To Keep 'Em Rolling, Seventeen Argus Girls Give Up Rest Periods

One of the biggest bugs in Plant No. 2's battle of production—single line production—has been remedied by some 17 girls who have volunteered to sacrifice their usual two daily rest periods in order that their machines might be kept rolling the full 24 hours a week.

Good Pictures FOR THE U.S.O.

On page 12 of this issue one of the finished prints is reproduced. On the reverse side, space is reserved for the written message which, as you may well guess, brings a lot of pleasure when the soldier, wife or sweetheart receives the gift.

ARGUS EYES

Argus Eyes is published for the employees of Argus Incorporated and their families.

It is intended to be a means of friendly communication between them, and to provide a reliable source of information concerning the company's business.

Beverly Bullis of the Personnel department makes sure that news is gathered and that pictures are obtained and arranged in readable fashion for publication about the 10th of each month.

Sam Schneider and Gerry Davenport will furnish the pictures, unless they are to be made with a pen or pencil, in which case Marie Barbier and Ed Palmer are called upon.

Charles A. Barker, "Jimmy" to all, will be Art Director and Art Consultant. The profile will be done by Harry Rookes.

Safety for Children

We have been increasingly conscious of the traffic problem caused by the closing hours of plants in the vicinity of Bach School. We were deeply shocked by the accident near Perry School, fatal to a five year old grandson of one of our employees. No care can be too great to protect our children.

Recently we discussed this vital problem with the principal of Bach School and the police department, represented by Chief Enkemann and Captain Gainsley. The result of this discussion was that Bach School will change its dismissal hour to 3:20, thus permitting the children to be several blocks from our locality before we close at 3:30. This is in the form of an experiment, and its success will depend partly on the school to dismiss promptly and partly on our cooperation to be extremely careful in the moving and operation of our cars. Our parking lot exit on Liberty Street is another hazardous location and one which is a responsibility for us. Cars being driven out of that driveway without extreme caution create a hazard to children coming from school and to pedestrians.

This whole traffic problem around us at Argus is a responsibility that cannot be emphasized too strongly. Courtesy, slow and cautious driving will help to minimize the hazards.

HOLIDAY PAY

Our first holiday with pay under the "six holidays with pay," was Labor Day, September 1st. It was explained in ARGUS EYES of September that in order to receive pay for the holiday, the full working day before and the full working day after the holiday must be worked. In fairness to everyone, this policy will be carefully followed with two exceptions only.

1. Personal illness substantiated by written recommendation from First Aid Department.

2. Lack of work causing lay-off by department head for those days.

SALES SLIPS

Your reporters were given box tickets for the first football game of this season and after settling down to enjoy an afternoon of gridiron entertainment our attention was drawn to the playing field right in front of us where two familiar figures were giving their all in leading the cheering section for dear old Michigan. Such cheering! Upon closer inspection we noted that they were Dick and Kelly.

Above the din created by the crowd of thousands we heard someone scream "Come on Michigan," and looking around who should we see but Dorothy M. waving a maize and blue banner. Before turning back to the field we spied Jean M. pointing out the finer points of the stadium to Nancy, Caroline, Agnes and Joy as they are all new around here.

Oh yes, forgot to mention when we were on our way to the stadium we were almost run down by a big Chrysler and after taking a second look we found it was Margaret and Dorothy G. trying to find a place to park. When we came out they were still looking. Moral: get a boy-friend with a smaller car.

As we were nearing the gate, we were almost knocked over by Miss Lundahl, who, gasping for breath, shouted, "I've got to see those teams come out on the field."

Turning back to the game we saw two photographers running frantically up and down the field to catch every spectacular play. If anyone would like to see some good slides, contact Cal and Bill.

The Michigan band struck up a lively number. We thought it strange to hear strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, but when we spied Jean H. coming down the aisle, followed by Elizabeth and Evelyn, we weren't surprised.

Over on our right we spied a big woolly blanket with two familiar faces peaking over the top. Yep, it was Bonnie and Jack. How long has this been going on?

From the broadcasting booth we heard a familiar voice. Looking up we saw Herb helping out the announcer.

