GOLD has touched 100 1/4.

ON Wednesday the Senate unanimously adopted a resolution for a sine die adjournment on June 10.

THE Supreme Court, which commenced its session at Lansing, April 2, adjourned sine die on Wednesday.

IN THE Senate, on Monday, the bill to repeal the bankrupt law was passed by a vote of 37 to 6. The nay voting members were all Republicans.

ON Saturday last the House made an appropriation of $5,000 to construct a monument over the grave of Thomas Jefferson. "Better late than never."

ON the 13th inst. the Northwestern National Bank of Chicago advertised to redeem its outstanding notes in gold; the first bank to resume. "Honor to whom honor is due."

THE "oldest Mason" has died again: this time at Geneseo, Ill., and on his 102d birthday, April 9. His name was Peter Hammond. He was born in Newtown, Mass., and joined the Masons in 1799.

THE country is safe: Senator Sharon, of California and Nevada proposes to visit Washington and remain several weeks. He is probably out of pocket money and wants to draw his unearned salary.

THE Allegan Democrat (greenbacker) gives it to be understood that Hon. George Willard, of the Battle Creek Journal, is in training as the National or Greenback candidate for Congress next fall. Oh, George, George, why is this thusly?

THE Broadway Bank, New York, commenced paying out gold on Saturday last in sums of $500 and under; and on Monday the Third National Bank of Cincinnati commenced redeeming its notes in gold. Isn't it time that the greenbackers in Congress put a stop to this thing?

CHICAGO merchants commenced paying out gold on the 13th inst., and coin checks were deposited with the banks as currency. And now can't gold be driven out of circulation by a new issue of greenbacks? If resumption isn't defeated in some way the occupation of the political greenbacker will soon be gone.

AT Greenville, on Sunday last, Hon. C. C. Ellsworth, at home on a visit, was assaulted by one J. J. Shearer, in front of Keith's Exchange, and several beaten on the head with the butt of a heavy whip, fracturing his skull. No warning was given of the attack. Ellsworth was seen on a suit against Shearer involving domestic difficulties.

THE Senate Finance Committee reported a substitute on Wednesday for the House bill repealing the Resumption act. It provides for the reception of greenbacks for bonds, and for customs duties after Oct. 1, 1878. Notes received at the Treasury department not to be cancelled or destroyed but to be again paid out or used for funding or other lawful purposes.

DR. CARNOCHAN certified that "Boss" Tweed's death—which occurred in Ludlow street jail at noon on the 12th inst.—was caused by pericarditis (inflammation of the cells surrounding the heart), pneumonia, bronchitis, and chronic kidney. The cause of such a combination against him no wonder the old fellow "passed in his checks," and it was not exactly the thing for him to say to his lawyer, just before his taking off "William, I guess Tilden and Fairchild have killed me at last. I hope they will be satisfied now."

THE BLAIR resolutions reopening the Presidential question rest quietly in a Senate Committee and on the Speaker's table in the House. Meantime Mr. Kimmel, of Maryland, introduced a bill in the morning hour of Monday last, providing for filing a bill in the Supreme Court, etc., which was referred to the Judiciary Committee.—It is safe to say that no bill of the kind will pass either branch at the present session.

BECKER may be a guilty man, but there is nothing in Mrs. Tilton's letter of confession and the circumstances surrounding its procurement and publication, which will shake the faith of the confiding friends or confirm the doubting. It has too much the appearance of being the price paid for a reunion of the Tilton family. One would naturally suppose that Mr. Tilton would have gladly acknowledged that he had been deluded into believing his wife guilty and that conviction of her innocence had restored her to his arms, but the ways of Theodore are not those of other men. "Anything to beat Becker" is his motto. It is to be hoped that the new life of the unsavory scandal will be a short one.

