied with the latest letters of the alphabet, and in the two sections before us numbered 36 pages. The work is to be completed in 64 90 cent numbers, or in 8 sections at $4 each, placing it within the reach of the general public. L. Colgate, L. D. editor, Baker, Drives & Co., publishers, Philadelphia.

As a regular communication of Saline Lodge No. 133, F. & A. M., held at their hall on Tuesday evening, Dec. 26, 1876, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the Grand Master of Heaven has been pleased to summon our venerable and worthy brother, Orange Risdon, from a long series of active labors on earth to everlasting rest in the celestial Kingdom above.

Resolved, That while we as Masons bow with humble reverence to the decree of our Supreme Grand Master, we are mournfully conscious that the loss of such a venerable and worthy brother, from a long series of active labors on earth to everlasting rest in the celestial Kingdom above.

The University and the Colleges. At the recent session of the Michigan State Teachers' Association Dr. Angell, of the University, read a paper on an address on "Our Denominational Colleges and the State University," which the Detroit Tribune reporter abstracted as follows. He began by saying:

What is the proper relation of the denominational colleges and the University in Michigan to each other? Are they necessarily hostile to each other, or may they be and should they be friendly to each other? Is the gain of one the loss of the other? Is there any field in which we have such a distinct field in which to win honorable rewards and to noble service?

Must the friend of the college look with jealous eyes on the University and be quick with the sting of disparaging and disparaging of repeated successes, and must the friend of the University look with scorn on the work of the college and count as absolutely wasted the toil which it has cost? Or may we justly and fairly rejoice over much that has been accomplished by both, and rejoice in the fact that the denominational colleges are doing a noble work?

It is understood that several other gas companies in the State have made the same reduction. The annual meeting of Forest Hill Cement Company of this city was held at the office of the Clerk on Tuesday afternoon last.

6. As the University has attracted to its halls many who would not have been drawn to our denominational colleges, it has consequently done much through its alumni in awakening general interest in education. A large proportion of its 4,663 graduates are settled in the State.

7. The University holds a relation to the public schools, which the colleges, in the nature of things, cannot hold, and so the University is able, through the schools and by their aid, to do a work which the colleges could not do.

8. The University has exerted a special influence beyond the limits of this State, which could not have been exerted by the colleges. It is well known that nearly every State west of us has established a University. Our Michigan University is generally recognized as being one of the most successful State Universities. It has attracted, in a gratifying measure, the attention of both American and foreign educators to Michigan.

9. We must guard against the false error of regarding because Michigan has been praised for her zeal in education that she has not yet used for improvement in her schools, colleges, and University. Great room indeed there is, and we can afford to lose no time in unceasingly and earnestly striving to improve them. We must have the most hearty co-operation. Let us have no fears that too many of our sons and daughters will be thoroughly educated. As well fear that our mines will be too productive and our harvest too abundant. We want everywhere men high-minded, thoroughly trained men, to develop our resources, to preside over our industries, to head our professions, to sit in our halls of legislation, to represent us in the national councils, and, therefore, of the amplest kindness and richest culture and highest and noblest character, that schools, college or university can give us. Let us all do our best in our halls of instruction to follow the teachings, and need have no fear of over production of this kind of men.

THE LEGISLATURE. The Legislature of this State met in regular biennial session on Wednesday. The Senate effected an organization by electing:

Secretary—James H. Stone, of Port Huron. Enrolling and Engrossing Clerk—J. L. Frisbee, of Hillsdale.

Sergeant-at-Arms—Olas. H. Perkins, of Grand Rapids. Assistant—Moses B. Houghton, of Osceola.

The rules of the last Senate were adopted, the Secretary and Engrossing Clerk authorized to appoint an Assistant, and the President authorized to appoint six messenger boys and a fireman.

The House organized by electing: Speaker—John T. Rich, of Lapeer. Clerk—D. L. Crossman, of Ingham. Enrolling Clerk—Horace R. Hubbard, of Grand Rapids.

The message of ex Gov. Bagley was read in joint convention at 10:30 A. M., yesterday; and the inaugural of Gov. Crosswell to be read at 10:30 A. M., today.

The Republican Senatorial Caucus was held Wednesday evening, Bagley's name withdrawn, and Senator Ferry unanimously nominated.