Also nearby, Jackie S. and Don were looking intently at the press box. We knew from the designing look in Jackie's eye that she was wondering if it could be equipped with a gas plate and plumbing.

We spied Ann and Robert sitting on the 50 yard line; but, in spite of their excellent positions, they had a dejected look on their faces. Cheer up, kids, maybe Jackie and Don will let you share the press box.

In back of us we discovered Jackie C. taking down notes, but upon closer scrutiny we discovered she was writing up her grocery list. Don't give up, Jackie, —you'll get used to being a career wife.

About half way up in the fifteenth row we spied Laura looking very pleased with herself as she had managed to remove most of the paint spots from her spouse before leading him to the stadium.

We saw Judy and her hubby, but doubt if they saw much of the game as they sat gazing at each other most of the time.

During the half we heard the sweet voice of Marcie and her girl-friend Leola, who is also new here, singing "Hail to the Colors."

Needless to say yours truly had a wonderful day. How did we enjoy the game. Oh well, we can see it in the newsreel.

Sends Appreciation

Leon Vealy wishes to thank all his friends at Argus for the gift he received when he left the company.

Inspection Dept.

Everyone didn't take their vacation in August. There were quite a few who preferred September, which is a beautiful month.

Bill Teeter for one spent his time working around the house. As you know a new home requires lots of time and energy. He also spent a few days in Detroit.

Leola and Johnny went up to Standish to visit Leola's folks who have been vacationing there all summer. They wound up their week by joining Olive and taking off for the boat races. Of course they hit the good eating places. I guess some folks never know where they will end up when they start out on a picnic. For instance, Bob and Wilbur's destination happened to be a cemetery.

Laura and Rube sure are the flyingest people. Didn't the lucky folks fly to Cleveland to the air races over Labor Day.

Bessie has been on the sick list the past week and informs us she will be entering the hospital soon—for a short stay.

Jerry Horn spent a week in Toronto, Canada, recently with some of his buddies. Jerry was a member of the Canadian Army for five years.

Four Flights Up

Way up on the top floor you will find people slaving away for their good old top sergeant, Jim Devlin. Jim's main interest is to "get those Mincas out." No, Mincas are not mosquitoes or flies that are bothering Jim, the Minca is a brand new Argus baby, and we are all working extra hours to bring it up right.

There are lots of nice people up here who have joined us recently. If there were more space we'd tell you their names. We also have two old members back: Rosina Thompson and Ruth Burns. We are glad to have Joan Dayton with us again after a medical leave. We missed her.

Melvin A. Ecarus has been complaining for some time about being practically the only boy among all the girls; now he has a couple of friends to keep him company in his misery. We're sure they just hate it.

Now that you all know there is a fourth floor, and it isn't just a dusty old attic, you'll hear more from us.

ARGUS PROFILES

By H. J. R.

OLIVER, Herbert Parker

Quiet-spoken, business-like chief of the Production Service department, Plant I, and more especially of the In Process stockroom where he may be discovered daily surrounded by tote boxes, screw machine parts, Geiger, cardboard boxes, scales and Geiger. Has been with the Company since 1938, serving, as he points out, as material control clerk, stock chaser, storekeeper, etc. Was in charge of the Bendix stockroom during the war and swears that he committed to memory several thousand involved government part numbers during his time. Was born in Lexington, Tennessee, a couple of days after Christmas in the year 1917, completed high school there and graduated from Draughtons School of Radio in 1938. Lives now at 200 Packard St., Ann Arbor, and has two little girls—5 years and 1/4 of a year, respectively called Madeline and Sue. Likes to breeze off to the Southern mountains during vacation breaks to replenish signs of wear and waste in his accent. Is currently reading three mystery novels at the same time and is designing a planning board for housewives that will enable them to keep track of the plots of early morning soap operas without confusion.

NO TOP HATS ALLOWED

It isn't going to be a white tie affair, but it will be fun. We mean the Autumn Dance, on October 24th. Gene Schumann and his boys will be on hand to provide dancing tunes... and Vivian Milan will add her bit with the vocal chords.

The doors of the Masonic Temple will be open from 9:00 till 1:00 and if you don't like to dance, come anyway. It will be fun to watch... especially when the square dances begin.