THE SENATE of New York has passed a bill calculated—we ought to say designed rather than calculated—to relieve owners of mortgaged real estate from taxation, which seems to us to be a model of "how not to do it." The first section provides for the deduction of mortgage liens from the assessed valuation of the mortgaged real estate; the second for the assessment of the mortgages to the holders, and for the payment of the tax by the mortgagor in case the mortgagor shall neglect for a period of thirty days. The fourth section provides that if the mortgagor lives in another section of the State he may have the amount of his mortgage deducted from the valuation of his personal property,—thus relieving the real estate of one section at the expense of another. And then the fifth nullifies the whole act by providing that the parties to any mortgage may agree that the mortgagor shall pay all taxes, in which case no deductions in assessments shall be made. The Senate evidently had no important business on hand when it passed the bill in question, or its members had a poor idea of the intelligence of the debtor classes.

SPEARING after the manner of men. Bro. Conger, of the Seventh district—would be leader of the Republicans and the protectionists of the House—"put his foot in it" when he answered Mr. Wood's damaging argument against the necessity of protection—a Jackson fork manufacturer's letter saying that none was needed by that business—was an avowal that the reason why, by the Jackson manufacturers employed convict-labor at 32 cents a day. Col. Withington, of the firm in question, writes to the Jackson papers saying that Conger made, to put it mildly, a "random guess, and very wide of the truth." He adds, "We pay more than double that sum. The argument that we are able to export our products by reason of using convict labor falls utterly to the ground in face of the facts that almost every fork maker in the country is now exporting more or less, and that of the total quantity of forks exported not one-fifth are made by convict labor." Mr. Conger would do well to know his facts when dealing with matters of business,—though on more political questions ignorance of facts may be a blessing to the average Congressman.

THE House Pacific Railroad Commissioners bill was reported on Wednesday. The Commissioners named in the bill are Charles Francis Adams, of Mass.; Albert Fink, of Kentucky; and Judge Cooley, of this city. They are to hold office for three years, to receive a salary of $10,000 each, to have an office at Omaha, with a clerk at a salary of $2,500 with an office and incidental expenses. The Commissioners are to have general supervision of the Central Pacific, Union Pacific, Kansas Pacific, Denver Pacific, Burlington and Missouri Pacific, Sioux City Pacific, the Western Pacific, and the Central branch of the Union Pacific railroads, with power to establish rules and regulations, freight tariffs, etc. Judge Cooley is named as the Commissioner "thoroughly skilled in the law," and his selection is generally commended.

NOT BECAUSE they love greenbacks more than Hayes less. This is how a Battle Creek correspondent of the Inter-Ocean accounts for the recent political turn-over in that city: "I do not think that this result is so much owing to the real strength of the National party (which had only been organized six weeks) as to the general disgust on the part of the Republicans with the Administration, and a desire on their part to rebuke it." Well, well, if the "loil" Republicans of B. C. or any other place can afford to adopt the rag baby just to spite Hayes let 'em do it. Isn't it something like biting one's own nose off?

GREENBACKS having approximated to within a small fraction of the price of gold, and resumption being nearly accomplished, the following resolution (the 6th of the Illinois Democratic platform), "That we favor the immediate and unconditional repeal of the Resumption act" reads very much after this fashion, "Resolved, That the earth is flat and that it rests on the back of a turtle." And several other resolutions of the platform are off the same piece. The Illinois Democrats have certainly forgotten the time-honored legends of the party.

DR. CARNOCHAN certified that "Boss" Tweed's death—which occurred in Ludlow street jail at noon on the 12th inst.—was caused by pericarditis (inflammation of the cells surrounding the heart), pneumonia, bronchitis, and chronic kidney. The cause of such a combination against him no wonder the old fellow "passed in his checks," and it was not exactly the thing for him to say to his lawyer, just before his taking off "William, I guess Tilden and Fairchild have killed me at last. I hope they will be satisfied now."

