

Crazy Photo With Nancy Kerrigan

How embarrassing would it be to take a photo with a celebrity when it looked like you peed your pants? Read on to find out more!

It was a hot, sunny day out in the West. My Mom, Aunt, Uncle, and Grandparents were all at a McDonald's. It smelled like very greasy fries and burgers. The kids in the back of the car were having a water fight, so Grandma and Grandpa decided to go through the drive-thru instead. Of course, why would you bring soaking wet kids inside a restaurant?

Grandma thought, "Thank god there's a drive-thru! It would be so embarrassing if we went inside."

When they pulled up to the window, ready for some food, the cashier surprised them!

"You guys gotta go inside!" she hurriedly told Grandma.

"Why?" Grandma asked, "I have three soaking wet kids in the car. Why the heck should we go inside?"

"Nancy Kerrigan is here! She's taking photos and signing autographs." she replied loudly.

A look of excitement spread across Grandma's face.

"Okay, thank you!" Grandma said and pulled away, looking for a parking spot. Grandma also was thinking, "I can't believe Nancy Kerrigan really is inside!"

They got out of the car and went inside. The kids were very wet while they waited in line.

Once they got up to Ms. Kerrigan, they took some photos and got autographs. The bad thing was that the kids looked like they all had peed their pants! They were so embarrassed (I bet Grandma was too)! The kids were very afraid Ms. Kerrigan thought they peed their pants. She was probably surprised to see some youths(my Mom was going into 3rd grade) with their pants soaking wet. She probably did think the kids peed their pants!

The kids thought, "I wish we didn't have that water fight in the back! Nancy must've thought we peed our pants. Couldn't we have done that any other time?"

In conclusion, this story teaches a good lesson if you don't want to be embarrassed. Don't do some silly thing in the back of a car, there might be a celebrity nearby! Thanks for sticking around and reading!