And when you feel the need of refreshments, the cafeteria will be serving snacks. (Dutch treat, that is.)

Do plan to come. All you need to bring is... your comfortable shoes... your Argus Recreation Club Membership Card... and a date with your Big Moment.

We'll be looking for you!

SAFETY NEWS

It has been noticed how well the employees have been co-operating with the safety committee in some of their projects. For instance, practically everyone uses the painted lanes between the two buildings.

Many more employees are getting, and wearing, safety glasses on their jobs where hazards are involved. We are glad you are doing this, as we don't want any Argus employee to have a serious eye injury. In line with this thought is the use of the grinder wheel shields. They have all been cleaned, broken ones replaced, and it only takes a second to put it in place before using the grinders. It only takes a second for a piece of metal to pierce an eyeball too. Which would you prefer?

The leaving of grinding wheels on, when a person has finished using them, has been of concern to the committee. These departments have been notified to see that all wheels are turned off when not in actual use. It is better than it was, but there are still a few who do not do this. Let's everyone co-operate, so no one will get hurt. Although our accident record is pretty good, it can be improved and to do this we have to ask everyone to do his share in this safety work.

Some truck handlers have been a bit lax in watching cross traffic at the intersections in Plant I. Now that it is cooler weather and we all have a bit more pep, let's still watch out for the other fellow.

Each foreman should consider it his responsibility to see that each person in his department knows the exit for that particular area in case of a fire.

It was decided not to have regular fire drills; but to insure the safety of everyone, we are asking the foremen to assume this responsibility. It would only take a few minutes to get the attention of an entire department, and tell them this information. Also, the foremen are to see that the fire extinguishers, fuse boxes, and stretchers are always accessible. No stock, material or trucks should obstruct them. They are the things, that when needed, you want now, not five or ten minutes later!

Here is a little advice in closing for this time: "Know the hazards of your job. Don't learn them by accident."

Personnel Personals

Mrs. Radford had a wonderful vacation in Utah. She said Argus seemed like a dream—it was so far away.

Roy is busy getting the bowlers all lined up for the season. I'm sure everything would be in quite a turmoil if it wasn't for Roy.

Beverly Bullis and husband, Russell, spent a week in northern Michigan hunting for lakes that had fish in them.

No fish, but plenty of cold weather. Barbara, Betty and Don Reid just kept right on working.

Vi Tyler and Frances Watterwa with the help of Mr. Sleezer's able men, moved the First Aid to temporary quarters in Plant II. Reason—a new storage tank is going in underneath the floor in the First Aid Room. Always something to make things interesting.

Anyone interested in taking cold vaccine tablets, just stop in the First Aid rooms for further information.

MR. AND MRS. ALTON BLAESS

Mrs. Alton O. Blaess was Della M. Duible before her marriage July 26th, in the Salem Evangelical Church at Scio. After a week's motor trip to northern Michigan, the couple made their home at 321 Eighth St.

Service Scoops

The listings below, about 90% complete, proves that everyone in the Service Department had swell vacations this year.

Doc and Mrs. Benson spent part of their vacation in Chicago with relatives and then motored up the eastern shore of Lake Michigan.

Gordon Fleming had a wonderful time fishing.

Thelma Burke visited her sister & other relatives in Lansing for a week and the second week was spent at home and in Detroit.

Caroline Cole kept busy around the house but took time off to go shopping in Detroit.

Gertrude Guy took her grandson, Jerry Tece, 5½ years old, to the Detroit Fair and Zoo. Jerry liked the ribbons on the tails of the "girl" horses.

Lida Hackbarth spent a week in Northern Michigan and on the Great Lakes.

Roberta Jones went to Detroit to two ball games, also shopped in Grand Rapids, and spent the rest of the time at home in Jackson.

Cecil Lewis stayed at Hubbard Lake. Had plenty of good fishing and swimming.

Bob Lucas went to Indianapolis, Cleveland, and Cincinnati to see an old Buddy who was in the service with him. Then he took a cruise down the Ohio with a stop at Coney Island.

Pauline Merritt spent two weeks in and around Columbus, Ohio.