THE Simple Truth Vigorously Put. Throughout the land every worthless, idle, vicious fellow, jealous of those whose better character enables them to get or hold property that slips like water from his grasp, is denouncing bankers, business men and capitalists as robbers, and claiming at greenback clubs "a right to pay off bonds which are payable in coin or its equivalent, that he would somehow get some of those notes and have a chance to spend them. Every natural born, unadulterated fool, either in the caucus, the editorial chair or the roaring meeting, is denouncing banks and bankers, without whom society can no more exist than men can without veins—and demanding, instead of the payment of the promises already afloat, the issue of hundreds of millions more of the inflated notes, to poison the profits of the diamond and steel for the vitals of the community. Knowing naught of public affairs, or of the Divine laws whereby business must and does move, these creatures set themselves up for sages, and impose on those as ignorant as and less brazen than themselves.

Suppose these misleaders succeed; suppose the inflation they urge should come, who will suffer? Not the capitalists or bankers. To be a capitalist for years means to possess a superior brain, and superior brain can protect itself. Against its majorities, violence and intrigues are powerless. If repudiation in the guise of inflation is to come, the men of superior brains will know it before the public sees it, and they will sell their bonds and otherwise remove their capital beyond its reach, so that the effects will fall not on them, but on those who are not far-seeing enough to escape in time. Who will profit by inflation? Not the people; the speculators and the speculating part of the capitalist class and bankers; the very men to harm whom the inflation movement aims. They will know inflation's approach before the people do, and will prepare to avail of it. First, when a fresh issue of paper takes place, gold will rise; the speculators will have gold ready to sell, and will dispose of it at the higher rate, pocketing a large profit which the buyers will lose. Next, grain and other readily-marketable products will rise; and the speculators having bought grain with the profits of their gold transactions, will sell at another profit which must come out of all who eat bread. Then dry goods and other articles of daily consumption will one by one rise in cost; and the workmen of the country, whose incomes are about the same, will have to pay high prices for everything they need, and will thus have to pay large profits to the very class of whom they now complain.

THE State Public School. A personal visit to the State Public School at Coldwater made some six months ago convinced us that it was one of the most deserving of our State charities,—one entirely worthy the confidence and support of the people. When we saw the neatly dressed, happy faced boys and girls, looked through buildings and grounds, witnessed the system and order, looked into the school rooms and work rooms, dining room and kitchen, and were told of the homes found for these homeless waifs in all sections of the State, we were impressed with the great gain morally, mentally, and physically to the children, coming from homes which were home only in name or from the various poor-houses of the State, and also with the present economy in money, and the future saving in the cost of the State, by the introduction of these waifs into men and women. We, therefore, cheerfully give place to the following circular recently issued by Supt. Allen:

"The State Public School, at Coldwater, is now caring for about 300 children, from three to fifteen years of age, averaging about nine years. Two-thirds of which are boys, many of which are well fitted for home, and the aim of this institution is to save dependent and neglected children from lives of pauperism and crime by caring for them until they are able to fall into the world. The work of this institution, therefore, is preventive rather than reformatory. The chief of admission is the responsibility. Crime and wrong-doing admit to law, but these are the exceptions rather than the rule. Neither is the institution an asylum for the law, but one in which only admitted and intelligent children should be admitted. In saving these neglected and dependent children who were in danger of going to the State School is done, we do not do it. First, in caring for them for a few months or years, as the case may be, in the institution, and then send them to the school, as it is in training; and, secondly, in placing them in 200 homes where this same training shall be continued all the way arrived at manhood and womanhood. As large numbers of these children come from the country, and no stigma of crime attaches to them, they are, generally, glad to take into families, and are sent out by car and rail, and it seems reasonable to ask that those who are placed in the institution, should take children into families, should, in all cases, favor the poor children of their own State. Every child placed in the institution for another. Applications for the admission of children to the School are put in from every county in the State, and unless homes can be found for those now in the school, we are well fitted to go out, the capacity of the School will be entirely too limited to accommodate the most interesting and hopeful cases. Homes are wanted particularly for boys. Good girls over ten years of age and home desired."

