Once upon a time there was a little girl named Raven. She had a talent with birds. One day at school Raven was happily munching on her favorite donut glazed and covered with sprinkles when her best friend Lizzie stood up on the table and started yelling ‘there is a ghost.’ Everybody started running around in panic and going crazy while Raven sat there just staring at everyone. Then Lizzie ran up to her and asked why she didn’t start panicing. Raven said that she didn’t belive in ghosts. Then Lizzie ran away and finished panicking. Then a loud spooky voice called out and said ‘Oh you fool,you don’t belive in me.At night you will find your consequinces.’ Then he dissappeared and Raven just stood there in the last place he stood. That night Raven sat on her bed thinking about what would happen to her. Then from the middle of knowwhere the ghost appered with a big bag. ‘Come with me or I will kill you and your parents. Okkkkay she stutered. The ghost took her in the bag and dissapeared. The next morning Raven woke up on a comfy bed. So this was just a dream about the whole ghost thing? Then she walked out the little door to meet face to face with the ghost. The ghost said that he will kill her if she doesn’t follow his comandes. Raven was about to make a run for it but then she reconized his voice. It was the ghost of the west! Nobody can say no to him and so everyday Raven had to do the laundry, wash the dishes, cook, and not touch anything. One day when Raven was sitting on her bed a little bird came and landed on her palm. That is when she remembered her magical powers. Soon she called a whole army of birds. Then a second later the ghost walked in to find himself face to face with a flock of birds. Then Raven mounted on the Queen Of Ravens then they took of. ‘Come back you little rascl. Then he raised up his sword and fought his way thru the bird army. Then he got wright behind the queen and hurled his sword at her but she caught it and killed him. Then she went back to the little house he had offered her. That night the ghost rised up and multiplied and set of again. While Raven was sleeping all the ghosts took her along with her bed to their secret hide-out. The next morning she found herself chained to a wall. Then the ghost walked past her and said “Give me your nerd powers. don't have nerd powers. Plus I'm not a nerd, plus I think your the nerd. Silence he yelled. See this he said pointing to his face this is my mad face, but he was smileing. Sorry. Let me get on me mad face. Then he went to corner of the room and put on some make-up. He came back looking like a devil.” Now give me your nerd powers. How many times do I how do I have to tell you I don’t have nerd powers. Stop lying. Just give me your powers. Oh my ghost, a kitty and he walked away. Then a little bird came thru the window. Hey, you over there she said. Get those keys from that sleeping gaurd. The bird went over to the gaurd and picked up a slice of cheese. No, no, no. Drop the cheese and get the keys. Then the bird went and grabbed the keys and unchained her. She ran down the hallway and met face to face with the ghost again. He chased her down the hallway. Raven quickly grabbed a pair of hand cuffs and put them around his hands but he went write through them. Then she remembered that ghosts can go thru anything. Then she got a brilliant idea. She would get the ghost to go thru himself and she would splash water on him. Ghosts hate water because they will melt. So the ghost was about to catch her but then she went behind him. He turned around and tried to catch her but, again she went behind him again. This went on forever until he thought about going thru himself. He went thru himself and Raven took her water bottle and sprayed it all over him. Then he started to melt. HELP, HELP! SOMEONE, ANYONE HELP ME. Then he disappeared. Then Raven proudly walked down the hallway to the door to meet face to face with 1567 more ghost. This is a nightmare she thought. Three things she could do, #1 Freak-Out and run down the hallway, #2 slap them in the face or #3 Pretend to be dead. Since she was really creeped out right now she just stuck with #3. Then she collapsed on the ground pretending to be dead. Hooray! they yelled. Let’s roast her. They carried her to the kitchen. I should have had second thoughts she thought. Then she remembered the water pouch that her dad had given to her when she was a little kid. Then a light-bulb went on in her headache had arrived to the chef’s table, or should I say chefs’ table. There were three chefs. Their names were Ghost, Most and Toast. I noticed that Toast’s name had an ‘a’ in it. Weird. Then all the ghosts left except Ghost, Most and Toast. LET’S GET COOK’N yelled Ghost. ‘Sure sir’ said Toast maybe Most. SHE’LL BE PERFECET FOR OUR STEW yelled Toast mabey Most. Then soon a fork was about to stab her she blocked it. I THOUGHT SHE WAS DEAD roared Ghost. Hold your horses yelled Raven while bringing out her water pouch. Ahhhhhhhhh yelled Most and Toast. Silence you little munchkins. It doesn't have any water in it. Then Raven put water on all of them and then they dissapered. Soon she found a hose and took it into the living room where all the ghosts were. Hey she yelled I've got a suprise for you. She turned turned on the hose and sprayed all the ghosts. Soon everybody was gone. Then she called a raven to take her home. A few years later she had a daughter named Crow. One day Crow asked 'Mommy, did you ever have a scary adventure'? No sweety, she lied. One day at school Crow was happily munching on her favorite donut glazed and covered with spricles her best friend Maddie stood on the table and started yelling about a ghost.

The End