"Mike" Michael went to Ohio to visit relatives for a week and then to Lansing to see his daughter and son-in-law.

Charlie Miller went upstate and to Canada for a week, then took a plane to Milwaukee. Also he spent a few days visiting his new grandson in Brighton, Michigan.

Helen Mull journeyed to Lansing for a week.

Bill Murphy attended the Grotto convention at Columbus. Other than that, Bill will not commit himself.

Walt Purdy traveled thru Northern Michigan spending a day at Mackinac Island. He took what he describes as a "wet and dirty" speed boat ride around the island. After an application of some soap and water, he was again recognizable.

Frances Riggs went to her sister's cottage and broiled in the sun. Since she is red-haired, she displayed a terrific contrast in shades of red.

Merriem Russell spent time up north swimming at Rose Island. Then helped her uncle pull weeds from the bean patch. Merriem says that was fun too.

Jim Rohrbaugh has a brand new son, J. Rohrbaugh II, tipping the scales at 5 lb. 9 oz., born July 25th.

Tom Marshall spent a few days with an overseas buddy in Pennsylvania, then to Washington, D.C. and New York City.

Art "Bridegroom August 8th" Der-sham (the bride being the former Shirley Clement), had a little chat with the Ann Arbor Police Department, following a fast ride around the city after the wedding. Then they went quickly to New Haven for the honeymoon. Art and Shirley saw Odem come back to Chicago from his around the world record breaking flight.

Donna Swain went to Santa Cruz, California, by way of Colorado Springs, and Pikes Peak. Then Donna tried to break the bank at Reno, but the reverse took place.

Herb Plabe had a swell time fishing and swimming in Lake Huron.

Martha Crago visited Wayne and Jackson.

Gloria Bourdlais and her hubby will spend the first two weeks of October at Escanaba, their former home town.

Roos, and Ruth Rodgers.
Welcome back Mildred M. after your long absence.

Dick Hinds has left the department to return to Michigan State Normal, in Ypsilanti. Audrey Sheetz is going to resume her studies at the University of Michigan.

Red Peterson and family spent a lovely vacation in the Upper Peninsula at Crystal Falls, visiting his parents.

Rosemary Schosser left the department to make plans for her wedding, which took place in Pinckney, September 20th. Our department wishes her the best of everything. We certainly will miss her.

We understand that Eddie is searching for a place to live. Well, as the old saying goes, "Thirty days has September, April, June, and Eddie Girvan." All kidding aside, we wish him all kinds of luck.

Ma and Pa Green are always going places. Last Saturday they attended the Adrian Fair—those two people certainly get around.

An Eye for Beesiness

This is young Bill Thompson, after his encounter with a bee. Bill may look beat up, but you ought to see the bee.

Optical Illusions

Congratulations to Jeanne Baker on her engagement and approaching marriage to Robert Armbruster. The big day will be October 24th.

Congratulations are also in order for Shirley Hawks on her engagement to Eugene Schmitt of Brooklyn, N.Y.

We would like to welcome these new girls to our department: Virginia Sun-njer, Ruth Hover, Alice London, Ethel

From Your Disc Jockey

Many thanks to all of you who have brought in records to be played—Fred Benz, Eddie Girvan, Vi Tyler, Hugh Moorhouse, Howard McGarry, Mabel Jedele, Vernon Powell, Lucille Miller, Helen Kennedy, and all of you who loan us your swell records from time to time; Frank Wilson for your gift of the Marche Slave.

All records are welcome. Occasionally, due to the conditions in different departments, a record has to be eliminated, but that is seldom. Some of you like popular music, some like classical, most of you like both. So, those of you who like Temptation and Heart-aches, bear with the Disc Jockey when the Carmen Suite and Tschaikowsky is played—and all who like swing be patient—your turn comes, too.

NO FISH STORY

Nelson Kline proudly displaying proof of his 22½ inch black bass, caught at Duffy Lake. The eleven year old fisherman is the son of Geo. Kline, machine shop.

Junior Champ

Tommy

This bright eyed little boy is Thomas Alan Eskin. Six month old Tommy's dad is Harry Eskin of the centering department.

Burrrrr!