Secretary Everts says the Cabinet is hampered by the fact that the President's Presidential aspirant in it. This announcement is a credit to the sagacity of the Cabinet, but it does not remove any stupendous obstacle from the pathway of Presidential candidates. —New York Tribune.

THE co-operative Grange store at St. Johns has collapsed. Six fine new passenger coaches have been put upon the Michigan Central. There were 250,000 railroad ties, worth $40,000, cut in the vicinity of Menominee the past winter.

In the Berrien Circuit, John Gablick has been sentenced to State Prison for seven years, Julius Gritzer for three and a half years, and Anthony Bachman for two years, for being convicted of stealing goods from Michigan Central freight cars. A few days since a farmer from Lamont purchased, among other goods, a whole piece of prints calico at a store in Grand Rapids. On opening the piece at home there was found a diamond worth $100. The stone was probably dropped into the goods at the factory when being folded or put up.

The Lenawee Circuit has sent Daniel Tanner to Iowa for one year, for horse stealing in Ogdun; Adam Stocker to one year at Jackson, for receiving stolen goods; and John Smith to one year for two years for cow stealing, and George Williams, an accomplice in the same crime, to Jackson for two years; Dighton Kimball to Jackson for five years for burglary at Hudson, and John Lewis to Jackson for six months, and Annie McDermott to Detroit for the same time, for lewd cohabitation.

Fires in Michigan. At Bay City, April 11, the immense lumber piles of Eddy, Avery & Co., and their fine docks were totally destroyed; also the north mill, planing-mill, and the office of H. M. Bradley, and a large amount of lumber. Among the losses, of Eddy, Avery & Co. were 6,000,000 feet of pine and 7,000 barrels of salt. Besides this about 30 buildings were burned, among them the Universalist church, the fine residence of Albert Miller, and those of William Stanton and F. A. Bancroft. Also the residence of J. M. Boylan, seven small stores and five dwellings; loss $11,000. The wife of Dr. Blount was burned to death, and the doctor, in trying to save her, so badly burned that he has since died. The bones of some one unknown were found in the ruins. —At Calumet, April 7, a fire in the Osceola mine caused a loss of $15,000, insurance $8,000. The stamp-mill will have to shut down, and 200 men are thrown out of employment.—

DETROIT MARKET. The Detroit Free Press in its regular weekly review of the Detroit markets under date of April 10, says:

The wholesale mercantile houses of Detroit have been the scenes of unusual activity and bustle during the week past. Merchants regard the outlook as promising, and the better feeling among them, and an increase in the remarks of visiting merchants from the interior of the State. The movement in merchandise of all descriptions has been larger than during the week previous. In dry goods activity was especially noticeable. Dress goods have led in demand, while prices on all classes have risen steadily. The demand for groceries has been larger than known for some time past. Staple articles have generally ruled steady. Tea and grades Japan at a slight advance. Sugars at the opening of the week were unsettled somewhat; later the market regained its strength and a portion of the loss was recovered.

In oils there has been a good trade with prices steady. Iron and hardware, lumber, and agricultural implements have met with an improved demand and sales for the week were of goodly proportions.

During the fore part of the week the market in wheat was limited, but later a marked improvement was shown. Values for both cash and future have tended lower. Corn has met with but little inquiry, and prices have suffered a decline. Oats have moved a trifle more freely, but prices have not been well sustained. Barley and rye have ruled quiet and prices unchanged.

The receipts of flour and grain for the week were as follows: Flour, 6,880 bbls; wheat, 2,020 bu; corn, 2,478 bu; oats, 15,729 bu; barley, 8,631 bu; rye, 580 bu. The market for the same time were: Flour, 4,200 bbls; wheat, 64,026 bu; corn, 3,734 bu; barley, 500 bushels.