The department presented Mrs. Johnny Dames (June Mills), bride of September 20, with a beautiful lace tablecloth.

Lucille Miller has returned from a two weeks vacation spent in Canada, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and New York.

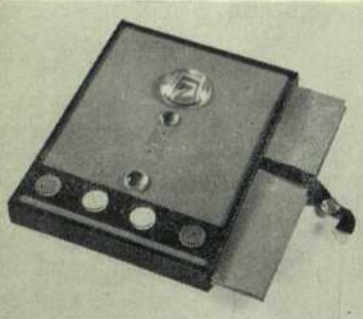

Ann Barker, Harry Burnett, and Jack Miller are the new members in our department. On his very first day at Argus Jack had bad luck, having to be taken to the hospital for an emergency operation. However, he recovered nicely and is now back to work.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stotts and Marvel DeMara spent the Labor Day week end in Cheboygan.

Ed Bethke spent Labor Day in Charlevoix.

Carl Seeger attended the Adrian Fair. We heard that instead of letting the youngsters ride the merry-go-round, he rode it.

Awarded To Argus

The above book cover was designed by "Jimmie Barker" and made at Argus, Inc. for a competition between two hundred Zonta Clubs, an international organization of executive and professional women. This cover shows, lenses and prisms—"optical gems"—made at Argus. This cover won first prize for the Ann Arbor Zonta Club at the International convention held on Mackinac Island, June 28, 1947.

Lens Lyrics

This month we are proud to announce an addition to our department. Welcome to Inspection Jo!

We were sorry to hear that Ann's baby was ill; but Ann seems to be herself again, so we know Larry is on the way to a speedy recovery.

Jennie and Norma went to visit Wilma at the hospital and had the pleasure of being introduced to the newest member of the Wahl family. Congratulations on the birth of "Diane Lynn."

Dick finally took his vacation, and under Bill's substitute foremanship things ran almost as smooth as they could (much to the boss's surprise).

By the way, Ruth, who is the good-looking chap we saw waiting outside for you in the new maroon Hudson? Some stuff!

We waited five long years to see your picture in ARGUS EYES, Ann A. If you want to see what one of our inspectors looks like, thumb through the paper. Keep up the good work, kid!

ACCOUNTING

Mrs. Gillespie played hostess to her son and daughter-in-law at a cottage at Baldwin. They were also accompanied by Roy Craik and his wife. A grand time was had by all.

Hilda is the expert bridge player in our midst. Better look to your laurels, Ely.

We enjoyed having Jeannie Craig with us for the summer but our loss is Alma College's gain. Good luck, Jeannie.

We have two new noses in our department. Faye Bassey is the gal who hails from Mass., accent and all. Her spouse attends the university. Homer Naley is from Irwin, Pa., and the proud father of twenty month old Dean David. A former veteran, he attended the University for a refresher course.

Millie is finally back in the old grind after her vacation, which was spent seeing the sights, mostly trees, in Wis. and upper Michigan.

Knitting seems to be the fad around here. At the moment mittens are the vogue. Emily and Lucille are taking lessons from one of the payroll girls. Don't get discouraged girls.

Lee Kinney, our neighbor across the aisle, hears patter of little feet around her apartment now. Yes, she has a brand new puppy.

Argus Rembrandts

Sy has been on vacation and also on the sick list for the past two weeks. I don't know exactly what he did for excitement, but I do know he did some painting in his home for recreation.

Ethel Huffman has been ill for some time. She is at the Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti. We all sincerely hope she will be back with us real soon.

There are three new employees in the department. Ida Stark, who was with us during the war, Hazel Curtis, and David Canada. Welcome folks.

Leona Smith, formerly of the machine shop, has taken over the duty of floor inspector. She is a former member of the paint shop so it is not exactly new to her.

SALVAGE

Herman certainly knows how to plan things. While he was doing some remodeling and fixing up during his vacation in September, his wife presented him with a lovely 8½ lb. boy, Richard Lewis. Congratulations Herman and Mrs.

Lester Budlong is getting set for winter by moving from Ypsilanti to Ann Arbor. He wants to make sure a snow storm doesn't keep him from getting to work every day.

Erwin Kurth, Sr. is a new member of this department; he worked at Briggs in Detroit previous to coming to Argus.

Bride-Elect

Miss Dorothy Gainsley, newcomer in the Sales Department, and Harry Bates, of the Tool Room, will be married January 3rd.

More vacation news of Riveting and Camera Assembly—it has been tough getting news out of some of these people, but here goes:

Clara Smith and husband took in Niagara Falls. Mr. Smith took a snapshot of Clara at the foot of the falls, and she looked like a new bride. Must be a second honeymoon—do you suppose?

Anna Mae Bell really went all out for her vacation. Took a plane to Dayton, Ohio, to visit her sister.

Katie Russell didn't leave Washtenaw County, but she really burned a lot of gas around these country roads. She has a new car, and we are giving you fair warning! Stay on the curb when you see her coming, if you want to keep both of your legs.

Roy Brinkman claims the world's record for covering 1400 miles in his 1932 Ford. He and his family took in parts of Ohio, Chicago, and other spots.

All we can find out about Hank Christopherson is that they shopped for a baby bed. Hank is so jumpy—every time the phone rings he runs. We told him not to worry, that we hadn't lost a father yet.

Bernice Provost, with sister and family (the George Conns) toured through Michigan and Wisconsin. Bernice is a former schoolteacher, but she says she is not going to teach for a year. Possible she is going to kill two birds with one stone—teach some of us dumb bells and build cameras at the same time.

Ronald Cruse just got back from his honeymoon, so we assume he was busy straightening out his new home. Ronny and his wife, the former Mary Mouray, are at home at 3196 Rosedale, East Ann Arbor. Best wishes to the happy couple.

Helen and George Kennedy took in some beautiful spots in Northern Michigan. Helen showed us some color films and they are beautiful. We know they enjoyed it very much.

Jerry "Sugar Boy" Schira worked part time inventory week, but he won't tell us what he did the rest of the time. Guess though that he was busy squiring all his numerous glamor gals around, heh Jerry?

Malena Uphaus, Elsie Ostrander, and Blanche Crocker reported that they did not burn up any gas on the highway, but they sure covered a lot of ground at home.

Dot and Ralph Flick spent a week at Indianapolis and then had a cottage at Glen Lake with Peggy and Don Crump. We know they had a good time.

John Evangelides and wife motored through Canada. He says they really enjoyed the fishing, swimming, and horseback riding. He says that's the country for him.

At this time when news goes to press Mary Mancini and husband are motoring through the states to New Mexico. We will probably have something to tell you about it next time.

We wish to welcome Imogene Packard, Genevieve Richards, and Blair Rafeld. We hope you will like us.

Oh, they say our reporter must report, too, so here goes: I, "Pocket" Hirsch and family spent the week at Half Moon Lake. We fished and fished and caught no fish—sunned and sunned and got no sunburn, and rested and rested. I soaked my feet so much that since I came back I can't do a thing with them. Bye now till next time.

P.S. Our worries are over. Hank is back to normal, and will live, we think. He is the proud father of a boy, Donald Lee, weight eight pounds six ounces. The workers presented Hank with a high chair. Congratulations to the proud parents.

SMALL FRY: Lena Allen was going home with her two little grandsons in the back of her car. They were traveling behind a slow moving car, and Grandma couldn't make out which way it was going so she could get ahead of it. Suddenly, the voice of one of the little backseat-drivers (five year old Jerry), "Must be a woman driver." When they finally passed—it was a lady at the wheel.

To our many friends at Argus and especially to the Argus Recreation Club, we wish to say "Thank You" for the beautiful flowers received during our sorrow.—Herbert Roberts, Herbert Roberts, Jr., Mary Jane Rutledge.

The Temple Steps

Our boss Craik came back this morning after a refreshing vacation in the north woods looking hale and hearty. Up to the present time there has been no general invitation to a brook trout dinner so one can conclude that either the fishing was poor or vice versa.

As we announced in the last issue, our Gracy has left us. As a parting gift all her friends chipped in to give a nice present of a Lucite dresser set. This particular material was chosen so that she wouldn't lose sight of her days at Argus. Her job has been taken over by Virginia Kanitz, our hitch-hiking secretary from Milan. It seems that very few Argus people come from Milan and bus and train service is at a minimum. So if you see a well turned thumb pointing toward Ann Arbor about 7 A.M. on M-23, Stop—it may be a fellow Argusite.

Tweed, Craik, Schwanbeck, Rockman, and Ward are readying their shootin' irons to give the local ducks, chickens, pheasants, cows, and whatever may have the ill-luck to come within gun range a bad scare. There is one thing that none of them have to get grey over, and that is a complaint from the S.P.C.A. The only thing that bothers the game in their vicinity is the noise as the hunters (?) try to shoot one another.

Looked like old times when Ruth Howe came walking in to go to work for Rocky.

As far as any more news for this time, I'm just like the fellow with the wooden leg, I'm stumped.

Lens Shiners

Viola Kern and Lorene Pace have returned to work. We certainly are glad to see them around again.

We were sorry to hear of the sudden death of Guy Russel's mother. We would like to extend our sympathies to Guy and the immediate family.

PLANNING

Probably the biggest news from this office is that Jack Covey is proud papa of a baby boy, born September 15th. He has been named John Kent Covey and he tipped the scale at 8 lb. 1 oz.

Carlos Chapman and Paul Dunn have left Argus to return to the University of Michigan. Best of Luck boys, we sure will miss you.

Grace Schwind is a new face around Argus. Hope you will like it here Grace.

We were pleasantly surprised last week when Jack Stults dropped in for visit. He worked here last summer and is now attending the University of Illinois.

Phil Street has transferred to the Punch Press Room.

"JUDY"

Pretty little Judy Kaye, who celebrated her seventh birthday last July 21st, is the daughter of Tom Neff, of our Machine Shop.

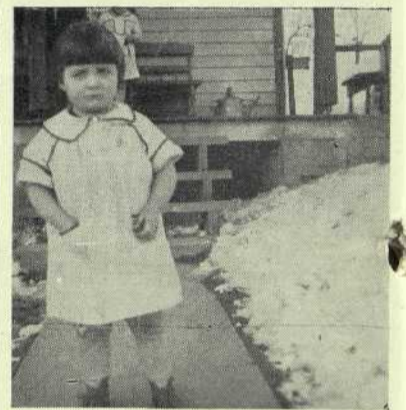

The Hello Girls

It's old news to everyone but we would like to introduce the newest member of the switchboard—Mary Brayton. Mary's home is in Hamburg and she transferred here from the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. She's 5'6", blue eyes, and brown hair—sorry boys, but she's taken.

We were very sorry to see Louise Gerrard, our former supervisor, leave us, but we know that she is very happy at home preparing for the big day in October.

Evelyn Loy has taken over Louise's

NONE OTHER THAN?

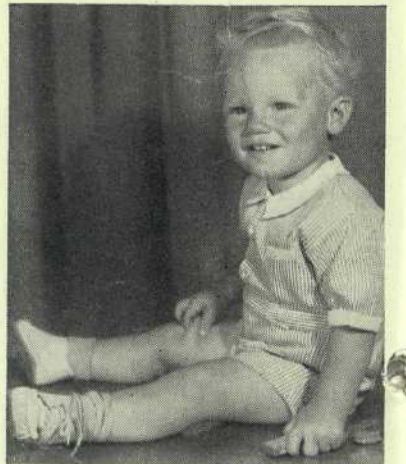

Audrey Scheetz, daughter of Ruth Scheetz. Audrey, who was employed in Optical Assembly this summer, has resumed her studies at the University of Michigan.

job and we know that she will keep up the good work.

Our bride of three months is still going around starry eyed. She is the former Ruth Schenk of Chelsea and was married to Bob Kalmbach on June 28th. From all reports we hear that it was a very beautiful church wedding. We all want to wish them the best of luck and happiness.

Evelyn Loy and Bonnie Bergren, of the Sales Department, went shopping in Flint Saturday, and they happened to run into Beverly Bullis of the Personnel Department, there. I wonder who bought the most?????

"MIKE"

Will this little fellow be in Sales too?? The winning smile of Mike Haugh, son of Cal in the Sales Department, shows future promise of salesmanship.
